Family Saves Only Clothes On Back

Home Here Destroyed By Flames

FLAMES DESTROY DWELLING. Chief Alfred VanDyne and an unidentified fireman extinguish what remains of a fire that destroyed a two-story frame dwelling on Armstrong Ln. Saturday afternoon. No damage estimate has been made.

A city family saved only the clothes on its backs Saturday afternoon as fire swept a home on Armstrong Ln., gutting the structure and destroying its contents.

The two - story frame dwelling of John T. Palmer was hit about 1:30 p.m., Palmer said, some 15 minutes after he and his wife had left the house. But the blaze was not spotted immediately and firemen did not receive a call until 2:08 p.m.

When the department arrived, Chief Alfred VanDyne said the flames were coming through the roof. Firemen were hampered further by the wind, which caused the flames to spread rapidly.

The cold weather complicated efforts to get water on the structure and the city street department was called to spread salt around the scene to assist firemen. Icicles formed on the building and trucks which came to battle the blaze.

PALMER SAID the home's contents are covered partially by insurance and the structure itself is fully insured. Palmer said he has owned the home, over 100 years old, for three years, but moved into it only last summer.

"We sat down for a bowl of chili, Palmer explained, "and then I took my wife over to our daughter's house about 1:15.

"When I came back toward home on my way downtown, I saw smoke up this way (Armstrong Ln.) and stopped at the service station (at St. Clair Ave. and Armstrong) to see if anyone had called the fire department." That was about 1:30.

One wall was burned through completely and the entire dwelling was charred. Only a shell was left standing atop the knoll on which the home was situated.

Nine men and three trucks were at the scene until 4:30 p.m. Seven lines were used. The house rekindled for a short period around 10 Saturday night and firemen stayed at the scene

SAIGON (AP) — Battle-weary U.S. Marines moving behind a protective umbrella of artillery pushed 400 yards through the rubbled ruins of Hue's Citadel today to the brink of one of the last Communist strongholds in Vietnam's old capital.

Elsewhere, the Viet Cong slammed more rockets and mortars into Saigon and a few other cities today, but the Communists' "second wave" offensive appeared to be easing off considerably in its second day. One rocket hit a passenger terminal at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport, killing one U.S. serviceman and wounding 21 as they waited with 180 other GIs for planes home after a year in Vietnam.

As the bloody battle for Hue raged through its 20th day, the Marines pushed to the southeast corner of the old walled Citadel. Then they turned right to begin a drive along the south wall toward the former Imperial Palace, where desperate North Vietnamese troops were dug in.

South Vietnamese forces continued to battle their way along the stone wall on the western side of the Citadel, but the rate of their progress was not known.

Low clouds prevented air strikes today.

The battle for Hue is the only fighting still persisting from the Communists' lunar new year offensive. But in the "second wave," the Viet Cong shelled 47 cities, towns and military installations Sunday and made ground attacks on several.

"This is an economic way to do something without a significant loss of life on their part," said Lt. Col. Malcolm A. Sussel of Monterey, Calif., an operations officer at U.S. headquarters.

The allies estimate that the Communists sent 60,000 men into the lunar new year assault on 36 major population centers and lost more than 30,000 killed.

Three hundred Viet Cong stormed into Tan Thoi, a Saigon suburb three miles northwest of Tan Son Nhut, and seized the central market place.

Allied forces reported gains in the coastal provincial capital of Phan Thiet, 90 miles east of Saigon, where 500 guerrillas seized part of the town Sunday and freed 500 prisoners from the jail.

A U.S. military spokesman said the town had been cleared although there was still enemy sniper fire in the northeast and northwest sections. He said U.S. paratroopers drove the guerrillas beyond the northwest edge of town but one band still held the provincial hospital.

South Vietnamese troops on the northeast side of Phan Thiet reported they drove the Communist troops out in that section and said they killed 102 Viet Cong Sunday, suffering seven dead and 57 wounded themselves. But the Communists launched a counterattack this morning, laying down heavy mortar and small arms fire on the railway station, the jail and the city headquarters.

U.S. fighter-bombers, helicopter gunships and the destroyer Frank E. Evans joined the battle, and the destroyer's five-inch guns blazed away for two hours from the South China Sea. An air spotter said he intercepted a Communist radio transmission reporting that "the big mortars from the sea caused many casualties."

President Talks With Eisenhower During Long Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gave an enthusiastic account today of a six-hour meeting with Dwight D. Eisenhower that climaxed a transcontinental tour. During his weekend tour, Johnson said more troops will be sent to Vietnam if needed.

Johnson visited the former Republican president Sunday at Palm Desert, Calif., before flying back to the White House.

Their marathon get-together embraced both serious talks about Vietnam and an 18-hole round of golf. "He did beat me," Johnson said. "He's really a professional."

Before flying by helicopter to the luxurious Eisenhower winter home, Johnson bade personal farewells to Vietnam-bound Marines and Army paratroopers and spent Saturday night aboard the carrier Constellation off the California coast.

He also told newsmen during his busy, secrecy-cloaked travels that troop strength in Vietnam will be raised beyond the authorized level of 525,000 "if we need to."

Talking with newsmen aboard his jet transport as it neared Washington, Johnson described his journey as "very interesting and helpful."

He talked about his personal sendoff of Army and Marine troops headed for Vietnam from Pope Air Force Base, N.C., and El Toro Marine Air Station, Calif.

As for Eisenhower, it is to be assumed Johnson was not unmindful of the political implications of his friendly meeting with the only living ex-Republican president in this election year.

"I really honestly believe he has been as helpful to me as any one person since I've been President," Johnson declared.

At the outset of his visit to the Eisenhower home at the El Dorado Country Club in Palm Desert, Johnson was accompanied by Lt. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, deputy commandant of the Marines and a Vietnam veteran, and Walt W. Rostow, the President's special assistant for national security affairs.

Johnson, who has had many kind words recently for the U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, invoked Eisenhower's name in defense of the general.

Miss Sara A. Thomas and William T. Parsons were honored as Chester's "outstanding citizens" for 1967 during a dinner-dance held Saturday night by American Legion Post 121.

Parsons was unable to attend and his award was accepted by Paul Johnston.

THE POST paid tribute to Miss Thomas as "one who has given her talents, her time and her efforts to make our community a better place in which to live, to work and to honor. Her work has been outstanding and known to all of us. This honor is long past due, but we of Chester Post 121 deem it an honor to present it.

"This citizen is a devoted teacher. Through her efforts in our school system she has left her mark and character on hundreds of young men and women who today are better citizens for having known her.

"Her work in the Women's Clubs over the years reads like a book and we are cognizant of the work these organizations have done to make our community a better town. She has been a guiding light and an ever present personality in their great work.

"During the past few years she has served without any thought of award on the City Park Commission. The park is the concern of us all; we are proud of it as a community effort and it has reached its present status under the leadership of persons like one we honor tonight".

Bad Weather Blamed For Flight Of Jet Planes Over North Korea

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The United States admitted today that two American planes strayed over North Korea briefly on Sunday and expressed regret, with assurance that efforts would be made to prevent any more such incidents.

It was one of the few times in recent years that the United States has admitted a Communist charge that it had violated the Korean armistice.

Rear Adm. John V. Smith, the U.N. Command's senior delegate to the armistice commission, said the planes were on a nagivational flight originating outside Korea Sunday afternoon. He said they violated Communist air space because of bad weather, the pilots' unfamiliarity with the terrain and a failure of nagivational equipment.

"When they became aware of their location, they immediately took action to depart," Smith said. "The United Nations Command expresses its regrets and offers assurance that all possible measures will be taken to insure that such incidents will not recur in the future."

There was no indication that the North Koreans fired on the planes.

North Korea called the commission meeting. The senior Communist delegate, Maj. Gen. Pak Chung Kook, charged that "a formation of American military airplanes" intruded into North Korean air space north of Panmunjom for four minutes and engaged in "hostile acts and reconnaissance."

Pak claimed that U.N. forces had committed 36 other armistice violations between Feb. 13 and Feb. 18, but Smith denied all these.

The North Korean delegate charged that "a few Yankee aggressor troops" raided a Communist guard post near Songjon-Ni on the western front Sunday night. He said the infiltrators were "successfully repelled and wiped out."

Smith also denied this. He said the only U.N. Command activity on the western front Sunday night occurred about 9:17 a.m. when U.N. Command personnel fired on "several of your marauders" attempting to infiltrate into South Korea near Panmunjom. He did not say what happened to these North Koreans.

Pak said preparations by "U.S. imperialists to unleash another war in Korea" reached a peak when they sent the U.N. intelligence-gathering ship

Area Youths Are Injured In Viet Action

They are Army Spec. 5 David L. Coursin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Coursin of East Liverpool RD 3, and Marine Lance Cpl. Pete Feydo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Feydo of the Industry-Fairview Rd.

He is a crew chief with the 17th Air Calvary of the Americal Division.

Feydo, who was graduated from Western Beaver High School in 1965, informed his parents his hearing is gradually returning. He is receiving medical attention at a hospital in Vietnam.

He is married to the former Bridget Police, who resides with their son Peter in Ohioview.

If Border Clashes Continue

Eruption Of Another War Seen Possible In Israel

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel's punishing strike against Jordan last week came as the culmination of a classic pattern: Arab provocation over a long period, Israeli warnings, and finally explosion.

The Israelis hewed to the pattern when they launched a punitive raid against the Jordanian town of Samua, an alleged Arab command base, in November 1966. Again, last May, a similar warning to Damascus was the announced reason for Egyptian intervention and the resultant June war.

A week before last Thursday's clash, Israeli leaders had been telling Amman to put a halt to Arab commando raids against Israeli settlements and stop provoking cross-border gun battles, some of which were rigged to permit the saboteurs to escape back across the border.

"Carefully consider" your ways, was the way Prime Minister Levi Eshkol put it to Jordan's leaders.

Defense Minister Moshe Dayan was just as explicit when he gave the chief U.N. cease-fire observer in the Middle East, Norwegian Lt. Gen. Odd Bull, a message for Amman on Wednesday. He said the cease-fire ending the June war not only covered the borders but Israel's interior.

But that very night, Israeli border settlements in the sabotage-plagued Beisan Valley were hit again.

Warming Trend Due, With Cold To Follow

A slight warming trend has been promised by the weatherman—but only for a brief period.

The forecast calls for increasing cloudiness tonight and Tuesday, with slowly moderating temperatures. Tonight's low is expected to be about 20.

The warming trend, however, is due to end with what is termed "a sharp cold snap" toward the weekend.

Some snow is indicated near the end of the week.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a small red-carpeted room just off the Senate chamber, 10 men and a woman meet several times each week and toil in secret over a document which they fervently hope will sock the American people squarely between the eyes.

Taking their seats around a long table covered with a white linen cloth, members of the President's Commission on Civil Disorders revise, and revise again, drafts of a report, a one-two-three punch.

What Will It Say?

What will the report say? That won't be known, officially, until about March 1, when the commission reports to President Johnson on its investigation of last summer's riots.

But it has been learned that the report will cover:

1. What happened in Newark, Detroit and other cities. This section will describe the riots in graphic details, from the incidents that triggered them to the ashes and grief they produced.

2. Why the riots occurred. This section will examine the obvious and not-so-obvious reasons. The commission will conclude that the root causes are poverty, frustration, bitterness and hostility of slum dwellers.

3. What can be done to prevent riots. This section will tread on some bureaucratic toes by criticizing government programs which, the panel contends, haven't worked. There will be a recommendation for expansion of other programs, including a massive effort to get jobs, better education and decent housing for Negroes who live in urban slums.

Tone Will Be Sharp

One member said the commission believes it must jolt the public into realizing that the nation faces a crisis. For this reason, he said, the tone of the report will be dramatic, sharp—even harsh.

"Attitudes will have to change," the member said. Another added: "We can't keep on with business as usual. We all have to understand that this is a crisis."

"The report," says Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, commission chairman, "will be uncomfortable for the people of the United States."

In the seven months since their appointment by President Johnson, commission members have walked the streets of riot-scarred neighborhoods and talked with slum residents, governors, mayors, police chiefs, generals, social workers, and

Some of the testimony received by the commission is so sensitive that it will be locked up in the National Archives for an undisclosed period.

Broad Outlines Emerge

Commission members are chary of publicly discussing what takes place behind the thick wooden doors of their Capitol meeting room. Still, broad outlines of the report are emerging.

Commission investigators report there was agitation before and during the riots, but say they have uncovered no firm evidence that the disorders were planned. "As far as we can tell," one official said, "all broke out spontaneously."

In each case, an incident involving policemen provided the spark. In Newark it was the arrest of a Negro taxi driver. In Detroit it was a raid on an after-hours night spot.

"The policeman is the focal point of a lot of resentment in these ghettoes," a commission source said. "He's the only element of the white society that many of the people come in contact with. He has a difficult job."

With this in mind, the panel is expected to call for better training and better salaries for policemen. "But most important," one member said, "we are going to have to recruit more Negro policemen."

In addition, the commission will urge steps toward improving relations between city hall and the slums, and may recommend creation of police review boards composed of civilians.

Referring to mayors and other city officials, one commission source said, "A lot of these guys are not quite aware of what's happened to their cities."

"We need to open up a dialogue between the city establishment and the ghetto dwellers who now are often completely isolated," said another.

Shortly after its creation last July 29, the commission called for an increase in the number of Negroes in the National Guard and for improvements in the Guard's riot control training. In its final report, the Guard probably will receive more lumps for its performance in trying to quell the riots.

This was indicated last week when New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, commission vice chairman, said in a speech that the panel "found that the National Guard won no medals in those cities where it was called into burning ghettoes."

"The guardsmen were undertrained and perhaps "overequipped," said Lindsay. "By and large they were unsympathetic to the Negroes of the cities. The record is filled with charges that the guardsmen were unreliable, trigger-happy and ineffective in dealing with mobs in the streets."

Sources said the commission is considering recommending creation of a specially trained federal force to deal with riots. In this connection, they said, some questions have been raised, including whether the force should be a civilian or military unit and at what point it would step in to combat rioters.

Following this disclosure, military officials talked freely of preparations the National Guard and Army have taken for possible riot duty this summer. These include the stockpiling of riot-control equipment in strategic locations, ready for rapid airlift to any city struck by disorder.

One of the commission's major recommendations is said to center on jobs. "This is most important," one official said.

The employment program could involve action to open up thousands of jobs this summer, he said, plus longer-term projects to equip slum residents with job skills.

Tax incentives also may be sought for industries that locate in poverty-stricken areas and hire Negroes and other poor persons.

Sources report that one draft proposal considered by the commission outlined a comprehensive $3 billion effort next year to provide jobs.

It also is anticipated that the commission will recommend a massive move to upgrade education in the slums. The panel will point out, one source said, that per pupil expenditures in the nation's white suburban schools are about double the figure for those in city slums.

One commission member, Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., has termed slum schools "almost crminally ineffective."

"I think we are systematically turning out young people who have no chance of getting jobs because of the inferior education they have received," he said in an interview.

Some government housing programs may come under sharp criticism.

One member, Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., told a homestate audence last week he was troubled by "the inept performance of some federal agencies which ought to be playing a larger role in the campaign to make our cities fit places to live and work."

"The Federal Housing Administration is one such agency," Brooke said. He singled out FHA and the Housing and Urban Development Department in charging "outrageous delays in the constructon of low and moderate-income housing."

Will Propose Action

The panel's only woman member, former Kentucky Commerce Commssioner Katherine Graham Peden, told a reporter that education, employment and housing programs "are so intertwined that you can't separate one from another."

"All this has got to be accomplished," she said.

Multiple Crash Hurts 3, Batters Service Station

A 65-year-old Pittsburgh man remained in "guarded" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a multiple crash Saturday at Laughlin's Corners in which two other men were hurt and the front of a service station was heavily damaged.

Stanley Los received a fractured skull, broken ribs and other injuries in the mishap, which involved two trucks and two autos about 11:40 p.m. at the interesection of Routes 30 and 168 near Hookstown.

ARTHUR WOLFE, 39, of Beaver Falls, an Otto Milk Co. driver, and John Scarfo, 19, of Zelienople, his helper, also were injured when their milk truck was hammered into the side of a service station where they were making deliveries.

Pennsylvania state police at Carnegie said Los pulled from Route 168, headed north, into the path of an east - bound tractor - trailer truck operated by Robert C. Anderson, 35, of Georgetown RD 1.

Los' 1958 auto was driven onto the north berm of Route 30, and the rig, hauling brick, veered out of control, its brakes apparently wrecked by the impact.

The rig struck the left front of the milk truck parked in front of the Stewart Texaco Service Station on the southeast corner of the intersection, driving the milk truck into the front of the service station-store.

An ice chest in front of the service station, operated by James Stewart of Hookstown RD 1, was shoved into the front part of the building, and the truck was also pushed partially through the window and wall.

THE IMPACT knocked the frame building 20 inches off its foundation.

Wolfe and Scarfo were standing in the front of the store, and were knocked down by the impact, and showered with glass.

Stewart, who was at the back of the store area, said the furnace was upset and groceries and canned goods scattered from shelves.

He estimated damage at $4,000.

The milk truck also was shoved into a 1960 junked auto parked beside the service station, officers said.

EARLIER, the department was called to 162 Ravine St. to the home of Roland Barnes where a mattress caught on fire.

The minor blaze, which was out when firemen arrived, started in a mattress and box springs about 7:24 p.m.

Two alarms were answered Sunday afternoon. About 1:57 p.m., firemen extinguished a grass fire at 920 Alton St., a vacant lot, which originated in burning trash. A booster line from the squad truck was used. There was no damage. Firemen were at the scene about 30 minutes.

Then about 2:18 p.m., the department was called to 674 Riley Ave., where an electric dryer was smoking at the home of James Calhoun. Firemen disconnected the dryer and reported there was no blaze, only smoke.

Firemen were at the house about 15 minutes. One truck and two men answered the call.

'Rights' Findings Awaited

Members Hope To Shock Americans With Report

Some of the testimony received by the commission is so sensitive that it will be locked up in the National Archives for an undisclosed period.

Broad Outlines Emerge

Commission members are chary of publicly discussing what takes place behind the thick wooden doors of their Capitol meeting room. Still, broad outlines of the report are emerging.

Commission investigators report there was agitation before and during the riots, but say they have uncovered no firm evidence that the disorders were planned. "As far as we can tell," one official said, "all broke out spontaneously."

In each case, an incident involving policemen provided the spark. In Newark it was the arrest of a Negro taxi driver. In Detroit it was a raid on an after-hours night spot.

Public Employes' Bargaining

A Legislative Headache

By WILLIAM V. MERRIMAN
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The Ohio General Assembly has a headache that won't quit.

It's coming from the thorny question of the right of public employes to bargain collectively with their employers — the public — and to strike if negotiations fail.

Lawmakers aren't sure about a cure — or even about partial relief.

Strong Medicine?

Last year they balked when four senators asked them to take strong medicine. A bill which would have recognized employes' rights to negotiate and provided for a labor relations board to rule on charges of unfair labor practices or in cases of deadlocks died in Senate Rules Committee.

Now the same four senators are prescribing a lighter dose. It's a bill recommended last week by the Senate Elections, Commerce and Labor Committee which merely recognizes the principle of allowing public employes to organize and bargain collectively and permitting public employers to enter into labor contracts with them.

Sponsors see their newest proposal as "a beginning." No machinery to solve differences would be established. Nor would public employers be forced to bargain if they chose not to.

Strikes Barred

It does not permit public employes to strike.

But even this mild pill doesn't appear to be palatable to the majority of legislators.

The headache meanwhile is still there.

Most lawmakers are convinced the state's 21-year-old Ferguson Act — prohibiting public employes from striking and not even giving them the power to bargain collectively — is a poor antidote.

"The Ferguson Act," grumbled Sen. Michael J. Maloney, Republican whip from Cincinnati, in a committee hearing last week, "is a farce!" No one disagreed.

21 States Act

Most lawmakers also are aware that 21 states have adopted more positive guidelines to cover labor relations in public employment.

And some no doubt have seen the recommendation of the 1967 National Governors Conference which called for government leaders to "try to find an effective means of dealing with the situation (of public employes seeking collective bargaining)."

"Enactment of positive legislation is the best way," the governors instructed.

Is it the best way?

New York tried it by passing a law last year establishing a state board to help resolve disputes between public employes and their employers and guaranteeing collective bargaining rights to all public employes in the state.

Is It a Cure?

Has the law — which still bars strikes by public employes — cured that state's headache?

Ask harried, frustrated New York Mayor John V. Lindsay.

Last fall his city was hit by a massive teacher walkout. The strike was illegal, but it happened.

Two weeks ago the city's garbage collectors struck. Again, it was an illegal stoppage. But the garbage kept piling up anyway and members of the Uniform Sanitationmen's Association stayed home.

They went back to work only after Gov. Nelson Rockefeller moved into the picture by calling for legislation to permit the state to take over the city sanitation department temporarily.

Judge Is Stern

The judge who fined the union $80,000 for the illegal strike sternly declared:

"When the time comes that the public employes can strike against the government with impunity, then that is the end of our democracy and the beginning of anarchy."

The troublesome fact is, of course, that the time has arrived. The garbage collectors did strike — regardless of a state law to the contrary. So did the teachers.

Rig Struck Again At East End Spot

A parked tractor-trailer rig struck by an auto early Friday in East End was hit again Sunday in exactly the same spot, police reported.

A 1960 model two-door coupe operated by Darlene D. Aguirre, 22, of 538½ Elizabeth St. was damaged heavily when it hit the 1964 model rig owned by Edward Unger of 2152 Crawford Ave. and the Service Transport Co. of Cleveland, officers said. The collision occurred on Pennsylvania Ave. 75 feet west of Martin St., the same spot where the rig was hit early Friday by a 1961 sedan driven by Jack Veney of Ruth St.

The woman told police she saw the parked rig too late to avoid a collision, although she swerved at the last moment. The crash damaged the entire right side of her car and also knocked out the rear window, officers said. Unger told police he could see no additional damage to the trailer, as it had been hit in exactly the same spot in the mishap early Friday.

Golden Age Club To Plan Display

Readings were presented by R. M. McFarland when the Golden Age Club met Friday afternoon in the Chester Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

Lester Lutton presided when plans were made for a display at the Arts and Crafts Show to be sponsored March 18-19 by the Chester Woman's Civic Club at the Chester First Christian Church.

Sewing and games were the diversions.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Lutton and Mrs. William Swauger. Thirty attended.

The group will meet again Friday.

Auto Accident Was Too Much For Mutt

POCA, W. Va. (AP) — The mutt hasn't come home this time. He may have been frightened off by the results of his first return.

The dog came back to the home of James Goodwin after Goodwin had given his faithful companion to Archie Moore. both men live on Route 1, Poca.

Public Employes' Bargaining

A Legislative Headache

By WILLIAM V. MERRIMAN
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The Ohio General Assembly has a headache that won't quit.

It's coming from the thorny question of the right of public employes to bargain collectively with their employers — the public — and to strike if negotiations fail.

Lawmakers aren't sure about a cure — or even about partial relief.

Strong Medicine?

Last year they balked when four senators asked them to take strong medicine. A bill which would have recognized employes' rights to negotiate and provided for a labor relations board to rule on charges of unfair labor practices or in cases of deadlocks died in Senate Rules Committee.

Now the same four senators are prescribing a lighter dose. It's a bill recommended last week by the Senate Elections, Commerce and Labor Committee which merely recognizes the principle of allowing public employes to organize and bargain collectively and permitting public employers to enter into labor contracts with them.

Sponsors see their newest proposal as "a beginning." No machinery to solve differences would be established. Nor would public employers be forced to bargain if they chose not to.

Strikes Barred

It does not permit public employes to strike.

But even this mild pill doesn't appear to be palatable to the majority of legislators.

The headache meanwhile is still there.

Most lawmakers are convinced the state's 21-year-old Ferguson Act — prohibiting public employes from striking and not even giving them the power to bargain collectively — is a poor antidote.

"The Ferguson Act," grumbled Sen. Michael J. Maloney, Republican whip from Cincinnati, in a committee hearing last week, "is a farce!" No one disagreed.

21 States Act

Most lawmakers also are aware that 21 states have adopted more positive guidelines to cover labor relations in public employment.

And some no doubt have seen the recommendation of the 1967 National Governors Conference which called for government leaders to "try to find an effective means of dealing with the situation (of public employes seeking collective bargaining)."

"Enactment of positive legislation is the best way," the governors instructed.

Is it the best way?

New York tried it by passing a law last year establishing a state board to help resolve disputes between public employes and their employers and guaranteeing collective bargaining rights to all public employes in the state.

Is It a Cure?

Has the law — which still bars strikes by public employes — cured that state's headache?

Last fall his city was hit by a massive teacher walkout. The strike was illegal, but it happened.

Two weeks ago the city's garbage collectors struck. Again, it was an illegal stoppage. But the garbage kept piling up anyway and members of the Uniform Sanitationmen's Association stayed home.

They went back to work only after Gov. Nelson Rockefeller moved into the picture by calling for legislation to permit the state to take over the city sanitation department temporarily.

Judge Is Stern

The judge who fined the union $80,000 for the illegal strike sternly declared:

"When the time comes that the public employes can strike against the government with impunity, then that is the end of our democracy and the beginning of anarchy."

The troublesome fact is, of course, that the time has arrived. The garbage collectors did strike — regardless of a state law to the contrary. So did the teachers.

Rig Struck Again At East End Spot

A parked tractor-trailer rig struck by an auto early Friday in East End was hit again Sunday in exactly the same spot, police reported.

A 1960 model two-door coupe operated by Darlene D. Aguirre, 22, of 538½ Elizabeth St. was damaged heavily when it hit the 1964 model rig owned by Edward Unger of 2152 Crawford Ave. and the Service Transport Co. of Cleveland, officers said. The collision occurred on Pennsylvania Ave. 75 feet west of Martin St., the same spot where the rig was hit early Friday by a 1961 sedan driven by Jack Veney of Ruth St.

The woman told police she saw the parked rig too late to avoid a collision, although she swerved at the last moment. The crash damaged the entire right side of her car and also knocked out the rear window, officers said. Unger told police he could see no additional damage to the trailer, as it had been hit in exactly the same spot in the mishap early Friday.

Golden Age Club To Plan Display

Readings were presented by R. M. McFarland when the Golden Age Club met Friday afternoon in the Chester Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

Lester Lutton presided when plans were made for a display at the Arts and Crafts Show to be sponsored March 18-19 by the Chester Woman's Civic Club at the Chester First Christian Church.

Sewing and games were the diversions.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Lutton and Mrs. William Swauger. Thirty attended.

The group will meet again Friday.

Auto Accident Was Too Much For Mutt

POCA, W. Va. (AP) — The mutt hasn't come home this time. He may have been frightened off by the results of his first return.

The dog came back to the home of James Goodwin after Goodwin had given his faithful companion to Archie Moore. both men live on Route 1, Poca.

The Mission Was Accomplished

Eyes are popping again over reports of State Department investigators about foregn-aid material that never arrived at its intended destination.

Some of it has been found stranded on docks. Some has been traced to places where it represents nest-feathering. Is it surprising that this multi-billion-dollar shower of U.S. manna has fallen on the unjust as well as the just?

Though it always has been portrayed as a project in Yankee philanthropy, foreign aid under its changing official titles has been essentially two other things.

First, it has been a gigantic effort to purchase with U.S. tax dollars the international cooperation the United States could not hope to get any other way. Our State Department and Defense Department has ladled out economic and military assistance to every potential ally who could be had for a price.

Second, it has been a gigantic effort to clear U.S. pipelines of a surplus of raw material and manufactured products that once would have been sold abroad in the ordinary processes of foreign trade. This has been done with public funds. In trade parlance, it is known as "dumping."

Today, it is possible to give a good name to a bad practice and conceal what is being done. The curious thing is that every time foreign aid is put in its true light there is a nationwide gasp of surprise.

Every time . . .

The mission was accomplished, but it never was understood.

The Giant Hand

Time was when heavy snow, long rain periods and ice jams meant "river's rising" in the Tri-State Area, with a resulting inundation causing millions of dollars of damage and chasing hundreds of families from homes.

A reminder of the effective job the system of flood control reservoirs has done to virtually eliminate the frequency and scope of such destruction is found in a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers report over the weekend.

The Engineers office at Pittsburgh said the reservoirs were used to hold back high water so as to reduce the late January crest on the Ohio River from three to four feet.

Release of the flood waters in the 13 reservoirs in the system was completed last week, and all are at the normal storage levels for this time of the year—ready to absorb the anticipated run-off of late winter, again raising a giant hand against the threat of death and damage which haunted the Ohio Valley in former years.

Hardworking Lion

Cited at a meeting last week as an example of having the "personal touch" which can be given to those in need, McCullough was also credited with bringing 12 new members into the club.

The energies of such men and women in working for their organization and for their fellow man are not always publicized. But their work is appreciated and goes far toward making a community a better place in which to live.

Stranger Things Have Happened

It cannot be denied that the Johnson administration is entitled to ask for additional revenue to meet the massive cost of the Vietnam War. It will continue to ask for its proposed 10 per cent surtax on income tax payments on that basis. But on the other basis it has been citing—the danger of an overheated economy—there is beginning to be doubt.

If the securities market is an indication of the economy's temperature, overheating is anything but a clear and present danger. The looming danger, at the moment is overcooling.

Economists look exclusively at economic factors when making their guesses about the future and appraisals of the present. But economic factors are not the only ones to be considered.

Emotional factors are more important when national confidence is being appraised.

Confidence is sagging. If it sagged throughout the national political campaign, which is likely, then sagged after the votes had been counted, all danger of an overheated economy would be so far removed it never would be mentioned again.

It never has been acknowledged by backers of federal tax boosting, moreover, that state and local boosts are draining off the people's disposable income more than fast enough to avert a mad, inflationary scramble for goods and services in short supply.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

There I was, trying to escape from the everyday cares of the world by reading "The Once and Future King" by T. H. White and what keeps popping up but talk about war!

It seems that everywhere you turn nowadays you hear about nothing but war, either present, past, or prospective. The Middle East, Africa, South America, the Far East. Even war in the streets of the United States. Newspapers, radio and television are full of it.

It wouldn't be so bad in "The Once and Future King" if a bunch of knights just went out and killed each other, thus covering themselves with gore and glory. But there is a lot of moralizing about war, which is always painful.

"We are more numerous than they are, therefore we have a right to their mash.

"They are more numerous than we are, therefore they are wickedly trying to steal our mash.

"We must attack them in self-defense.

"They are attacking by defending themselves.

"If we do not attack them today, they will attack us tomorrow.

"In any case we are not attacking them at all. We are offering them incalculable benefits."

Does that remind you of any of the explanations you hear about present or recent wars?

Or take this later statement by King Arthur:

"A good reason for starting a war is simply to have a good reason! For instance, there might be a king who had discovered a new way of life for human beings—you know, something which would be good for them. It might even be the only way of saving them from destruction. Well, if the human beings were too wicked or too stupid to accept his way, he might have to force it on them, in their own interest, by the sword."

Merlyn liked to have had a fit over that!

After one clash on the battlefield, King Arthur said: "Well, it was a good battle. It was a jolly battle, and I won it myself, and it was fun." Then it was pointed out to him that 700 of his men had been killed and he said, "Well, it was not fun, then, I had not thought."

The enemies of King Arthur are accused of fighting to divide the empire and Merlyn says, "I never could stomach these nationalists. The destiny of Man is to unite not divide. If you keep on dividing you end up as a collection of monkeys throwing nuts at each other out of separate trees."

So you see, Twill, no matter where you look nowadays you run across philosophical discussions of war.

Maybe there oughta be a war to end war.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

'Bon Voyage!'

New York Can-Can

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

If anyone had told me a few weeks ago that garbage would play a major part in the 1968 presidential campaign, I would have said he was crazy. But turns out, by going over Mayor John Lindsay's head to settle New York City's garbage strike, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller slipped on a banana peel and wound up with eggshells all over his face.

Art Buchwald

The question people in Washington are asking is, Why did Gov. Rockefeller take such a calculated risk when he has built up so much good will by repeatedly announcing that he was not a candidate for president of the United States?

It is believed by some political observers that Rockefeller went after New York's garbage to show the rest of the country that if he could clean up the mess in New York City, he could certainly clean it up in Washington.

THESE OBSERVERS believe that Rocky has been sensitive to criticism and that he hasn't spoken out on the great issues of the day. By taking a strong stand against the trash in New York City, Rocky was serving notice that he was willing to speak out loud and clear on any issue, at any place, at any time.

While Rockefeller is not a candidate at the moment, he has been following the polls very closely, and it is no coincidence that the last poll on garbage showed 87 per cent of all people interviewed said they were against garbage, 4 per cent said they were for garbage and 9 per cent said they "didn't know." Gov. Rockefeller announced his solution to the garbage strike the same day the figures on the polls were released.

Rocky supporters deny that the governor was politically motivated when he offered to shettle the garbage strike on terms that Mayor Lindsay said were "blackmail."

One Rockefeller man said, "The governor was going to stay out of it until he saw pictures of Mayor Lindsay walking through the mountains of rubbish, lost and lonely, and probably not smelling too good, either. Rockefeller was so moved by what he saw that he decided he had to do something. His first idea was to pass a law making it obligatory for every commuter who worked in New York City, but lived in the suburbs, to take 25 pounds of garbage home at night, either in a paper bag or his brief case.

"Once home, the garbage could be dumped in the suburbanite's ash can. The governor figured out that there are 750,000 commuters going home every night and if each of them took 25 pounds of garbage, New York would have gotten rid of 9,375 tons of refuse a day.

"BUT LINDSAY rejected the plan because he was afraid the commuters wouldn't come to work until the strike was over. Lindsay's solution was to have Rockefeller call out the National Guard. Rockefeller turned down Lindsay's request since the guards had not received 'garbage removal training,' and they might start throwing the cans around recklessly, causing injury to innocent people. Besides, once you use the guards to remove garbage, they may not want to go back to soldiering again.

"So, Rockefeller had only Lindsay's best interests at heart when he made a settlement with the garbage union."

Lindsay supporters are skeptical over Rockefeller's reasons for trying to get him out of a bind. They feel that Rockefeller had used the strike as part of a Dump Lindsay campaign, since Lindsay is also not running for the presidency in 1968.

The only one who has seemed to benefit from the controversy is former Gov. George Wallace, who is running for the presidency on an independent ticket. Wallace, when questioned about New York's garbage strike, said: "They wouldn't have had all this trouble if they only had picked up the white trash."

Mardi Gras Time Again

Pre-Lenten Festivals Start

The first major event of the New Orleans Mardi Gras on Saturday, Feb. 17, when some 2,000 people attended the annual Mardi Gras ball at the Sharon Park hotel in Washington, sponsored by the Louisiana State Society.

Fat seems to be the common denominator of most but not all pre-Lenten celebrating. Mardi Gras in literal French is "Fat Tuesday." It falls this year on Feb. 27.

Germans call the day "Fastnacht" and celebrate it by using all the fats in the house to make pancakes and a special kind of doughnut. The Pennsylvania Dutch and other Plain People observe the custom.

The British give away pancakes on Shrove Tuesday. Shrovetide now is the occasion of the annual pancake-flipping footrace between the womenfolk of Olney, in Buckinghamshire, and their cousins in Liberal, Kan.

Mardi Gras is a public holiday in Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, and Mississippi. Although the term is properly limited to Shrove Tuesday, it has come to be applied popularly to the preceding two weeks of celebration.

New Orleans celebrants claim the tradition started with students who returned from Paris in 1827 and brought with them the custom of parading in masks and costumes.

Mobile, Ala., contends the American celebration really got started in that city in 1830.

Residents of Biloxi, Miss., declare the first observance to have been a wine-drinking bout in 1699. The Frenchman d'Iberville, suddenly remembering it was the last day of Carnival, drew the taps to toast friendly Indians.

This year's Mardi Gras in New Orleans honors the 250th anniversary of the city's founding. It was almost marred by controversy over the attendance at the various balls — most of them racially segregated — by U.S. Navy personnel. The Navy won't cooperate officially but will not bar attendance by its people who have received personal invitations.

Rear Adm. Pierre N. Charbonnet, Jr., comander of the 8th Naval District, says: "There is nothing different this year." Five ships carrying 2,000 men will arrive at New Orleans Feb. 23.

Shrove Tuesday, coming before the 40 days of Lenten denial, is celebrated in England as football's unoffficial birthday. Shrove Tuesday games of free-for-all community football were described as already famous by a monk writing in 1175.

Currently, the most colorful game is played at Ashbourne, where the goals are three miles apart. A public collection is taken up in advance to cover any damage — or medical expenses — that may result from what British historians used to call a "friendly kind of fighte."

Shrovetide has not always been a time for roistering. The stern Ecclesiastical Institutes of England provided that on Shrove Tuesday, "in the week immediately before Lent, everyone shall go to his confessor and confess his deeds and the confessor shrive him."

Odd Facts

The most important crop in the United States, when considered according to acreage, is grass. There are more than a billion acres in hay and pasture in the average year, compared with 300 million acres in other leading crops.

Opossums have the shortest time between fertilization and birth known among mammals — their brief gestation period being but 13 days.

DAVID LAWRENCE

3rd Party?

Veteran politicians in both parties are not concerned about the candidacies of either former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama as a possible third-party nominee, or Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota as an independent if he refuses to accept the Democratic party's nominee, Lyndon Johnson.

The view widely held by Democratic leaders is that not only is President Johnson assured of the Democratic nomination but Republicans would not make it easier for him to win by picking a candidate who does not have nationwide support.

The oft-heard theory about the Wallace movement is that it may take away electoral votes from both the Democratic and the Republican party in various states, and, in a close contest, prevent either major candidates from getting a majority in the electoral college. The election then would be thrown into the House of Representatives.

Most political experts, however, do not foresee such a close race. Those who think President Johnson will win believe he will do so by a substantial majority.

ON THE OTHER hand, the prevailing view among Republican state chairmen is that it will not be a close contest but a sweeping victory for their nominee.

A candidate on a third ticket could make headway only if there were issues on which the major parties' candidates could not get adequate support.

Neither former Gov. Wallace nor Sen. McCarthy has a substantial following across the country. Thus, Mr. Wallace's principal means of attracting votes is through the issues which have had their origin in racial friction. He doubtless will continue his efforts to establish a third party.

Both the Democratic and Republican organizations, however, are strong enough throughout the country, including most of the South, to prevent him from getting the electoral votes of more than two or three states.

As for Sen. McCarthy, few politicians are taking his campaign seriously. They have assumed it has more to do with the effort of Sen. Robert Kennedy to build an organization for the 1972 presidential election than to produce a candidate for the 1968 campaign.

Big decision for voters to make will be whether to change administrations at all. If they are in the mood to do this, they will want someone with experience in dealing with federal problems.

This means the probable nomination of Richard Nixon — who, as vice president, had eight years of intimate contact with the White House during the Eisenhower administration.

Up to now, three public figures have been given foremost mention in the Republican race — Mr. Nixon, Gov. Rockefeller of New York and Gov. Romney of Michigan.

THE RECENT controversy over the strike of workers in the sanitation department of New York City has caused some Republican experts to say Mr. Rockefeller's political status has been hurt. The politicians have noted the many editorials, not only inside but outside the state, criticizing the New York governor for having taken sides with the union after it had subjected the city to great inconvenience in a strike which, it is felt, should have been left to the mayor of New York City to handle.

The big labor unions, moreover, are openly supporting President Johnson for re-election anyhow, and businessmen expect a Republican nominee not to be on the side of labor.

Gov. Romney's candidacy has been undergoing a setback for several months. Unless he shows surprising strength in some of the state primaries, he is not likely to be a serious contender for the nomination at the Republican national convention in August.

The mood of the country today doesn't vary with geographical sections.

If the American people really want a change, there will be an electoral majority for the Republican nominee.

If they do not want to take the risk of a change, President Johnson is likely to wind up with a sizable majority.

A third-party candidacy seems likely to prove irrelevant and meaningless.

It cannot be denied that the Johnson administration is entitled to ask for additional revenue to meet the massive cost of the Vietnam War.

It will continue to ask for its proposed 10 per cent surtax on income tax payments on that basis. But on the other basis it has been citing—the danger of an overheated economy—there is beginning to be doubt.

If the securities market is an indication of the economy's temperature, overheating is anything but a clear and present danger. The looming danger at the moment is overcooling.

Economists look exclusively at economic factors when making their guesses about the future and appraisals of the present. But economic factors are not the only ones to be considered.

Emotional factors are more important when national confidence is being appraised.

Confidence is sagging. If it sagged throughout the national political campaign, which is likely, then sagged after the votes had been counted, all danger of an overheated economy would be so far removed it never would be mentioned again.

It never has been acknowledged by backers of federal tax boosting, moreover, that state and local boosts are draining off the people's disposable income more than fast enough to avert a mad, inflationary scramble for goods and services in short supply.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

There I was, trying to escape from the everyday cares of the world by reading "The Once and Future King" by T. H. White and what keeps popping up but talk about war!

It seems that everywhere you turn nowadays you hear about nothing but war, either present, past, or prospective. The Middle East, Africa, South America, the Far East. Even war in the streets of the United States. Newspapers, radio and television are full of it.

It wouldn't be so bad in "The Once and Future King" if a bunch of knights just went out and killed each other, thus covering themselves with gore and glory. But there is a lot of moralizing about war, which is always painful.

"We are more numerous than they are, therefore we have a right to their mash.

"They are more numerous than we are, therefore they are wickedly trying to steal our mash.

"We must attack them in self-defense.

"They are attacking by defending themselves.

"If we do not attack them today, they will attack us tomorrow.

"In any case we are not attacking them at all. We are offering them incalculable benefits."

Does that remind you of any of the explanations you hear about present or recent wars?

Or take this later statement by King Arthur:

"A good reason for starting a war is simply to have a good reason! For instance, there might be a king who had discovered a new way of life for human beings—you know, something which would be good for them. It might even be the only way of saving them from destruction. Well, if the human beings were too wicked or too stupid to accept his way, he might have to force it on them, in their own interest, by the sword."

Merlyn liked to have had a fit over that!

After one clash on the battlefield, King Arthur said: "Well, it was a good battle. It was a jolly battle, and I won it myself, and it was fun." Then it was pointed out to him that 700 of his men had been killed and he said, "Well, it was not fun, then, I had not thought."

The enemies of King Arthur are accused of fighting to divide the empire and Merlyn says, "I never could stomach these nationalists. The destiny of Man is to unite not divide. If you keep on dividing you end up as a collection of monkeys throwing nuts at each other out of separate trees."

So you see, Twill, no matter where you look nowadays you run across philosophical discussions of war.

Maybe there oughta be a war to end war.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

'Bon Voyage!'

New York Can-Can

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

If anyone had told me a few weeks ago that garbage would play a major part in the 1968 presidential campaign, I would have said he was crazy. But turns out, by going over Mayor John Lindsay's head to settle New York City's garbage strike, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller slipped on a banana peel and wound up with eggshells all over his face.

Art Buchwald

The question people in Washington are asking is, Why did Gov. Rockefeller take such a calculated risk when he has built up so much good will by repeatedly announcing that he was not a candidate for president of the United States?

It is believed by some political observers that Rockefeller went after New York's garbage to show the rest of the country that if he could clean up the mess in New York City, he could certainly clean it up in Washington.

THESE OBSERVERS believe that Rocky has been sensitive to criticism and that he hasn't spoken out on the great issues of the day. By taking a strong stand against the trash in New York City, Rocky was serving notice that he was willing to speak out loud and clear on any issue, at any place, at any time.

While Rockefeller is not a candidate at the moment, he has been following the polls very closely, and it is no coincidence that the last poll on garbage showed 87 per cent of all people interviewed said they were against garbage, 4 per cent said they were for garbage and 9 per cent said they "didn't know." Gov. Rockefeller announced his solution to the garbage strike the same day the figures on the polls were released.

Rocky supporters deny that the governor was politically motivated when he offered to shettle the garbage strike on terms that Mayor Lindsay said were "blackmail."

One Rockefeller man said, "The governor was going to stay out of it until he saw pictures of Mayor Lindsay walking through the mountains of rubbish, lost and lonely, and probably not smelling too good, either. Rockefeller was so moved by what he saw that he decided he had to do something. His first idea was to pass a law making it obligatory for every commuter who worked in New York City, but lived in the suburbs, to take 25 pounds of garbage home at night, either in a paper bag or his brief case.

"Once home, the garbage could be dumped in the suburbanite's ash can. The governor figured out that there are 750,000 commuters going home every night and if each of them took 25 pounds of garbage, New York would have gotten rid of 9,375 tons of refuse a day.

"BUT LINDSAY rejected the plan because he was afraid the commuters wouldn't come to work until the strike was over. Lindsay's solution was to have Rockefeller call out the National Guard. Rockefeller turned down Lindsay's request since the guards had not received 'garbage removal training,' and they might start throwing the cans around recklessly, causing injury to innocent people. Besides, once you use the guards to remove garbage, they may not want to go back to soldiering again.

"So, Rockefeller had only Lindsay's best interests at heart when he made a settlement with the garbage union."

Lindsay supporters are skeptical over Rockefeller's reasons for trying to get him out of a bind. They feel that Rockefeller had used the strike as part of a Dump Lindsay campaign, since Lindsay is also not running for the presidency in 1968.

The only one who has seemed to benefit from the controversy is former Gov. George Wallace, who is running for the presidency on an independent ticket. Wallace, when questioned about New York's garbage strike, said: "They wouldn't have had all this trouble if they only had picked up the white trash."

Mardi Gras Time Again

Pre-Lenten Festivals Start

The first major event of the New Orleans Mardi Gras on Saturday, Feb. 17, when some 2,000 people attended the annual Mardi Gras ball at the Sharon Park hotel in Washington, sponsored by the Louisiana State Society.

Fat seems to be the common denominator of most but not all pre-Lenten celebrating. Mardi Gras in literal French is "Fat Tuesday." It falls this year on Feb. 27.

Germans call the day "Fastnacht" and celebrate it by using all the fats in the house to make pancakes and a special kind of doughnut. The Pennsylvania Dutch and other Plain People observe the custom.

The British give away pancakes on Shrove Tuesday. Shrovetide now is the occasion of the annual pancake-flipping footrace between the womenfolk of Olney, in Buckinghamshire, and their cousins in Liberal, Kan.

Mardi Gras is a public holiday in Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, and Mississippi. Although the term is properly limited to Shrove Tuesday, it has come to be applied popularly to the preceding two weeks of celebration.

New Orleans celebrants claim the tradition started with students who returned from Paris in 1827 and brought with them the custom of parading in masks and costumes.

Mobile, Ala., contends the American celebration really got started in that city in 1830.

Residents of Biloxi, Miss., declare the first observance to have been a wine-drinking bout in 1699. The Frenchman d'Iberville, suddenly remembering it was the last day of Carnival, drew the taps to toast friendly Indians.

This year's Mardi Gras in New Orleans honors the 250th anniversary of the city's founding. It was almost marred by controversy over the attendance at the various balls — most of them racially segregated — by U.S. Navy personnel. The Navy won't cooperate officially but will not bar attendance by its people who have received personal invitations.

Rear Adm. Pierre N. Charbonnet, Jr., comander of the 8th Naval District, says: "There is nothing different this year." Five ships carrying 2,000 men will arrive at New Orleans Feb. 23.

Shrove Tuesday, coming before the 40 days of Lenten denial, is celebrated in England as football's unoffficial birthday. Shrove Tuesday games of free-for-all community football were described as already famous by a monk writing in 1175.

Currently, the most colorful game is played at Ashbourne, where the goals are three miles apart. A public collection is taken up in advance to cover any damage — or medical expenses — that may result from what British historians used to call a "friendly kind of fighte."

Shrovetide has not always been a time for roistering. The stern Ecclesiastical Institutes of England provided that on Shrove Tuesday, "in the week immediately before Lent, everyone shall go to his confessor and confess his deeds and the confessor shrive him."

Odd Facts

The most important crop in the United States, when considered according to acreage, is grass. There are more than a billion acres in hay and pasture in the average year, compared with 300 million acres in other leading crops.

Opossums have the shortest time between fertilization and birth known among mammals — their brief gestation period being but 13 days.

DAVID LAWRENCE

3rd Party?

Veteran politicians in both parties are not concerned about the candidacies of either former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama as a possible third-party nominee, or Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota as an independent if he refuses to accept the Democratic party's nominee, Lyndon Johnson.

The view widely held by Democratic leaders is that not only is President Johnson assured of the Democratic nomination but Republicans would not make it easier for him to win by picking a candidate who does not have nationwide support.

The oft-heard theory about the Wallace movement is that it may take away electoral votes from both the Democratic and the Republican party in various states, and, in a close contest, prevent either major candidates from getting a majority in the electoral college. The election then would be thrown into the House of Representatives.

Most political experts, however, do not foresee such a close race. Those who think President Johnson will win believe he will do so by a substantial majority.

ON THE OTHER hand, the prevailing view among Republican state chairmen is that it will not be a close contest but a sweeping victory for their nominee.

A candidate on a third ticket could make headway only if there were issues on which the major parties' candidates could not get adequate support.

Neither former Gov. Wallace nor Sen. McCarthy has a substantial following across the country. Thus, Mr. Wallace's principal means of attracting votes is through the issues which have had their origin in racial friction. He doubtless will continue his efforts to establish a third party.

Both the Democratic and Republican organizations, however, are strong enough throughout the country, including most of the South, to prevent him from getting the electoral votes of more than two or three states.

As for Sen. McCarthy, few politicians are taking his campaign seriously. They have assumed it has more to do with the effort of Sen. Robert Kennedy to build an organization for the 1972 presidential election than to produce a candidate for the 1968 campaign.

Big decision for voters to make will be whether to change administrations at all. If they are in the mood to do this, they will want someone with experience in dealing with federal problems.

This means the probable nomination of Richard Nixon — who, as vice president, had eight years of intimate contact with the White House during the Eisenhower administration.

Up to now, three public figures have been given foremost mention in the Republican race — Mr. Nixon, Gov. Rockefeller of New York and Gov. Romney of Michigan.

THE RECENT controversy over the strike of workers in the sanitation department of New York City has caused some Republican experts to say Mr. Rockefeller's political status has been hurt. The politicians have noted the many editorials, not only inside but outside the state, criticizing the New York governor for having taken sides with the union after it had subjected the city to great inconvenience in a strike which, it is felt, should have been left to the mayor of New York City to handle.

The big labor unions, moreover, are openly supporting President Johnson for re-election anyhow, and businessmen expect a Republican nominee not to be on the side of labor.

Gov. Romney's candidacy has been undergoing a setback for several months. Unless he shows surprising strength in some of the state primaries, he is not likely to be a serious contender for the nomination at the Republican national convention in August.

The mood of the country today doesn't vary with geographical sections.

If the American people really want a change, there will be an electoral majority for the Republican nominee.

If they do not want to take the risk of a change, President Johnson is likely to wind up with a sizable majority.

Hancock School Study Continues

Curriculum, guidance and counseling, staff development and physical expansion—these and other factors are being examined as part of an evaluation of the Hancock County school system.

This is the report from the Columbus Laboratories of Battelle Memorial Institute, engaged recently by the Hancock Board of Education to conduct the 12-month study of the system.

THE BATTELLE researchers, headed by a psychologist, Dr. Horace W. Ray, currently is conducting a comprehensive analysis of the system. Subsequent phases will be directed at providing recommendations for improvements where needed.

"We want to give Hancock County school administrators and board members some practical guidelines to follow in managing their school system," Dr. Ray said.

In its study, Battelle intends to cover several specific areas, including:

Innovative teaching methods, organization of the school day, variety and adequacy of course offerings, special education, vocational education, teacher recruitment, selection, evaluation, training and pay, school board operation, table of organization and school building planning and maintenance.

IN ANALYZING these areas, Battelle researchers are conferring with local school officials, school board members and teachers. Personal interviews as well as questionnaires are providing the feedback, Dr. Ray said.

Monitors for the study are Dr. Eli Weller, member of the Board of Education, and Thomas Shields Jr., acting assistant superintendent. Many of the staff members in the school system are providing invaluable assistance to the project team, it was pointed out.

Innovative teaching techniques are not new to Hancock County's school system. For some time the program has included team teaching, language laboratory, educational TV, unassigned time for individual research and other methods.

In making its recommendations to the school board, Dr. Ray says Battelle will take into consideration such factors as the objectives of the Hancock school system; recommendations of the National Educational Association; constraints imposed upon the school system and local conditions, such as type of employment available to graduates and opportunities for post-high school education.

OTHER Battelle personnel, in addition to Dr. Ray, participating in the study include Dr. William D. Hitt, Suzanne Swedberg, Ronald J. Cress and Denris McFadden. Retained as consultant is Harold Armstrong, vice president of the School Management Institute at Columbus. Several other consultants also will participate in the study.

Battelle - Columbus has concluded a number of studies dealing with education and training management. In one program the institute studied the service training program of a large product manufacturing organization to identify deficiencies in the program.

Another study was concerned with the educational preferences of high school students in an eastern Ohio county. One current study deals with the education and training of inmates in correctional institutions.

Moore Asks Reorganization Of W. Va. Road Commission

SPENCER, W. Va. (AP)—Charging that the State Road Commission has become a too-powerful "'political machine," Republican congressman and gubernatorial candidate Arch Moore Jr. has urged a full reorganization and audit of the SRC.

He said Saturday the reorganization is needed "to remove the stain and stigma from it and its staff'" following the indictment of Road Commissioner Burl Sawyers and Deputy Commissioner Vincent Johnkoski on bribery-conspiracy charges.

Sawyers and Johnkoski were among six men indicted by a federal grand jury last week. One of the six was former Democratic governor W. W. Barron.

"I make no comment on the core of this issue because I don't traffic in other people's troubles," said Moore. "But regardless of the guilt or innocence of those involved, great damage has been done to the image of West Virginia."

Moore said the SRC "as presently constituted is too deeply involved in politics and not deep ly enough involved in. . .meeting the needs of West Virginia in road building or highway planning."

"It is larger than all other state agencies combined," he said, "and seemingly all we have done is created a powerful political machine which. . . has made the governorship and other state offices virtual pawns to its wishes."

Jet Forced To Land By Engine Trouble

CLEVELAND (AP)—A United Airlines twin-jet Caravelle developed engine trouble 10 minutes after taking off from Cleveland Hopkins Airport Sunday night and was forced to return.

There were 50 passengers and five crewmen aboard the plane, which was on a stopover en route from Baltimore to Chicago. The passengers were transferred to other flights to Chicago.

Bandits Get $6,000 Worth Of Ware Gold

NEW CASTLE — Police continued a hunt today for five or six men who burned open a safe at the Shenango Ceramics Corp. Sunday, taking $6,000 worth of paste gold used for chinaware decorating, and carried away another safe.

The safecrackers tied up two guards, then used a torch to burn open the safe on the second floor, taking the gold, about $1,500 in cash and gold service award pins valued at $1,300.

Then the bandits hauled out a smaller safe on the first floor, put it into a company truck and drove off. The second safe weighed at least 1,500. Its contents were not revealed.

The guards — John Cook, 66, and John Kobak, 37, both of New Castle — were unharmed. They said the men were in the plant about two hours.

Riot Unit Being Formed

Many Volunteer For Posse Duty

By F. RICHARD CICCONE
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Jesse James' career as an outlaw would have been short-lived if the settlers of the Old West responded to posse calls as Chicago residents have.

Sheriff Joseph Woods of Cook County received more than a thousand applications and an equal number of telephone inquiries within a few days after his Feb. 12 call for a 1,000-man riot control unit to be used in case of civil disorders this summer.

As in the Old West, posse members will supply their own handguns and will draw no pay.

The first batch of volunteers included the president of an airplane company, two attorneys, a hospital therapist, a security guard, a utility company executive, a dining car porter, a systems analyst and an official of Pinkerton's, Inc., the private detective agency.

One man wrote, "I am 54 years of age. . .I know when the chips are down and America has to be defended, by God, I am ready."

The dining car porter said, "I am a Negro American. I don't think riots will help in any way. The only way is law and order."

The sheriff wants his unit to be biracial—500 Negro and 500 white volunteers. The first week's figures indicated white volunteers outnumbered Negro volunteers 4-to-1.

Earl Latham, a Negro security guard, said, "the squad is a good idea if members keep their temper and cool."

Applications from persons under 21, persons with police records or physical disabilities, or without jobs are automatically rejected.

Three hundred persons tentatively accepted last week will meet with Woods tonight.

"The volunteers will be carefully screened," Woods said. "Not one man will become a deputy until he has passed all the tests and gone through a riot training program of 40 to 60 hours."

The sheriff said that during the training starting March 1, Negro sergeants would swing bats at white trainees and vice versa.

"Part of the training," he said, "is to subject a man to insults and humiliation to a reasonable extreme. If he gets angry, out he goes."

"We are going to have psychological tests to help filter out sadists and kooks," he said.

Of the first 51 volunteers, 21 were turned down. One man's application was rejected when he remarked, "the colored have gone too far, we need something like this to stop them in their tracks."

When Woods' plan was announced Feb. 12, the sheriff was reported to have said the unit was being formed to quell threatened demonstrations and riots during the Democratic National Convention in August.

Mayor Richard J. Daley, a Democrat, then criticized the plan as dangerous and said, "We don't want that in Chicago."

But Woods, a Republican, said Sunday, "I have never said I would come into the city of Chicago." He said he lacked manpower for such.

Harry Leviton has filed suit on "behalf of the people of Illinois" to stop formation of the posse on grounds it is illegal.

Woods said he believed it is based on an 1874 Illinois law but asked State's Atty. John Stamos for an opinion.

If Stamos "tells me this plan would put Cook County in an untenable position," the sheriff said, "I would drop it."

Group Opposes Riot Legislation

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Legal Aid Society Director Burt W. Griffin describes Ohio's proposed anti-riot legislation as giving license to what he termed "trigger-happy cops" to incite riots.

Griffin was among several persons speaking against the measure Sunday at a West Side meeting.

He contended that the bill, which has passed the Ohio House and is now in the Senate's Judiciary Committee, "encourages rather than deters violence."

Dr. Lawrence White, chairman of the Cleveland chapter of Americans for Democratic Action, called the bill a "punitive measure which would do nothing to solve the problems of riots."

First Union victory of the Civil War was the Battle of Philippi, W. Va., June 3, 1861.

Playing Cop Proves Expensive For Man

CHICAGO (AP) — Detective John Manley was driving an unmarked police car Sunday when an auto with flashing red lights and blaring siren pulled up behind him and signaled him to the curb.

Manley said the driver of the car, Edward J. Cooper of Chicago, got out and approached him flashing a gold Tennessee sheriff's badge.

"He told me he was a police officer," Manley said. "So I told him 'that's a coincidence, so am I.'"

Cooper, 35, was charged with impersonating an officer, simulating the legal process, driving a vehicle equipped with a siren and driving without Illinois license plates or a city sticker. He was released on $1,000 bond.

Riot Unit Being Formed

Many Volunteer For Posse Duty

By F. RICHARD CICCONE
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Jesse James' career as an outlaw would have been short-lived if the settlers of the Old West responded to posse calls as Chicago residents have.

Sheriff Joseph Woods of Cook County received more than a thousand applications and an equal number of telephone inquiries within a few days after his Feb. 12 call for a 1,000-man riot control unit to be used in case of civil disorders this summer.

As in the Old West, posse members will supply their own handguns and will draw no pay.

The first batch of volunteers included the president of an airplane company, two attorneys, a hospital therapist, a security guard, a utility company executive, a dining car porter, a systems analyst and an official of Pinkerton's, Inc., the private detective agency.

One man wrote, "I am 54 years of age. . .I know when the chips are down and America has to be defended, by God, I am ready."

The dining car porter said, "I am a Negro American. I don't think riots will help in any way. The only way is law and order."

The sheriff wants his unit to be biracial—500 Negro and 500 white volunteers. The first week's figures indicated white volunteers outnumbered Negro volunteers 4-to-1.

Dog Blamed In Wreck, One Of Four In County

An East Palestine woman was injured when the auto in which she was a passenger overturned as it swerved to avoid a dog on the highway — one of four traffic mishaps over the weekend reported by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Mary C. Peters, 26, of Negley RD 1 said she would make her own arrangements for treatment. The mishap occurred Sunday at 3:30 a.m. on County Rd. 432, 1½ miles north of Route 170.

The 1964 coach, operated by Lawrence M. Peters, 28, was moderately damaged in the top, front and right side when Peters hit the brakes, then lost control, officers said.

Three were injured in an accident on Route 14, near Route 165, Sunday at 6 p.m. when an East Palestine man failed to halt at a traffic light.

Injured were Allison and Thomas M. Frazier, 64, of Youngstown, a passenger in the Allison auto, and Minnea Rinehart, 66, a passenger in the Rinehart auto.

A Cumberland, Md. man was cited Saturday after his 1967 pickup truck pulled into the intersection of Routes 30 and 7 and was struck by an auto driven by Elizabeth Emma King, 61, of Minerva.

Officers said Marshall A. Long, 57, failed to yield the right-of-way, causing the accident at 3:30 p.m.

Officers investigated a fourth mishap Saturday at 7:10 p. m. on County Rd. 422, near Route 7, in which wiring under the dash of a 1964 coach driven by Caroline L. Minamyer, 19, of East Palestine, caught fire.

The dashboard was damaged by the flames, the patrol said.

Firemen Are Called

LISBON — Volunteer firemen were called to the Robert Stark residence, 768 E. Lincoln Way, Sunday about 10 p.m. when an overheated coal furnace set fire to a floor joist. Mrs. Stark threw water on the burning joist after calling for help. Chief W. A. (Slim) Peters said there was little damage.

to this day and in retirement his work goes on. Like Miss Thomas, he has helped make our community a better place for all.

His works over the past years would fill many pages and are far too numerous to mention.

"He served for many years on the Chester Board of Education, devoted much of his time and efforts to the organization of Boy Scouts, served on the ration board during World War II and is a member of the Kiwanis Club of Chester and is one of its organizers.

"For 25 years he was Sunday school superintendent of the Presbyterian Church and served as an elder for 30 years. Until recently he taught boys and girls in his home conducting a Bible school.

"He is a former works manager of the Taylor, Smith and Taylor Co., where many potters came to know him and deeply respect his character and integrity.

"Even in the twilight of an unselfish giving to our community his work goes on. Today, quietly and without fanfare he gives of his time and talent to help the less fortunate and downtrodden of our area. His activities and interests center around the Rescue Mission of East Liverpool where he serves on the board of directors."

Parsons is spending the winter months in Phoenix and was unable to attend last night.

This is the fourth year the awards have been presented as a part of the civic affars program of the post.

Comdr. Robert House announced the post has exceeded its assigned membership goal for 1968 of 460.

Two hundred Legionnaires, Auxiliary members and guests attended.

Newsman Claimed

NEW YORK (AP) — Ray Brock, 54, former Balkan correspondent for The New York Times died, the paper reported Sunday. Brock covered the German invasion of Yugoslavia and later became Times correspondent in Ankara, Turkey. He authored several books, including "Nor any Victory," "Blood, Oil and Sand," and "Ghost on Horseback."

Station Burglar Takes Cash, Trading Stamps

A burglar took an undetermined amount of cash and some trading stamps at an E. 3rd St. service station between 10 p.m. Sunday and 6 a.m. today, police report.

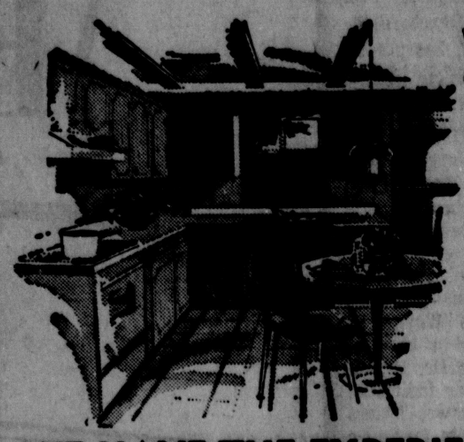

The entry was reported at Moore's Amoco Service at 288 E. 3rd St., operated by James Moore. Police said the intruder pried open a door on the east side and then obtained a key to open a candy vending machine, from which he took a sack containing the money and stamps.

Dog Blamed In Wreck, One Of Four In County

An East Palestine woman was injured when the auto in which she was a passenger overturned as it swerved to avoid a dog on the highway — one of four traffic mishaps over the weekend reported by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Mary C. Peters, 26, of Negley RD 1 said she would make her own arrangements for treatment. The mishap occurred Sunday at 3:30 a.m. on County Rd. 432, 1½ miles north of Route 170.

The 1964 coach, operated by Lawrence M. Peters, 26, was moderately damaged in the top, front and right side when Peters hit the brakes, then lost control, officers said.

Three were injured in an accident on Route 14, near Route 165, Sunday at 6 p.m. when an East Palestine man failed to halt at a traffic light.

Injured were Allison and Thomas M. Frazier, 64, of Youngstown, a passenger in the Allison auto, and Minnea Rinehart, 60, a passenger in the Rinehart auto.

A Cumberland, Md. man was cited Saturday after his 1967 pickup truck pulled into the intersection of Routes 30 and 7 and was struck by an auto driven by Elizabeth Emma King, 61, of Minerva.

Officers said Marshall A. Long, 57, failed to yield the right-of-way, causing the accident at 3:30 p.m.

Officers investigated a fourth mishap Saturday at 7:10 p. m. on County Rd. 422, near Route 7, in which wiring under the dash of a 1964 coach driven by Caroline L. Minamyer, 19, of East Palestine, caught fire.

The dashboard was damaged by the flames, the patrol said.

Firemen Are Called

LISBON — Volunteer firemen were called to the Robert Stark residence, 768 E. Lincoln Way, Sunday about 10 p.m. when an overheated coal furnace set fire to a floor joist. Mrs. Stark threw water on the burning joist after calling for help. Chief W. A. (Slim) Peters said there was little damage.

to this day and in retirement his work goes on. Like Miss Thomas, he has helped make our community a better place for all.

His works over the past years would fill many pages and are far too numerous to mention.

"He served for many years on the Chester Board of Education, devoted much of his time and efforts to the organization of Boy Scouts, served on the ration board during World War II and is a member of the Kiwanis Club of Chester and is one of its organizers.

"For 25 years he was Sunday school superintendent of the Presbyterian Church and served as an elder for 50 years. Until recently he taught boys and girls in his home conducting a Bible school.

"He is a former works manager of the Taylor, Smith and Taylor Co., where many potters came to know him and deeply respect his character and integrity.

"Even in the twilight of an unselfish giving to our community his work goes on. Today, quietly and without fanfare he gives of his time and talent to help the less fortunate and downtrodden of our area. His activities and interests center around the Rescue Mission of East Liverpool where he serves on the board of directors."

Parsons is spending the winter months in Phoenix and was unable to attend last night.

This is the fourth year the awards have been presented as a part of the civic affars program of the post.

Comdr. Robert House announced the post has exceeded its assigned membership goal for 1968 of 450.

Two hundred Legionnaires, Auxiliary members and guests attended.

Newsman Claimed

NEW YORK (AP) — Ray Brock, 54, former Balkan correspondent for The New York Times died, the paper reported Sunday. Brock covered the German invasion of Yugoslavia and later became Times correspondent in Ankara, Turkey. He authored several books, including "Nor any Victory," "Blood, Oil and Sand," and "Ghost on Horseback."

17 Treated At City Hospital After District Emergencies

A Georgetown area youth injured on a broken cup Saturday at home was admitted to City Hospital, where 16 others were treated over the weekend.

Ogilvie Finalist In Merit Setup

Malcom D. Ogilvie, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ogilvie of Blazer Ln., has been named a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship competition.

He is a student at East Liverpool High School.

Ogilvie said he has applied for admittance to both the University of Michigan and Harvard University and plans to study math.

Certificates will be awarded the finalists, with scholarship recipients announced later.

Miss Goodwin Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kathryn D. Goodwin, former director of the Federal Bureau of Family Services, died Saturday. Miss Goodwin's career in social work spanned 36 years, 25 of which were spent with the bureau of family services, an agency of the Department of Health Education and Welfare

Station Burglar Takes Cash, Trading Stamps

A burglar took an undetermined amount of cash and some trading stamps at an E. 3rd St. service station between 10 p.m. Sunday and 6 a.m. today, police report.

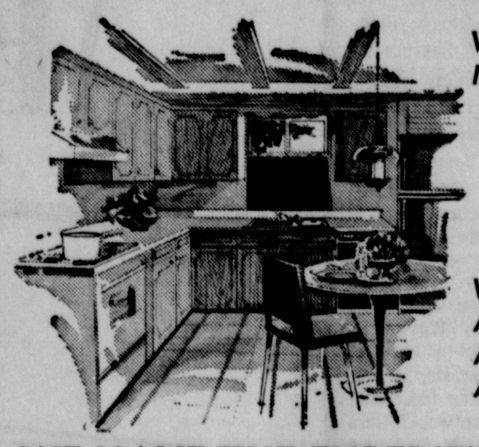

The entry was reported at Moore's Amoco Service at 206 E. 3rd St., operated by James Moore. Police said the intruder pried open a door on the east side and then obtained a key to open a candy vending machine, from which he took a sack containing the money and stamps.

The DOCTOR Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

Dr. Brandstadt

Formerly this was a highly fatal disease, but now a child with cystic fibrosis can enjoy a normal life if appropriate treatment is given early in the course of the disease. CF is characterized by abnormally sticky mucus secretions that obstruct the air passages in the lungs and a failure of production of essential enzymes by the pancreas. Also the victim's sweat is abnormally salty.

—:—

THE CAUSE is a defect in one of the genes. The victim inherits this recessive gene from both of his parents although neither of them show any evidence of the disease. Thus, he will not transmit it to his children directly but may pass it to his grandchildren. About 7,000 children in this country are born with this disease every year. Fortunately, many have it in a mild form.

—:—

THE TREATMENT, though extensive, is not simple. It required a team effort in a medical center equipped to care for children with CF until control is established. The child sleeps in a highly humidified tent and antibiotics are given to prevent infections. Postural drainage and inhalation therapy help to prevent blockage of the air passages.

—:—

IN ADDITION to a low - fat, high - protein diet with vitamin supplements, including vitamin E, pancreatic enzymes are given. Special measures must be taken in hot weather to prevent dehydration of salt through sweating. Recently, a germ that is dangerous to the body but which feeds on the sticky mucus has been discovered and is being developed to aid in the treatment of CF.

FOR UP-TO-THE-MINUTE information on this subject, you may write to the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, 521 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017.

Q—Please recommend a booklet to acquaint a 12-year-old boy with the facts of life.

A—The American Medical Association, 535 N. Many schools and churches are now offering worthwhile classes in sex education.

Massive Eradication Program

Measles Cases This Year Only 5% Of '62 Number

By KENT PRINCE
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Measles cases this year are only 5 per cent of the number reported in 1962 as a result of a massive eradication program, officials reported today.

The Communicable Disease Center said 3,603 cases of ordinary "red" measles were reported across the nation during the first six weeks this year, compared to 84,000 in the same period of 1962.

Furthermore, the cases reported in 1968 were estimated to be only one-tenth the actual number, a spokesman said.

The impressive reduction was attributed to an extensive eradication program which was portayed to inoculating select groups across the country.

Part of that program was crash immunization in the midst of epidemics—such as is now under way in Chicago, a spokesman said.

"We try to surround an epidemic with vaccination," he said, "and strike measles wherever it raises its ugly head."

"We're just not having massive outbreaks of measles any more, because everyone has done such a terrific job around the country. But where an outbreak does occur, we're capable of moving in and handling it."

In Chicago, where 25 doctors and advisers began mass immunizations Thursday, officials reported 250 measles cases during the first 46 days of the year. The CDC said 627 cases have been reported in Chicago since October 1967.

The CDC said it furnished some 40,000 doses of vaccine from its stockpiles for the Chicago program. These will supplement larger local supplies, a spokesman said.

In addition to the crash immunization program, the nationwide attack on red measles involves immunizing all 1-year-olds, checking to see that all first and second graders had received inoculations and improving reporting of cases.

As a result, he said, the number of cases during the first six weeks this year was down 97 per cent from last year—11,882 in 1967 to 3,603 in 1968.

The measles vaccine was licensed in 1963.

Comsat Ahead Of Schedule, But It's Running Into Snags

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Satellite Corp., just turned five, is at least a full year ahead of its own ambitious schedule in developing global communications system, but it's hitting snags.

Since its incorporation in February 1963, Comsat has moved shimmingly within the operating framework marked out for it by Congress and the Federal Communications Commission.

Now it is bumping into the legal and regulatory boundaries of that framework.

Comsat cannot even find ways to spend its money. It is still sitting on at least two-thirds of the $200 million capital that eager investors shelled out for its stock in 1964.

That's because it is limited to one technology—satellites—and to one sphere of operation—international. Further, it cannot deal directly with commercial customers, but must act as a wholesaler in selling channel time to other carriers, who resell to the public.

Comsat would like to expand, the other U.S. overseas cable and radio carriers and hamstring the U.S. "chosen instrument" for international communications—a one-company monopoly, like or not, which the government willing to smash, but nobody can move without an order Congress removing the anti-trust barriers. The Johnson administration isn't sure it wants to propose that.

To study that and a score of interrelated communications problems, President Johnson created last August a Task Force on Communications Policy. He gave it a year to make recommendations. Meantime decision-making at the FCC appears to be stalled.

Comsat would like to put some million of its idle cash into a lot-scale domestic satellite system, with free channels for educational TV.

Massive Eradication Program

Measles Cases This Year Only 5% Of '62 Number

By KENT PRINCE
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Measles cases this year are only 5 per cent of the number reported in 1962 as a result of a massive eradication program, officials reported today.

The Communicable Disease Center said 3,002 cases of ordinary "red" measles were reported across the nation during the first six weeks this year, compared to 54,092 in the same period of 1962.

Furthermore, the cases reported in 1962 were estimated to be only one-tenth the actual number, a spokesman said.

The impressive reduction was attributed to an extensive eradication program which was keyed to inoculating select groups across the country.

Part of that program was crash immunization in the midst of epidemics—such as is now under way in Chicago, a spokesman said.

"We try to surround an epidemic with vaccination," he said, "and strike measles wherever it raises its ugly head."

"We're just not having massive outbreaks of measles any more, because everyone has done such a terrific job around the country. But where an outbreak does occur, we're capable of moving in and handling it."

In Chicago, where 32 doctors and advisers began mass immunizations Thursday, officials reported 300 measles cases during the first 45 days of the year. The CDC said 687 cases have been reported in Chicago since October 1967.

The CDC said it furnished some 40,000 doses of vaccine from its stockpiles for the Chicago program. These will supplement larger local supplies, a spokesman said.

In addition to the crash inoculation program, the nationwide attack on red measles included immunizing all 1-year-olds, checking to see that all first and second graders had received inoculations and improving reporting of cases.

As a result, he said, the number of cases during the first six weeks this year was down 70 per cent from last year—11,046 in 1967 to 3,002 in 1968.

Other year to year breakdowns included: 1966, 33,022; 1965, 42,240; 1964, 34,988; 1963, 50,186; and 1962, 54,092.

The measles vaccine was licensed in 1963.

Comsat Ahead Of Schedule, But It's Running Into Snags

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Satellite Corp., just turned five, is at least a full year ahead of its own ambitious schedule in developing global communications system, but it's hitting snags.

Since its incorporation in February 1963, Comsat has moved skimmingly within the operating framework marked out for it by Congress and the Federal Communications Commission.

Now it is bumping into the legal and regulatory boundaries of that framework.

Comsat cannot even find ways to spend its money. It is still sitting on at least two-thirds of the $200 million capital that eager investors shelled out for its stock in 1964.

That's because it is limited to one technology—satellites—and to one sphere of operation—international. Further, it cannot deal directly with communications users, but must act as a wholesaler in selling channel time to other carriers, who resell to the public.

Comsat would like to acquire the other U.S. overseas cable and radio carriers and become the U.S. "chosen instrument" for international communications—a one-company monopoly, like those of other nations.

Some of the other carriers seem willing to merge, but nobody can move without an act of Congress removing the antitrust barriers. The administration isn't sure it wants to propose that.

To study that and a score of interrelated communications problems, President Johnson created last August a Task Force on Communications Policy. He gave it a year to make recommendations. Meantime decision-making at the FCC appears to be stalled.

Comsat would like to put $30 million of its idle cash into a pilot-scale domestic satellite system, with free channels for educational TV.

Couple From County Wed In New Waterford Rites

Miss Marlene Huff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Huff of Rogers RD 1, became the bride of James Webber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Webber of New Waterford, Feb. 10 at 4 p.m. in the New Waterford Methodist Church.

The Rev. Leland Floyd officiated for the double-ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a dress of white Chantilly lace, ballerina - length, with a self-bow offering back accent at the waistline. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a pearl crown. She carried an arrangement of white carnations and roses.

Mrs. Pat Huff, matron of honor, wore a beige suit with matching accessories and white carnation corsage.

Harold Huff served as best man.

Train Touches Off 20-Mile Grass Fire

PIQUA, Ohio (AP) — A 20-mile-long series of grass fires touched off by sparks from a Baltimore & Ohio freight train north of here Sunday kept firemen from 15 departments busy but caused no appreciable damage.

Flames hopped through dry grass, hay fields and corn stubble. Authorities said the fire trail adjacent to the railroad tracks was as much as half a mile wide.

The tracks run parallel to Interstate 75. The fire posed no threat to the highway, but it did cause several traffic jams.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My daddy reads your column every day. I want to tell him something very important but I don't think he'll listen to me. If he reads it in the newspaper he'll have to listen.

Here's my message: Please tell my daddy not to work so hard. I'm afraid he'll have a heart attack and die. If anything every happened to him, I couldn't go on.

My daddy makes a very good living for us but we'd be satisfied with less if it meant more rest and a longer life for him.

Please, Ann, fix it so he'll see this letter in the paper. — WORRIED GIRL

Dear Worried: There are bound to be a few million daddies around the country who'll swear this letter was meant for them.

To all you daughters out there are worried about your daddies, I'd like to say this — and I'm asking the newspaper to print this in large type so your daddies will see it: HARD WORK NEVER KILLED ANYBODY.

If you want your daddy to live longer, Don't ask him not to work so hard. Ask him to stop smoking cigarettes, to stop drinking too much. Suggest that he get some exercise every day and have a complete physical examination every year.

Most daddies who work very hard do so because of an inner drive to excel and achieve. If these compulsive workers take care of themselves they can go on and on and on.

Self-Help Kit

Dear Ann: This might sound like a stupid request, or perhaps I'm asking for an oversimplification of the toughest question of all — how to tackle the everyday problems that arise from the very business of living. Can you put together a few helpful hints — sort of an Ann Landers Do-It-Yourself Kit? — GROPING.

Dear Groping: Your request is not stupid. In fact, I wonder why no one else ever has asked.

Many people are beset by fears and anxieties they can't define. So the first step is to isolate your major problem, separate it from the other problems and write it down on a piece of paper.

List the possible courses of action that might remedy the situation, then go to work on the most logical and practical solution. If it proves ineffective, try the second approach, then the third.

The person who makes an effort to analyze and resolve his problems will discover that his feelings of futility and frustration will gradually fade away. He'll experience (probably for the first time) a sense of balance and confidence. Remember — the longest walk in the world begins with a single step.

Family Live-In

Dear Ann: Who gave you the power and authority to say this is right and that's wrong? Your rigidity and uncompromising statements make me sick.

One of your pet theories is that no house is big enough for two families. Well, listen to this:

My husband died two months ago. I have a large home staffed with three servants. My son and his wife and child are moving in next Monday. My widowed sister and her teen-age daughter are moving in the following Saturday.

We're all civilized people and there's no reason we can't live together in peace and harmony. Everyone is thrilled. How do you like that? —MEMPHIS.

Dear Mem: It doesn't matter whether or not I like it. It's your house, lady. Write to me in a year and let me know if everyone is still thrilled.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Teachers Set To Strike For Pay Increase

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Thousands of Florida teachers are set to stage a statewide walkout today—a move that could paralyze the state's public schools.

Teachers are meeting in 21 locations throughout the state for "information and instructions" in their bid for higher pay and more money for education.

Hundreds of thousands of the state's 1.5 million school children begin unscheduled vacations from nearly 2,000 public schools.

School officials in 16 of the state's 67 counties said their schools would operate but that they did not know for how long.

Gov. Claude Kirk interrupted a speaking tour of the West to beg teachers not to "desert your children" but it apparently had no effect and Kirk flew back to California.

Cash, Chips Stolen In Entry In Hancock

Between $50 and $90 was taken from vending machines at the Spaghetti Villa on Route 30 early Saturday morning, Hancock County sheriff's deputies report.

Thieves broke a window in the back door, then forced it open to gain entry. Officers said all the machines including a juke box and bowling game, were broken and the coin boxes entered. In addition, the thieves also took a rack of potato chips.

Martha Rutan, a waitress, said she left the establishment about 3:15 a. m. Saturday and returned at 11:30 to discover the entry.

Midland Registration Figures Are Outlined

J. B. Kiefer, chief registrar of Beaver County, announced there were 78 transactions during registration in Midland Friday at the Borough Building.

They include registrations of 13 Democrats, 10 Republicans, two independents, two nonpartisans and one Constitutional.

There were 18 changes of address, eight changes to Democrats, and two re-instatements. As of last Dec. 18, there were 2,178 Democrats, 640 Republicans and 23 others registered in the five precincts in Midland.

St. Stephen's Installs 15 On Governing Body

The 15 members of the 1968 governing body of St. Stephens Episcopal Church were installed formally by the Rev. D. Ross Salisbury Jr. in a special ceremony during the regular church services Sunday.

Alwyn Purinton Jr., newly-elected senior warden, and Richard Manning, junior warden, led the other 13 vestrymen to the communion rail, where they were greeted individually by Rev. Salisbury. Joseph D. Coons, treasurer, and Jackman S. Vodrey, clerk of the vestryman, also took part.

Other vestrymen to be installed included Mrs. Edith Dunlap, who was elected last year as the first woman ever to serve on the local church's vestry, and Mrs. Pat Burnett, elected this year.

Vestrymen newly elected this year are Edwin A. Bayley Jr., Jack Chapman, Mrs. Ida Dales, Charles E. Glover, Charles B. Horton, Donald A. Lowe, James Lowe, Manning and Mrs. Burnett.

Last year's holdovers include James L. Massey, Richard R. Russell, Mrs. Dunlap, Purinton, Coons and Vodrey.

Vestry housekeeping committee organizations for the coming year will be:

Activities — Massey, chairman, Dales, Mrs. Dunlap and Glover.

Finances — Coons, chairman, and Purinton.

Evaluation of parish program for women — Dales, chairman, and Mrs. Dunlap.

The next regular meeting of the vestry will be March 12 at 7:45 p.m. in the Parish Hall.

Rev. Salisbury also announced that the annual family pancake supper will be held in the hall from 5 to 7 p. m. Feb. 26. Ronald Mason is in charge of arrangements, along with James Massey.

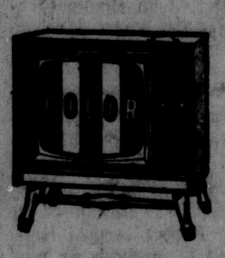

As usual, there will be no admission fee or other charge. Voluntary contributions to defray the expenses will be accepted, however, it was pointed out.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My daddy reads your column every day. I want to tell him something very important but I don't think he'll listen to me. If he reads it in the newspaper he'll have to listen.

Here's my message: Please tell my daddy not to work so hard. I'm afraid he'll have a heart attack and die. If anything every happened to him, I couldn't go on.

My daddy makes a very good living for us but we'd be satisfied with less if it meant more rest and a longer life for him.

Dear Worried: There are bound to be a few million daddies around the country who'll swear this letter was meant for them.

To all you daughters out there are worried about your daddies, I'd like to say this — and I'm asking the newspaper to print this in large type so your daddies will see it: HARD WORK NEVER KILLED ANYBODY.

If you want your daddy to live longer, Don't ask him not to work so hard. Ask him to stop smoking cigarettes, to stop drinking too much. Suggest that he get some exergest that he get some exercise every day and have a complete physical examination every year.

Most daddies who work very hard do so because of an inner drive to excel and achieve. If these compulsive workers take care of themselves they can go on and on and on.

Self-Help Kit

Dear Ann: This might sound like a stupid request, or perhaps I'm asking for an oversimplification of the toughest question of all — how to tackle the everyday problems that arise from the very business of living. Can you put together a few helpful hints — sort of an Ann Landers Do-It-Yourself Kit? — GROPING.

Dear Groping: Your request is not stupid. In fact, I wonder why no one else ever has asked.

Many people are beset by fears and anxieties they can't define. So the first step is to isolate your major problem, separate it from the other problems and write it down on a piece of paper.

List the possible courses of action that might remedy the situation, then go to work on the most logical and practical solution. If it proves ineffective, try the second approach, then the third.

The person who makes an effort to analyze and resolve his problems will discover that his feelings of futility and frustration will gradually fade away. He'll experience (probably for the first time) a sense of balance and confidence. Remember — the longest walk in the world begins with a single step.

Family Live-In

Dear Ann: Who gave you the power and authority to say this is right and that's wrong? Your rigidity and uncompromising statements make me sick.

One of your pet theories is that no house is big enough for two families. Well, listen to this:

My husband died two months ago. I have a large home staffed with three servants. My son and his wife and child are moving in next Monday. My widowed sister and her teen-age daughter are moving in the following Saturday.

We're all civilized people and there's no reason we can't live together in peace and harmony. Everyone is thrilled. How do you like that? —MEMPHIS.

Dear Mem: It doesn't matter whether or not I like it. It's your house, lady. Write to me in a year and let me know if everyone is still thrilled.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Teachers Set To Strike For Pay Increase

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Thousands of Florida teachers are set to stage a statewide walkout today—a move that could paralyze the state's public schools.

Teachers are meeting in 21 locations throughout the state for "information and instructions" in their bid for higher pay and more money for education.

Hundreds of thousands of the state's 1.5 million school children begin unscheduled vacations from nearly 2,000 public schools.

School officials in 16 of the state's 67 counties said their schools would operate but that they did not know for how long.

Gov. Claude Kirk interrupted a speaking tour of the West to beg teachers not to "desert your children" but it apparently had no effect and Kirk flew back to California.

Cash, Chips Stolen In Entry In Hancock

Between $50 and $60 was taken from vending machines at the Spaghetti Villa on Route 30 early Saturday morning, Hancock County sheriff's deputies report.

Thieves broke a window in the back door, then forced it open to gain entry. Officers said all the machines including a juke box and bowling game, were broken and the coin boxes entered. In addition, the thieves also took a rack of potato chips.

Martha Rutan, a waitress, said she left the establisihment about 3:15 a. m. Saturday and returned at 11:30 to discover the entry.

Midland Registration Figures Are Outlined

J. B. Kiefer, chief registrar of Beaver County, announced there were 78 transactions during registration in Midland Friday at the Borough Building.

They include registrations of 13 Democrats, 10 Republicans, two independents, two nonpartisans and one Constitutional.

There were 18 changes of address, eight changes to Democrats, and two re-instatements. As of last Dec. 18, there were 2,178 Democrats, 640 Republicans and 23 others registered in the five precincts in Midland.

St. Stephen's Installs 15 On Governing Body

The 15 members of the 1968 governing body of St. Stephens Episcopal Church were installed formally by the Rev. D. Ross Salisbury Jr. in a special ceremony during the regular church services Sunday.

Alwyn Purinton Jr., newly-elected senior warden, and Richard Manning, junior warden, led the other 13 vestrymen to the communion rail, where they were greeted individually by Rev. Salisbury. Joseph D. Coons, treasurer, and Jackman S. Vodrey, clerk of the vestryman, also took part.

Other vestrymen to be installed included Mrs. Edith Dunlap, who was elected last year as the first woman ever to serve on the local church's vestry, and Mrs. Pat Burnett, elected this year.

Vestry housekeeping committee organizations for the coming year will be:

Finances — Coons, chairman, and Purinton.

Evaluation of parish program for women — Dales, chairman, and Mrs. Dunlap.

The next regular meeting of the vestry will be March 12 at 7:45 p.m. in the Parish Hall.

Rev. Salisbury also announced that the annual family pancake supper will be held in the hall from 5 to 7 p. m. Feb. 26. Ronald Mason is in charge of arrangements, along with James Massey.

As usual, there will be no admission fee or other charge. Voluntary contributions to defray the expenses will be accepted, however, it was pointed out.

Deadline Due In Filings For District Posts

Filings will close this afternoon at 4 at the County Election Board for candidates seeking ballot spots in the May 7 primary elections for posts in the 18th Congressional District.

The deadline affects candidates for the U. S. Congressional seat from the six-county district as well as delegates and alternates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions and candidates for men and women members of the two parties' state central committees.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, Belmont County Democrat, entered officially nearly two weeks ago to seek an 11th term as the 18th District congressman. He has one opponent to date — Nick B. Karnick, 42, of Steubenville, who has run unsuccessfully previously for several Jefferson County and Steubenville posts.

EACH POLITICAL party will elect a man and a woman from the 18th District to serve on its state central committee.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, the incumbent Democratic state committeeman, is bidding for a new term, opposed by Daniel T. Lehigh, a New Philadelphia attorney who sought the same post unsuccessfully two years ago.

Miss Esther F. Pinsky of Bellaire, an attorney, is asking a new term as the Democratic committeewoman.

Robert Bell of Steubenville has filed for his fifth term as the Republican state central committeeman from the district. Mrs. Isabelle Chaney of Cadiz is running for a second term as the GOP state central committeewoman. She was named two years ago to replace Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem.

Each major party also has filed a slate of district delegates to the presidential nominating convention late this summer, pledged to "favorite son" candidates. Democrats will meet at Chicago and the GOP will convene at Miami.

The GOP delegate candidates are Charles A. Pike, Lisbon attorney, and Walter L. Myers Jr. of Steubenville. The candidates for alternate are Bell and Mrs. Chaney. The slate is pledged to Gov. James A. Rhodes as "favorite son" candidate.

THE DEMOCRATIC district delegate candidates are Maurice Rapport, East Liverpool businessman, and Howard Mercer of New Philadelphia. Candidates for alternate are Robert Price of Wintersville RD 3 and James W. Inzetta of Barnesville.

Candidates for all other offices were required to file by Feb. 7. But entries in the congressional districts throughout Ohio were delayed until today because the districts were realigned by the General Assembly late in January. The filing deadline was extended to allow the candidates time to circulate petitions in the newly-realigned districts.

The 18th District now is comprised of Columbiana, Carroll, Jefferson, Harrison and Belmont Counties and all except one township in Tuscarawas County. Candidates enter with the local board because Columbiana County is the "most populous" in the district.

Legal Pioneer Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Howard Ellis, 76, credited with pioneering the legal defense of fair comment, died Sunday. Ellis was an expert on libel law and general counsel for The Chicago Tribune. Ellis initiated the fair comment defense when the late Henry Ford, the auto manufacturer, sued the Tribune in 1919 for $1 million. Ford was awarded six cents damage for having been called an anarchist in an editorial.

Republican Governors Seek Moderate Platform

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican governors, frustrated in attempts to agree on a presidential candidate, are launching a grass-roots drive for a moderate party platform.

Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, chairman of the Republican Governors Association scheduled a news conference for today to announce a series of platform hearings. Individual citizens will be asked to contribute ideas on domestic and foreign policy issues.

The GOP state executives are promoting Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania for co-chairman of the Miami Beach, Fla., convention platform committee to sit with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

The party moderates among the governors express fear that Dirksen, who has supported President Johnson's basic objectives in Vietnam, will be inclined to leave little room for a Republican alternative to the administration's Asian course.

They regard Dirksen, who placed Barry Goldwater's name in nomination at the 1964 convention, as too conservative on domestic policies. But so far they have not seemed to make much headway in their efforts to dislodge Dirksen or to win Shafer a share of the chairmanship power.

Shafer has been designated to supervise the governors' version of platform hearings. He will be operating with a workbook on issues assembled by staff members under the direction of the association's policy committee, headed by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Although Rockefeller apparently would be the choice of a majority of the 25 governors for the presidential nomination, he has made it difficult for them to coalesce behind him.

He has filed an affidavit of non-candidacy, withdrawing his name from the April 2 Wisconsin primary, and is expected to take similar action in the May 14 Nebraska and May 28 Oregon primaries.

Rockefeller and Chafee are committed to the candidacy of Michigan Gov. George Romney. But they have failed to stir any enthusiasm among other state GOP executives for crawling out on what many of them seem to think may be a cracking political limb.

Rockefeller's public disavowal of candidacy still leaves the door open for him to become a contender at the convention, with the powerful 92-vote New York delegation behind him as a favorite son.

But Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., a former GOP national chairman who participated in the abortive attempt by the moderates to head off Goldwater's nomination at the last minute in 1964, said time is wasting.

He said the moderates who predominate among the governors "haven't shown the unity which it will take ... to bring about the nomination of a progressive candidate."

"I hope they don't fall on their faces or over their own feet," he said. "I'm for the governors. I think they can do it but I think they had better not waste any time."

Investigators Probe $100,000 Plant Fire

CINCINNATI (AP) — Investigators were continuing their probe of a fire which set off a chain of explosions at a cabinet manufacturing plant in suburban Sharonville Saturday, causing an estimated $100,000 damage.

The blaze gutted the paint room, main assembly room and heavily damaged a smaller assembly room of Decor Inc.—ravaging a total 12,000 square feet.

Officer Doesn't Like Cong Sympathizers

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The national president of the Reserve Officers Association, Navy Capt. Vincent A. Primerano, says "the miserable minority which is pulling against our country and waving Viet Cong flags" is beneath contempt.

"If there were any place to banish this sorry lot, the nation would be that much better off," he said in a weekend talk to the association's greater Atlanta chapter.

India Reports Hike In Tibetan Refugees

While 240 refugees crossed over to India in all of 1966, the number rose to 867 as of mid-November 1967, she said.

Since March 1959, more than 51,000 Tibetan refugees have crossed over to India and most of them have been rehabilitated, she said.

Hints from Heloise

—By Heloise Cruse—

DEAR HELOISE: We buy milk in glass gallon jugs with aluminum caps. We "open" the bottle by punching a hole in the cap with a pointed beer can opener! This makes a perfect controllable pouring hole.

Now even my children can pour the milk without a drip or overflowed glass.

ROSE DAVIS.

DEAR HELOISE: Clothes hampers never seem to come big enough to hold my five children's clothes along with mine and the bed linen.

I now have a five-shelved garment bag hanging beside my washer. Each child has a place to put his soiled clothing. The tallest has the top shelf, the next child has the second from the top; and so on down to the 2-year-old, who has the lowest shelf.

The children are more apt to put their soiled clothes on their own shelf. If they just must have the gym suit, certain shirt, or blouse, they know I can find it quickly without dumping out a hamper full of clothes.

It also saves me from carrying their clothes from the bath to my laundry room.

JANET CASTLE.

DEAR HELOISE: I too faced the frustration of cream souring in my vacuum of hot coffee until my wife discovered the following trick:

She pours the correct amount of cream into the vacuum first, then adds just a couple of tablespoons of hot coffee. Allows a few seconds for the coffee to warm the cream, then continues filling the vacuum bottle.

This has worked for us many years now and is equally applicable to pure cream or any of its substitutes.

HOWARD S. PYLE.

This has been a problem common to many who take coffee to work.

Others have written that they use room temperature cream or milk. If you forget to take it out of the refrigerator in time, you can warm it before adding to your coffee.

Of course, those who like to use powdered cream don't have this problem.

Some add a few spoons of cold water to the cream and then pour the hot coffee in. This works beautifully.

And my thank to all you wonderful readers who sent in your methods of how to prevent cream from souring in vacuum bottles.

Sharing problems makes it easier for all of us to learn, doesn't it?

HELOISE.

Dear Heloise: Our 9-year-old son is interested in the "easy way" and has been after me to pass along his suggestion for other boys whose mothers yell at them for having those awful grimy fingernails.

Before using the nail file, he scrapes his nail along a bar of wet soap and then washes his hands. The dirt is loosened and the result is cleaner nails.

SUZANNE RICK.

DEAR HELOISE: I think many of us are tired of having the suds from dishwashing detergents billow all over the sink as we fill up the dish pan.

The following suggestion will eliminate this problem.

First fill the dish pan almost to the top with water. Then in the last few seconds add the detergent.

GERRY.

DEAR HELOISE: Before spray-painting some furniture, we first set the furniture on a couple of newspapers in the yard.

To our surprise there was a lot of paint on the grass when we removed the paper.

But, after mowing the grass, the paint was all gone.

State Craftsmen Launch Program For Expansion

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's only statewide volunteer organization of craftsmen and artists, the Ohio Arts and Crafts Guild, is launching its own "community action" program to coordinate and expand its activities.

Miss Leone Boring of Canton, president of the Cambridge-based guild, which has 196 members, announced the new program following the February meeting of the board of trustees at the Zanesville Art Institute.

Mrs. R. E. Flagg of Zanesville heads the committee planning the group's sixth seasonal activities.

Other members designed to lead similar organizations in their own communities are Mrs. Vivian Williams, Coshocton; Mrs. Dan Lemasters, Akron area; Miss Harriet Morris, Circleville; Mrs. Charles Sawyer, Columbus - Worthington; Mrs. Kenneth Lodge, Cambridge.

The immediate project is participation in the second annual "Wonderful World of Ohio Mart" in Akron next October.

Ohio Couple Killed By Carbon Monoxide

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police said a suburban College Hill couple, whose bodies were found in their home Sunday, were victims of accidental carbon monoxide poisoning.

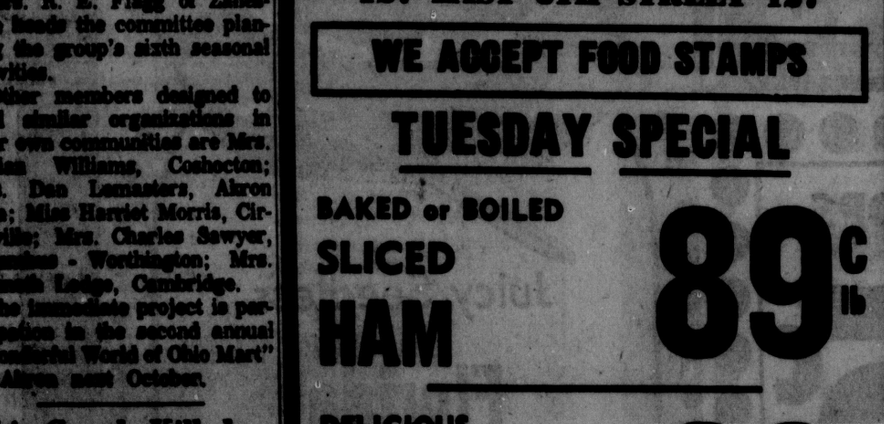

The bodies of Milton S. Bolinger, 59, and his wife Mary, 54, were discovered by their son Milton Jr., 22.

Officers said neighbors told them the elder Bolinger had been working on his car in the garage which is connected to the house. Bolinger was found in the garage, his wife in a bedroom. They had been dead for several hours, officers said.

It's "The best possible service at the lowest possible cost consistent with financial safety and fair treatment of employees."

Meaning: "Keep the service up and the cost down."

We can show it with our "low cost" sign: arm down, elbow bent, palm down parallel with the ground.

And we can prove it with a few startling facts: while the cost of most everything else has gone up, local telephone rates have not.

Not since 1959.

Yet the quality of telephone service has gone up steadily since then.

You can call more people without additional charge.

You can call them quicker.

You can hear them better (and they can hear you better.)

You can call long distance faster and cheaper than ever. (Just this past November long distance rates were reduced for the seventh time since 1959.)

So you see, we have been keeping the quality of service up and the cost down. That's our philosophy. Ohio Bell

Ohio Couple Killed By Carbon Monoxide

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police said a suburban College Hill couple, whose bodies were found in their home Sunday, were victims of accidental carbon monoxide poisoning.

The bodies of Milton S. Bolinger, 59, and his wife Mary, 54, were discovered by their son Milton Jr., 22.

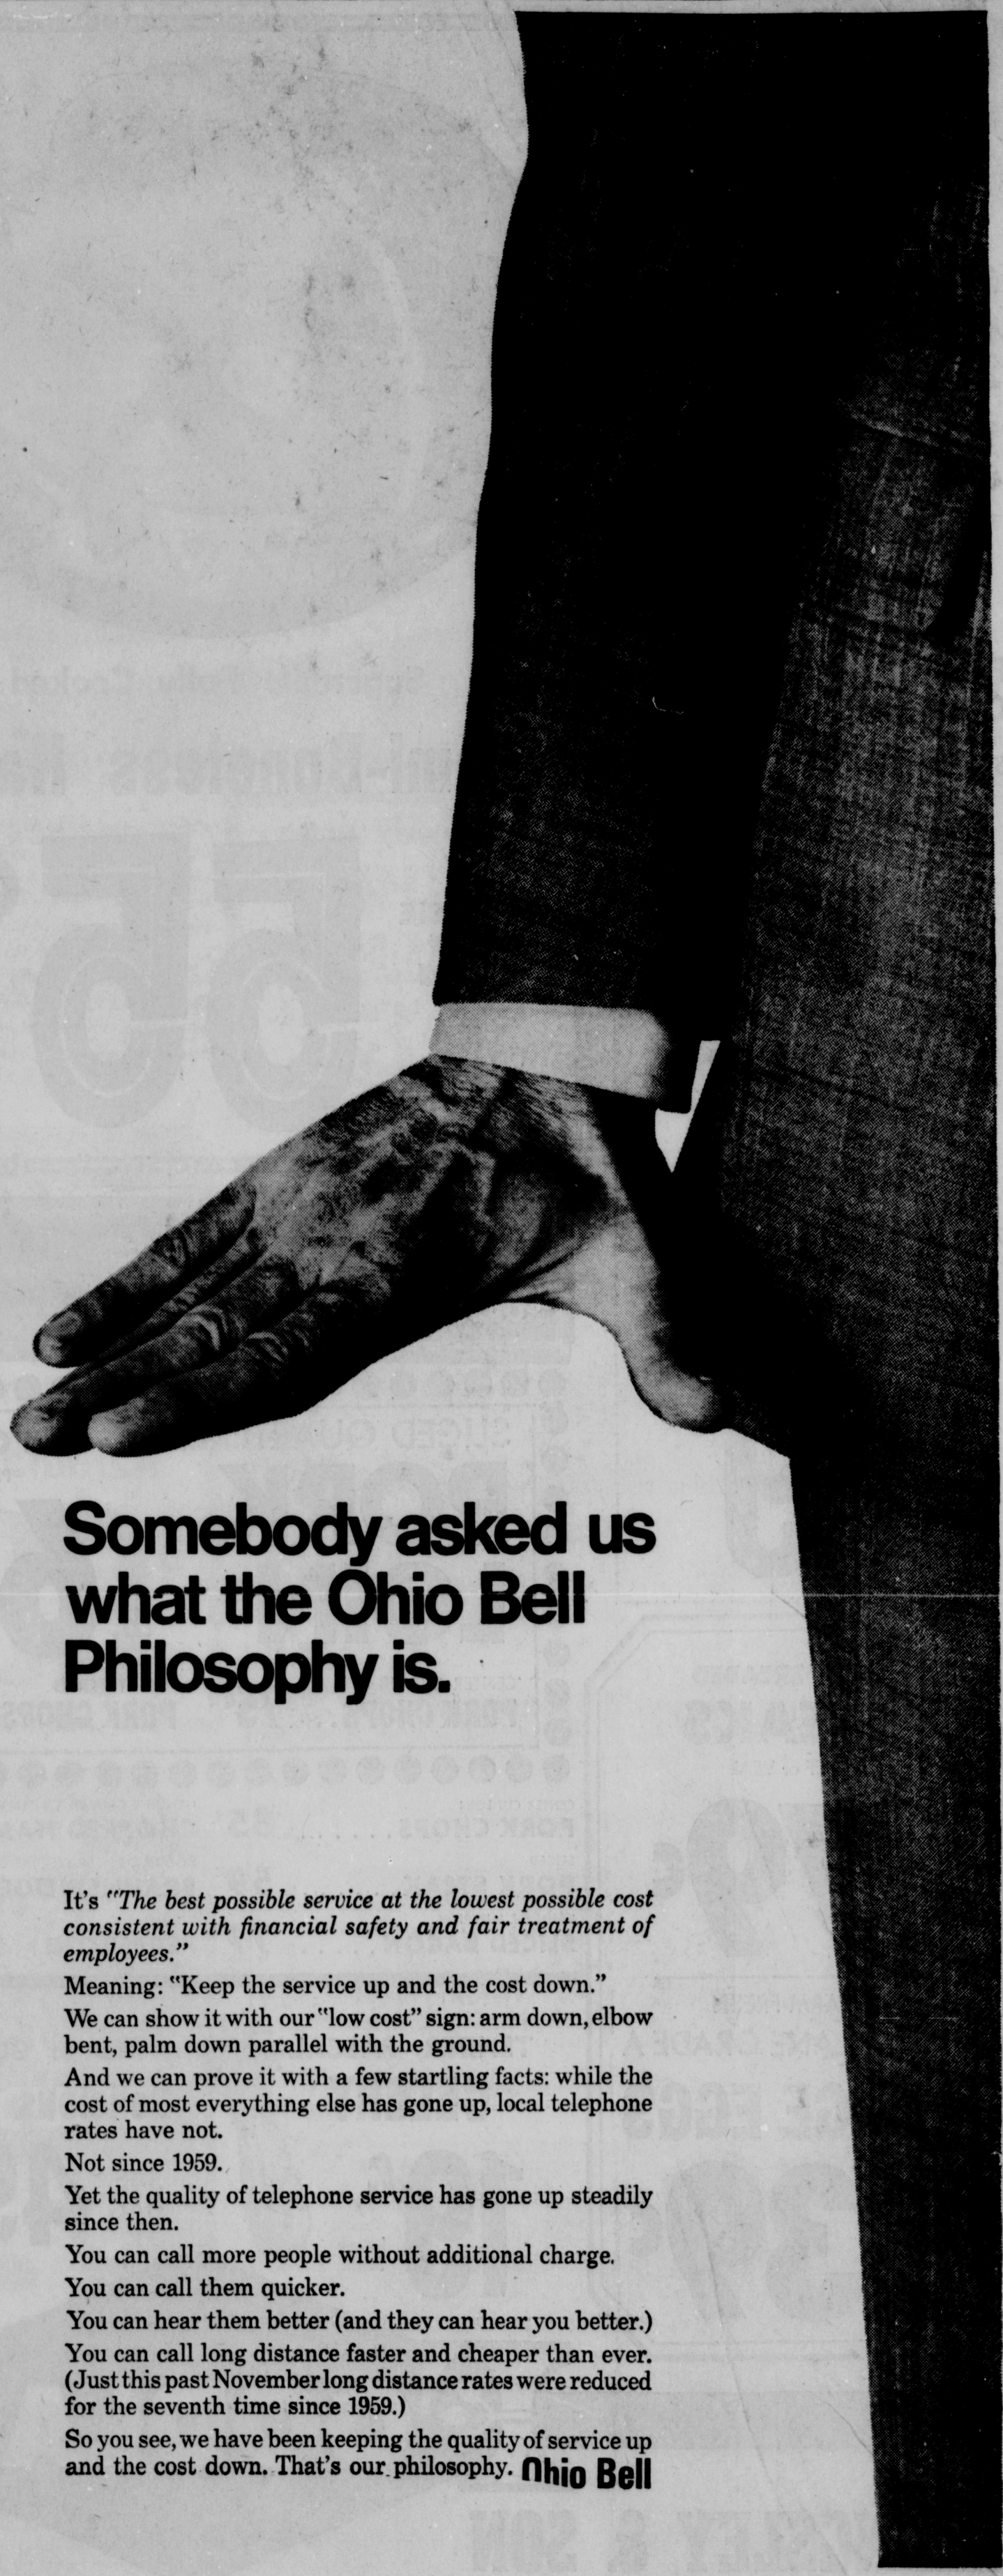

Officers said neighbors told them the elder Bolinger had been working on his car in the garage which is connected to the house. Bolinger was found in the garage, his wife in a bedroom. They had been dead for several hours, officers said.

It's "The best possible service at the lowest possible cost consistent with financial safety and fair treatment of employees."

Meaning: "Keep the service up and the cost down."

We can show it with our "low cost" sign: arm down, elbow bent, palm down parallel with the ground.

And we can prove it with a few startling facts: while the cost of most everything else has gone up, local telephone rates have not.

Not since 1959.

Yet the quality of telephone service has gone up steadily since then.

You can call more people without additional charge.

You can call them quicker.

You can hear them better (and they can hear you better.)

You can call long distance faster and cheaper than ever. (Just this past November long distance rates were reduced for the seventh time since 1959.)

So you see, we have been keeping the quality of service up and the cost down. That's our philosophy. Ohio Bell

Corak Move Overruled

Midland Officer 'Happy' At Suspension Reverse

Midland Patrolman Samuel Ratkovich today expressed his happiness at a Beaver County Court decision which overruled a 3-day suspension by Mayor Eli Corak in 1967 for conduct unbecoming an officer.

Judge James Rowley Friday sustained the appeal of the police officer against the ruling of the Midland Civil Service Commission which upheld the Mayor's suspension order.

Patrolman Ratkovich expressed his appreciation for a "fair and impartial" ruling, and said, "I am satisfied and happy with the decision." The judge ordered him re-instated and any wages withheld be paid by the borough.

Mayor Corak, who is also a Beaver County commissioner, ordered the suspension Jan. 25, 1967, on grounds Ratkovich had accused the Mayor of favoritism, argued with the mayor over police department operations, refused to return to duty when directed and disobeyed a standing order.

The officer met the Mayor outside his apartment Jan. 25, and the exchange followed, according to testimony.

Judge Rowley pointed out that only the two men were present, and the charge that the conduct was unbecoming an officer requires that the conduct affects the morale or efficiency of the police department or tends to lower public respect.

The judge said the conversation did not in his opinion meet these tests — "What occurred was purely a private matter between the two men."

The judge also stated Ratkovich did not directly disobey a standing order by the mayor that police officers first present to a Council committee problems concerning the department.

The judge said testimony by other officers indicated the order issued in March 1966 had not been uniformly enforced.

Ratkovich said today he fought the suspension because he "didn't feel the charge proper." He also expressed appreciation to fellow officers who testified at the hearing.

Mayor Corak this morning pointed out there can be no appeal filed by the Civil Service Commission. "If one were permissible, we would file.

"In my opinion the decision rendered by Judge Rowley condones subordination. I'm the chairman who participated in a strong campaign to oust the then politically appointed Judge Rowley. Members of the Ratkovich family worked diligently for Judge Rowley. Draw your own conclusions."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The 984-foot Eiffel Tower, erected as the temporary showpiece for the Paris Exposition in 1889, required 2.5 million rivets, 18,036 steel sections and $1.56 million. Some said it was the ugliest thing they had ever seen, but the public patronized the sensational ride to the spire's summit in such numbers that the tower's cost was repaid in two years.

Merchandise Stolen From Local Mailbox

Mrs. Cecelia Flesch, resident of an apartment at 610 Dresden Ave., told police Saturday afternoon a plastic light switch cover valued at $1 was stolen from the mailbox at her home Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Flesch told officers the thief tore the end off a letter in her mailbox and removed the switch cover, which she had ordered by mail. Another woman who resides at the same address reported two Valentines placed in her mailbox had been torn open, Mrs. Flesch added.

Meanwhile, Edward Spencer of Steubenville, manager of the H. R. Block Co. tax office at 319 Market St., told police Saturday afternoon the lock on the front door of the building was jammed in an unsuccessful attempt to gain entry Friday night or early Saturday.

How To Clean Velvet Garments

FABRIC FACTS . . . The beauty of velvet (transparent, lyons, chiffon) is its soft pile. The soft pile is achieved by cut yarns (pile) protruding from the fabric base (back). Velvet is susceptible to pile flattening or matting. Many velvets are now treated with chemical substances such as resins, to give both, the fabric and the pile, resistance to creasing, wrinkling, matting, crushing and staining. Velvet is used for women's suits, coats, dresses, accessories and trimmings.

FABRIC PROBLEMS . . . In normal wear, the hazards to all velvets are (1) Mechanical action such as RUBBING and ABRASION and (2) WETTING such as rain staining and liquid spillage. WHEN ACETATE IS THE PILE FIBER IN VELVET, THE PILE CANNOT BE RESTORED ONCE IT IS MATTED. Resin finishes in manufacture, must be applied at the correct temperature and for the correct length of time, otherwise the resin will break down. Improperly set resin finishes (1) Offer no resistance to matting or crushing (2) Give off an OFFENSIVE CHEMICAL ODOR (3) Result in RINGS AND SWALES in the fabric which cannot be corrected (4) Degrades fabric due to the reaction of resins with the fiber.

SUMMARY . . . Resin treated velvet ranges from unserviceable to limited serviceability. When the resin finish is improperly set, the fabric is susceptible to pile matting, malodor, fabric degradation and rings and swales. Even properly treated velvet requires special handling. The difficulties are due to the hazard of pile disturbance, whether caused by normal wear, liquid and rain staining or from the cleaning procedure. Acetate pile velvet is unserviceable. Acetate pile mats when wet and matting cannot be corrected.

Awning Can Give Outdoor Privacy

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeature Writer

Get a jump on spring by planning such a pied-a-terre around your home where you can lounge, dine, play games without being a cause celebre in the neighborhood if you choose to wear a grass skirt or engage in a family squabble.

Though we live in an outdoor age, many people will stay cooped up except for occasional trips to their little backyard to tend a garden or to hang up wash. When they want air, they go for a walk. They think of patios as something for the rich, requiring lots of land.

IF ONE has a small lot, one must work with the number of feet one can corral for such an enterprise. It might cost a little more than you anticipate when you entertain the idea, but think of the investment in fun.

For example, say your backyard is 20 by 10. It has been a straggly garden. Divide it so that only a small strip remains as a garden (and it should be a better garden, limiting the effort required of it.) Three-fourths, or whatever you apportion, will be your happy hangout in good weather.

You should plan the "hut" so that it faces the garden, and at the same time screens you from view. You should be facing the least populated section of your community, but even so, a fence along the garden side should give you added privacy.

The other side of your hut will be screened. A do-it-yourselfer can figure out a three-sided enclosure that will serve this purpose, perhaps with one of the see-through plastic roofs. But if you don't want to make such a unit permanent, an awning - like arrangement is best.

IF IT IS a little distance from the house, think of it as the kind of awning arrangement churches erect for weddings. Sides and top covered with canvas draped from stanchions, side flaps that may be used up or down.

A far better arrangement—and one that is used by people in large cities who have garden apartments—is to have an awning extend the length of the house at the back door where you can have a convenient patio. Side flaps on the awning provide privacy. The space will look very small until you take and over for this purpose and begin to plan it.

If you have a nice big tree on a little bit more land, you may consider planning a patio around it with gravel, chips or bricks, leaving breathing space for the tree.

Isolate yourself from viewers with canvas screens that may be used in sections for semi-circles or complete circles, to screen out sun, wind or whatever. Make them out of lengths of canvas that will provide the height you need. Insert sturdy reeds, light metal rods or plastic material every few feet through pleats in the canvas.

THE RODS should be long enough (at least a foot) below the canvas so that they can be pushed into the ground around your happy tree. (the rod should fit into the canvas very tight when it is inserted.)

There are all sorts of niches where you can build such a happy hour spot once you realize that it doesn't require much space.

Measure available outdoor space, sketching the area. Figure a spot off the beaten path. Decide how it should be screened from view wholly, partially, temporarily or whatever. If you plan to use an awning, get a price from a fabricator. If it is more than you can afford, perhaps you'll go to another weatherproof material. Weigh the investment in terms of its return.

PLAN HA537P LOOKS LIKE A RANCH but actually is one and a half story, with emphasis on total family living and children. The fourth and fifth bedrooms, on the second floor, can be completed at a future date if not needed immediately. The control center of this house is the kitchen. Around it are a cathedral-ceiling family room, dinette, laundry and lavatory — situated so that children coming in from outside don't have to go through the formal part of the house. Another desirable feature of HA537P is the abundance of storage space. There are 2,006 square feet on the first floor and 673 square feet on the second floor, as planned by architect Samuel Paul, 88-30 161 St., Jamaica, N.Y.

Lumber, Pipe Can Join For Dining Table

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

You can make the table as wide and as long as you want, depending on where it is to be placed and the number of persons you expect to serve on most occasions.

And you can use any kind of wood you want, depending on whether it is to be painted or given a clear finish and whether it is to be displayed as is or whether the top will be continuously hidden with a tablecloth or other covering.

If you decide on a hardwood top, remember that it is more difficult to cut and work with than softwood. But this need not deter you if it's hardwood you want, since you can get the wood cut to the exact size at a lumberyard.

The top is made of six pieces of 2-inch lumber, each 8 feet long and 8 inches wide.

Allowing for the fact that the natural width of the lumber is slightly less than the nominal dimensions, this will give you a top about 96 inches long and 45 inches wide, a most sizable dining table indeed. It can, of course, be made as narrow or as short as desired.

Purchase four pieces of three-fourths-inch pipe, each threaded on one end, from a hardware store, lumber dealer or plumbing supply house. At the same time, buy four pipe flanges of the proper size. The pipe legs go into these flanges after they and the top have been finished as desired.

If the legs are to be painted, use a rust inhibitor as an undercoat or use one of the special paints which contain a rust preventive. For a clear finish a metal lacquer is suggested following a vigorous polishing of the pipe with steel wool or an abrasive cloth.

There are a number of variations to the procedure for the construction of this table. But the one described is the easiest for the amateur.

One alternative you might want to consider, providing you purchase the pipe legs and flanges from a plumber or someone with the proper plumbing tools, is to have the legs permanently attached to the flanges.

This will insure connections that will not come loose no matter how often or how roughly the table is handled. A slight disadvantage is that the legs cannot be removed easily if you have need to do so.

Where there is any possibility that the bottoms of the pipe legs might damage flooring materials, use special leg attachments or floor guards.

Here Are Concrete Facts About A Proper Mixture

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

If you're planning on working with concrete this spring or summer, clip this article and save it.

The certain way to make a concrete mixture that will be weak and porous when it hardens is to use more water than is absolutely necessary. Using excessive water is a common error because a mixture of this kind seems more workable than one with less water.

Concrete should be put into position immediately after it has been mixed. A delay of even 30 minutes can effect the strength of the finished job.

Using a wood float on the concrete produces a rough surface. A steel trowel results in a smooth finish.

In grading to assure that rain water runs in the proper direction, don't rely on your eyes to get the proper slope. Always use a level.

The "curing" of concrete is one of the most important steps. This consists of keeping it wet for several days after it has been put into place, preventing premature drying.

Cover the concrete with burlap or similar material as soon as it begins to set, then keep the covering wet. An alternative is to sprinkle the concrete three or four times a day with a garden hose.

Oil paints don't work well on cement surfaces. Use a latex masonry paint or portland cement paint.

To get textured or unusual concrete surfaces, use such implements as a broom, brush, piece of pipe, cookie cutter, tin can or anything else your imagination can dream up.

The impressions are made, of course, while the mixture is drying. In most cases, it is better to wait until the concrete has just begun to set.

One home owner created an intriguing design by imbedding tree leaves in the wet concrete around the edges of a patio floor, then removing them as the mixture started to set.

You can buy concrete already mixed and requiring only the addition of water; you can purchase the ingredients and mix them yourself; you can rent an electric mixer; or for very large jobs, you can buy ready-to-pour concrete which will be delivered in a truck.

If you purchase the ingredients to mix, tell the dealer what the concrete is to be used for and he will advise you of the proper proportions.

The world's first magnets were stones discovered in an ancient country of Asia Minor, called Magnesia. The terms magnet and magnetism come from Magnesia. The stones were a type of iron ore called magnetite.

Is Your Cellar Clean?

By VIVIAN BROWN

It's an attitude that makes cleaning the cellar less of a chore. And the dream can come true, even in a small way. One man found $104 stashed away in a cookie jar.

There are few old houses that aren't burdened by an accumulation of stored items.

And — if you don't find anything of real value, there's always the satisfaction that a clean cellar can provide.

A CELLAR can be a health hazard, breeding germs, bacteria spores. Many women go through such cellars every day to do laujdry, remove foods from a freezer. They are repulsed by it, but they don't do anything about it as they gather cobwebs in their hair and drag floor dirt upstairs on their shoes.

Plan the cleaning program by buying a mask and cotton and gauze filters at the hardware store. You insert the filter, fitting it to your nose and around your mouth, tightening the strap to your head.

Put on long pants, long-sleeved blouse or shirt, a washable cloth around your head, pinning it tight. Wear work gloves or other long washable gloves. Put cotton in your ears.

The first cellar cleaning should be with the vacuum. You'll need it to remove cobwebs, dirt in corners and to clean items that will be saved.

FIRST, sort everything into (a) junk (b) useful give-aways (c) tag sale items (d) holds.

When you've discarded junk —old fuses, flashlight batteries, children's games, old bottles, jelly jars and perhaps an old water tank (which will require brawny arms for removal) you'll have made a big dent. Sort out the give-aways: bags of outgrown galoshes, snow suits, bathing suits.

You may be tempted to throw away the Boy Scout coffee pot, record player, records, hobby horse, toy chest, carpet sweeper, seldom-used pressure cooker, old wallpaper, trunks and old books.

For example, one man made over $200 on such items as old garden tools, flower vases, unused rug, pudding pans, salad bowls and so on. He was prepared to pay a junk man to dispose of it.

WHEN you've sorted, discarded, tagged sale items, the remaining items can be vacuum brushed or wiped with a cloth and replaced on shelves or floor. They will be a lot more useful now that you can get to them.

Mop or hose the cellar, if possible. But this phase of the project can be delayed until warmer weather.

A good arranger may carry this cleanup idea to the ultimate step — putting winter stash aways — ice skates, sleds, skis and so on in one area, and summer paraphernalia — tennis rackets, golf clubs, water skis, boat oars and so on in another.

If there is an old coal bin, clean it out. It can provide good storage space for precious articles if you decide to rent the house sometime when you are on vacation.

Do You Have Extinguisher To Halt Fire?

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

About 95 per cent of all house fires start in a small way. The best of authorities say the first few minutes after the origin of the fire decide whether it is to be a conflagration.

And, strange as it may seem, only about one out of every eight homes in this country has a fire extinguisher of any kind.

Actually, you could start at one end of the street you live on, stopping at every house and asking if they had a fire extinguisher, and you would be met with a blank stare of amazement from seven out of eight owners. All of this in spite of the best efforts of bureaus such as the National Fire Prevention and the Fire Underwriters.

Fire extinguishers are not expensive items, and they have been developed and improved tremendously in the last several years. One of the best and most efficient types I have seen is a neat chrome - plated cylinder, resting in a wall bracket from which it can be lifted with one hand and which contains a liquid under pressure.

By pressing on the flat button on the top of the cylinder, a strong jet of fire - quenching solution is ejected for a distance of more than 12 feet — far enough to enable you to stand well away from the fire to be put out. This is a great improvement over the powder types which had to be thrown on a fire and an improvement over the types which had to be pumped out.

Every home should be equipped with at least three extinguishers. One in the kitchen, one in the heater or furnace room and one in the hall leading to the bedrooms. Another in the garage would be advisable.

Tips Are Offered On Modernizing Your Sun Porch

One of the most important points to consider when redecorating a sun porch is easy maintenance, since the area will receive hard wear.

To create a handsome woodgrain decor that can be washed, install plastic - finish planks right over the old wall surfaces. Highly - resistant to heat and moisture, the planks have a baked plastic finish that can be damp - wiped clean.

Easy to handle, the planks are usually secured with wallboard adhesive and simple metal clips. The planks usually have tongue - and - groove edges to simplify fitting.

This informal woodgrain decor is extremely versatile, and many types of furnishings will blend well with the theme. Early American furnishings are particularly effective.

If a new ceiling is to be installed, plastic - finish material comes in 16-inch square blocks that can be put up quickly with adhesive.

Proper Firm Important In Remodeling

When modernizing, make sure that the company you choose is a local, established firm — one that has been around long enough to know its business well.

Be sure your modernizer will be around to take care of any repairs that may be called for after the job is done. Generally speaking, it is a good idea to work with a firm that is willing to take full responsibility for the complete project under one contract — providing all necessary materials and labor at a fixed price.

This may be a home improvement contractor, a lumber or building materials dealer, a home builder, or a general contractor. Whatever the label, whatever his classification he is your home modernizer when you sign a contract calling for him to add a room to your house.

Then, with your help and suggestions, he prepares an exact plan tailored to your needs. He obtains the building permits that are needed in almost all add-a-room jobs. He arranges for financing under terms that fit your financial circumstances. He provides expert supervision of carpenters and other workmen while the job is in progress.

Awning Can Give Outdoor Privacy

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeature Writer

Get a jump on spring by planning such a pied-a-terre around your home where you can lounge, dine, play games without being a cause celebre in the neighborhood if you choose to wear a grass skirt or engage in a family squabble.

Though we live in an outdoor age, many people will stay cooped up except for occasional trips to their little backyard to tend a garden or to hang up wash. When they want air, they go for a walk. They think of patios as something for the rich, requiring lots of land.

IF ONE has a small lot, one must work with the number of feet one can corral for such an enterprise. It might cost a little more than you anticipate when you entertain the idea, but think of the investment in fun.

For example, say your backyard is 20 by 10. It has been a straggly garden. Divide it so that only a small strip remains as a garden (and it should be a better garden, limiting the effort required of it.) Three-fourths, or whatever you apportion, will be your happy hangout in good weather.

You should plan the "hut" so that it faces the garden, and at the same time screens you from view. You should be facing the least populated section of your community, but even so, a fence along the garden side should give you added privacy.

The other side of your hut will be screened. A do-it-yourselfer can figure out a three-sided enclosure that will serve this purpose, perhaps with one of the see-through plastic roofs. But if you don't want to make such a unit permanent, an awning - like arrangement is best.

IF IT IS a little distance from the house, think of it as the kind of awning arrangement churches erect for weddings. Sides and top covered with canvas draped from stanchions, side flaps that may be used up or down.

A far better arrangement—and one that is used by people in large cities who have garden apartments—is to have an awning extend the length of the house at the back door where you can have a convenient patio. Side flaps on the awning provide privacy. The space will look very small until you take and over for this purpose and begin to plan it.

If you have a nice big tree on a little bit more land, you may consider planning a patio around it with gravel, chips or bricks, leaving breathing space for the tree.

Isolate yourself from viewers with canvas screens that may be used in sections for semi-circles or complete circles, to screen out sun, wind or whatever. Make them out of lengths of canvas that will provide the height you need. Insert sturdy reeds, light metal rods or plastic material every few feet through pleats in the canvas.

THE RODS should be long enough (at least a foot) below the canvas so that they can be pushed into the ground around your happy tree. (the rod should fit into the canvas very tight when it is inserted.)

There are all sorts of niches where you can build such a happy hour spot once you realize that it doesn't require much space.

Measure available outdoor space, sketching the area. Figure a spot off the beaten path. Decide how it should be screened from view wholly, partially, temporarily or whatever. If you plan to use an awning, get a price from a fabricator. If it is more than you can afford, perhaps you'll go to another weatherproof material. Weigh the investment in terms of its return.

PLAN HA537P LOOKS LIKE A RANCH but actually is one and a half story, with emphasis on total family living and children. The fourth and fifth bedrooms, on the second floor, can be completed at a future date if not needed immediately. The control center of this house is the kitchen. Around it are a cathedral-ceiling family room, dinette, laundry and lavatory — situated so that children coming in from outside don't have to go through the formal part of the house. Another desirable feature of HA537P is the abundance of storage space. There are 2,006 square feet on the first floor and 673 square feet on the second floor, as planned by architect Samuel Paul, 89-30 161 St., Jamaica, N.Y.

Lumber, Pipe Can Join For Dining Table

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

You can make the table as wide and as long as you want, depending on where it is to be placed and the number of persons you expect to serve on most occasions.

And you can use any kind of wood you want, depending on whether it is to be painted or given a clear finish and whether it is to be displayed as is or whether the top will be continuously hidden with a tablecloth or other covering.

If you decide on a hardwood top, remember that it is more difficult to cut and work with than softwood. But this need not deter you if it's hardwood you want, since you can get the wood cut to the exact size at a lumberyard.

The top is made of six pieces of 2-inch lumber, each 8 feet long and 8 inches wide.

Allowing for the fact that the natural width of the lumber is slightly less than the nominal dimensions, this will give you a top about 96 inches long and 45 inches wide, a most sizable dining table indeed. It can, of course, be made as narrow or as short as desired.

Purchase four pieces of three-fourths-inch pipe, each threaded on one end, from a hardware store, lumber dealer or plumbing supply house. At the same time, buy four pipe flanges of the proper size. The pipe legs go into these flanges after they and the top have been finished as desired.

If the legs are to be painted, use a rust inhibitor as an undercoat or use one of the special paints which contain a rust preventive. For a clear finish a metal lacquer is suggested following a vigorous polishing of the pipe with steel wool or an abrasive cloth.

There are a number of variations to the procedure for the construction of this table. But the one described is the easiest for the amateur.

One alternative you might want to consider, providing you purchase the pipe legs and flanges from a plumber or someone with the proper plumbing tools, is to have the legs permanently attached to the flanges.

This will insure connections that will not come loose no matter how often or how roughly the table is handled. A slight disadvantage is that the legs cannot be removed easily if you have need to do so.

Where there is any possibility that the bottoms of the pipe legs might damage flooring materials, use special leg attachments or floor guards.

Here Are Concrete Facts About A Proper Mixture

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

If you're planning on working with concrete this spring or summer, clip this article and save it.

The certain way to make a concrete mixture that will be weak and porous when it hardens is to use more water than is absolutely necessary. Using excessive water is a common error because a mixture of this kind seems more workable than one with less water.

Concrete should be put into position immediately after it has been mixed. A delay of even 30 minutes can effect the strength of the finished job.

Using a wood float on the concrete produces a rough surface. A steel trowel results in a smooth finish.

In grading to assure that rain water runs in the proper direction, don't rely on your eyes to get the proper slope. Always use a level.

The "curing" of concrete is one of the most important steps. This consists of keeping it wet for several days after it has been put into place, preventing premature drying.

Cover the concrete with burlap or similar material as soon as it begins to set, then keep the covering wet. An alternative is to sprinkle the concrete three or four times a day with a garden hose.

Oil paints don't work well on cement surfaces. Use a latex masonry paint or portland cement paint.

To get textured or unusual concrete surfaces, use such implements as a broom, brush, piece of pipe, cookie cutter, tin can or anything else your imagination can dream up.

The impressions are made, of course, while the mixture is drying. In most cases, it is better to wait until the concrete has just begun to set.

One home owner created an intriguing design by imbedding tree leaves in the wet concrete around the edges of a patio floor, then removing them as the mixture started to set.

You can buy concrete already mixed and requiring only the addition of water; you can purchase the ingredients and mix them yourself; you can rent an electric mixer; or for very large jobs, you can buy ready-to-pour concrete which will be delivered in a truck.

If you purchase the ingredients to mix, tell the dealer what the concrete is to be used for and he will advise you of the proper proportions.

Is Your Cellar Clean?

By VIVIAN BROWN

It's an attitude that makes cleaning the cellar less of a chore. And the dream can come true, even in a small way. One man found $104 stashed away in a cookie jar.

There are few old houses that aren't burdened by an accumulation of stored items.

And — if you don't find anything of real value, there's always the satisfaction that a clean cellar can provide.

A CELLAR can be a health hazard, breeding germs, bacteria spores. Many women go through such cellars every day to do laundry, remove foods from a freezer. They are repulsed by it, but they don't do anything about it as they gather cobwebs in their hair and drag floor dirt upstairs on their shoes.

Plan the cleaning program by buying a mask and cotton and gauze filters at the hardware store. You insert the filter, fitting it to your nose and around your mouth, tightening the strap to your head.

Put on long pants, long-sleeved blouse or shirt, a washable cloth around your head, pinning it tight. Wear work gloves or other long washable gloves. Put cotton in your ears.

The first cellar cleaning should be with the vacuum. You'll need it to remove cobwebs, dirt in corners and to clean items that will be saved.

FIRST, sort everything into (a) junk (b) useful give-aways (c) tag sale items (d) holds.

When you've discarded junk —old fuses, flashlight batteries, children's games, old bottles, jelly jars and perhaps an old water tank (which will require brawny arms for removal) you'll have made a big dent. Sort out the give-aways: bags of outgrown galoshes, snow suits, bathing suits.

Meeting Set By Hardware Group In Ohio

COLUMBUS — More than 10,000 retailers and buyers are expected for the three - day show and convention here Feb. 25, 26 and 27, Chester Kendall of West Union, president of the Ohio Hardware Association, has announced.

The 1968 Mid-America Hardware - Housewares, Lawn and Garden Show, held in conjunction with the meeting, will have more than 350 of the nation's leading manufacturers and suppliers serving the industry exhibiting the newest products at the Lausche Building on the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

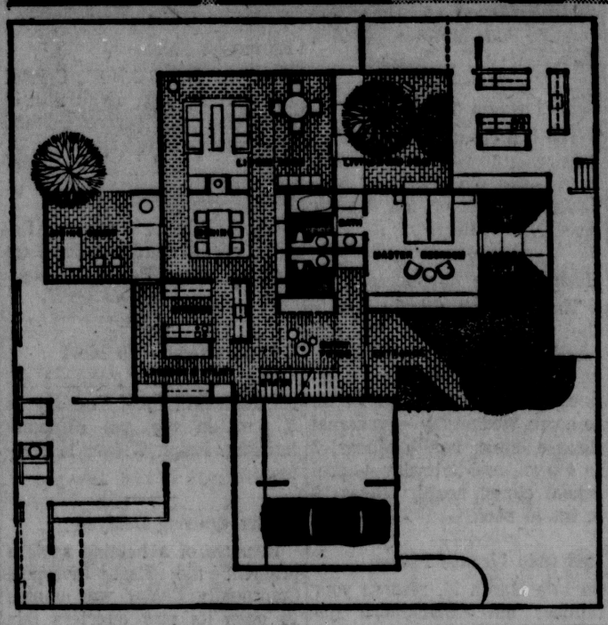

On Feb. 25, John Morley of Laguna Hills, Calif., internationally - known war correspondent just returned from Vietnam, will address members of the association and their wives at the opening industry dinner in the Sheraton Hotel on "I Saw Today's Headline World." Kendall will deliver his president's message at this meeting.

On Feb. 26, convention sessions will be held at the Ohio Youth Center on the fairgrounds.

Speakers at the breakfast session will include Daniel V. Love of Huntington, W.Va., president of the National Retail Hardware Association, and W. Heartsill Wilson, sales training authority from Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich.

On Feb. 27, the convention session again will open with an industry breakfast at the Ohio Youth Center, to be addressed by Dr. Herbert True, sales training expert from South Bend, Ind.

'LIVE-IN '68'

is the name of an open-plan, two-story modern dwelling with an upside down roof. The four-bedroom, two-and-a-half-bath house will be a feature of the 25th anniversary Cleveland Home and Flower Show and will be built inside the city's Public Auditorium. The show, which runs March 2-10, has been named the largest combined exposition of its type in the United States, according to the National Association of Exposition Managers. Architect James G. Herman designed "LIVE-IN '68" to stand by itself or as part of a condominium cluster community, above. Plan, left, shows layout of the first floor. In addition, there are children's bedrooms, playroom and bath on the second floor. An intricately detailed scale model of 80 such homes will be exhibited, depicting part of a residential community possibility for the future.

Steel Marks Peak Output

CLEVELAND (AP) — Order volume is 10 to 50 per cent above a month ago, and steel production — rising for five straight weeks—moved to another record peak last week, Steel Magazine said today.

Estimated output of raw steel last week was 2.87 million net tons, the weekly journal of metalworking reported, exceeding the preceding week's record of 2,857,000 tons by a half per cent.

A substantial portion of the orders now being booked call for delivery in April or later, Steel said, and this has helped hold down pressure. But the impact of the increased volume has been noticeable particularly in sheets and strip, Steed added.

"Products currently in active demand include tin plate, reinforcing bars, heavy and wide plates, quality carbon and alloy bars, and cold rolled and galvanized sheets," the magazine added.

"Most active takers of steel are service centers, can makers, and road builders," Steel said. "But the road builders forecast a downturn in future demand because of the cutback in the federal highway program."

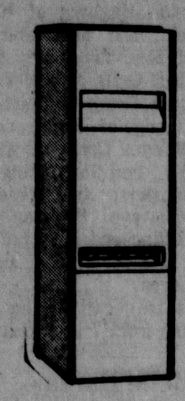

A seasonal revival in construction and agricultural industries soon will give steel demand an upward nudge, the magazine said.

The chairman of Republic Steel Corp., Thomas F. Patton, predicts customers will store a two-to-three month supply of steel before the strike deadline July 31.

Steel's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting steelmaking scrap dropped 33 cents last week to $32 a gross ton.

New Opening To Your Attic Takes Care

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We recently bought a 12-year-old house. There is a trap door leading to the attic, but it is inconveniently located in the ceiling of a bedroom closet.

Besides, it is so small that only a child or a very skinny adult could possibly fit through it.

By standing on a chair, I have been able to look into the opening. There's plenty of good storage space there we could use. Would it be possible to make an opening into the attic at some other place in the house? I don't want to build a full stairs to it, but would like to have one of those ladders that folds away when it is not in use.

ANSWER: It certainly is possible to make another and more accessible entry to the attic, with a folding ladder to get to the opening.

It involves cutting out a part of the ceiling and a section of at least one rafter. This would have to be done only after a careful examination of the attic through the present opening. But it is a job that should be done by a professional—unless you are an expert amateur carpenter.

QUESTION: I plan to build a workbench in my basement. Is there any particular kind of wood I should use?

—:—

ANSWER: Good workbenches usually are made of one of the hardwoods, such as maple, oak or birch. However, you can use three-quarter-inch plywood for the top, attaching to it a sheet of one - quarter - inch tempered hardboard.

—:—

QUESTION: We have just had cork tiles installed on our living room floor. Can you tell us something about the maintenance of it?

ANSWER: Since the tiles apparently were installed professionally, you should have received some literature or instructions about their maintenance. If you can still get them, do so.

Generally, the unsealed, unwaxed type of cork tile should be given two coats of sealer, then waxed, being certain that the wax is suitable for cork. The kind of tile that is sealed at the factory requires only a light waxing, with a buffing if a high gloss is desired.

Young Thief Swims Icy River To Escape

The youth evaded a policeman and made a dash for the ice-rimmed Kennebec River. He plunged in and swam 150 yards through frigid water and escaped, police reported.

Acrylic Enamel Can Be Used In Care Of Windows

Question: As soon as the weather permits, I intend to paint and otherwise take care of the windows around my house, both inside and out.

A friend of mine has recommended acrylic enamel because, he says, no thinner is required and everything, especially the brushes, can be cleaned up later with soap and water instead of a solvent.

He also suggests that I use acrylic caulking compound around the window frames. Should I follow his suggestions? Is what he says about acrylic enamel and caulk correct? I want to be sure I do everything right.

ANSWER: You can safely proceed with the products recommended by your friend. Because they have a water base, acrylic paints need no solvents, are virtually odorfree and dry quickly. And your hands and the brushes can be cleaned easily with soap and water, as your friend told you.

Acrylic caulk, which also has a water base, has a low shrinkage rate and remains flexible under its tough outer skin, a necessary quality of caulking materials to take care of window frame shrinkage and expansion.

QUESTION: We have an old, varnished bureau that I would like to paint. Can the paint be put on right over the varnish? And must I use any special kind of paint?

ANSWER: You can apply any kind of paint over varnish. The important thing is that the surface be prepared properly. This means removing any gloss that still remains, either by using sandpaper of steel wool and then wiping off any grit and leveling any irregularities.

If the varnish is dark in color, either because of age or because there is a stain underneath it, you may find that at least two coats of paint are necessary to cover properly, especially if a light color is being used.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Franz Joseph Haydn (1732-1809), Austrian composer favored by the patronage of the artisocratic Esterhazy family for 30 years, was encouraged to produce a continuous flow of works in every known musical form, including 24 operas, 31 concertos, 76 quartets and 104 symphonies, the largest number of symphonies of any major composer. Haydn was a friend of Mozart and a teacher of Beethoven.

When Winter Fades Out, It's House Checkup Time

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of these days spring will return. And when it does it will be time to assess the damage winter did to your house and property.

Some of this damage may not be readily apparent. If not tended to as soon as possible the damage, however minor, can turn into something major later on.

The best way to be certain of detecting all trouble quickly is to give your house a systematic check from top to bottom. Ice, snow, excessive moisture, high winds, freezing temperatures will all have taken their toll to some extent.

TAKE A look at the roof. Even from ground level you will be able to see if shingles have been torn loose or damaged. If weather permits, by all means give the roof a closer look from a ladder.

A dab of roof coating under a loose shingle will hold it in place. In severe cases, nail down a curled up shingle and put a bit of coating over the nail head to prevent rusting.

You may note damaged areas in the flashing, the metal covering around the chimney or in the valleys where roofs come together. Slight damage can be corrected with roof coating. Severe damage may call for replacement by a qualified roofer.

Next, check the gutters. Ice and snow may have caused them to sag. Renail hangers so that the gutter has a slight consistent pitch toward the downspout.

Examine outside walls of your home. If paint is peeling, scrape off the loose paint and touch up with exterior grade paint. Look for loose, missing or defective calking in corners where walls come together, around windows and door frames. Clean out old material and recalk.

EXAMINE windows. Putty may need replacing. Scrape out remnants of old and replace with glazing compound. Do this before heavy spring rains hit.

Examine all masonry very carefully — foundation, mortar in brickwork, chimney, brick or stone steps, concrete walks and drives.

Cracks that were hairline affairs last fall may be far larger by now due to alternate freezing and thawing during the winter. Dig out crumbling mortar and replace with fresh. Use a ready mix.

Cracks in concrete must be cleaned out and enlarged enough to hold fresh material. Dig out the opening so that it is wider at the bottom than at the top. Use a ready - mix concrete patch to which you only need add water. Mix what you can use immediately and fill the openings after first wetting down. Keep damp until patch is thoroughly hardened.

Take a look around your property. Fence posts may have loosened or rotted. Dead limbs on trees may be weak and ready to fall. In the latter case, call in a tree expert for high and large limbs.

He Didn't Mind $40, It Was Votes He Lost

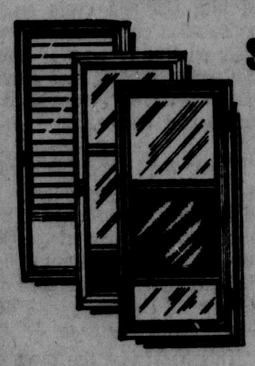

BALTIMORE (AP) — Lou Panos, Baltimore Evening Sun columnist, said it happened at a Real Estate Board luncheon.

An elected official was moaning to other guests about the death of eight of his constituents within one week.

"I didn't mind so much the $40 it cost me for flowers," he said. "What really hurt was I lost eight votes."

Meeting Set By Hardware Group In Ohio

COLUMBUS — More than 10,000 retailers and buyers are expected for the three - day show and convention here Feb. 25, 26 and 27, Chester Kendall of West Union, president of the Ohio Hardware Association, has announced.

The 1968 Mid America Hardware - Housewares, Lawn and Garden Show, held in conjunction with the meeting, will have more than 350 of the nation's leading manufacturers and suppliers serving the industry exhibiting the newest products at the Lausche Building on the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

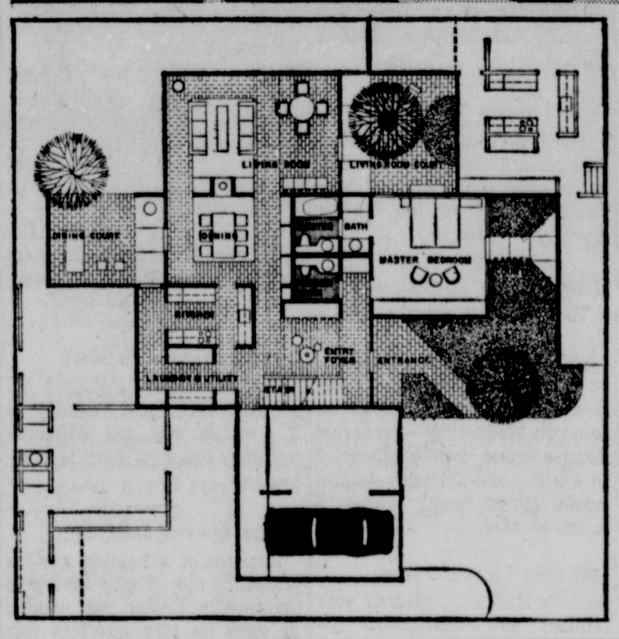

On Feb. 25, John Morley of Laguna Hills, Calif., internationally - known war correspondent just returned from Vietnam, will address members of the association and their wives at the opening industry dinner in the Sheraton Hotel on "I Saw Today's Headline World." Kendall will deliver his president's message at this meeting.

On Feb. 26, convention sessions will be held at the Ohio Youth Center on the fairgrounds.

Speakers at the breakfast session will include Daniel V. Love of Huntington, W.Va., president of the National Retail Hardware Association, and W. Heartsill Wilson, sales training authority from Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich.

On Feb. 27, the convention session again will open with an industry breakfast at the Ohio Youth Center, to be addressed by Dr. Herbert True, sales training expert from South Bend, Ind.

'LIVE-IN '68'

is the name of an open-plan, two-story modern dwelling with an upside down roof. The four-bedroom, two-and-a-half-bath house will be a feature of the 25th anniversary Cleveland Home and Flower Show and will be built inside the city's Public Auditorium. The show, which runs March 2-10, has been named the largest combined exposition of its type in the United States, according to the National Association of Exposition Managers. Architect James G. Herman designed "LIVE-IN '68" to stand by itself or as part of a condominium cluster community, above. Plan, left, shows layout of the first floor. In addition, there are children's bedrooms, playroom and bath on the second floor. An intricately detailed scale model of 80 such homes will be exhibited, depicting part of a residential community possibility for the future.

Steel Marks Peak Output

CLEVELAND (AP) — Order volume is 10 to 50 per cent above a month ago, and steel production — rising for five straight weeks—moved to another record peak last week, Steel Magazine said today.

Estimated output of raw steel last week was 2.87 million net tons, the weekly journal of metalworking reported, exceeding the preceding week's record of 2,857,000 tons by a half per cent.

A substantial portion of the orders now being booked call for delivery in April or later, Steel said, and this has helped hold down pressure. But the impact of the increased volume has been noticeable particularly in sheets and strip, Steed added.

"Products currently in active demand include tin plate, reinforcing bars, heavy and wide plates, quality carbon and alloy bars, and cold rolled and galvanized sheets," the magazine added.

"Most active takers of steel are service centers, can makers, and road builders," Steel said. "But the road builders forecast a downturn in future demand because of the cutback in the federal highway program."

A seasonal revival in construction and agricultural industries soon will give steel demand an upward nudge, the magazine said.

The chairman of Republic Steel Corp., Thomas F. Patton, predicts customers will store a two-to-three month supply of steel before the strike deadline July 31.

Steel's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting steelmaking scrap dropped 33 cents last week to $32 a gross ton.

New Opening To Your Attic Takes Care

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We recently bought a 12-year-old house. There is a trap door leading to the attic, but it is inconveniently located in the ceiling of a bedroom closet.

Besides, it is so small that only a child or a very skinny adult could possibly fit through it.

By standing on a chair, I have been able to look into the opening. There's plenty of good storage space there we could use. Would it be possible to make an opening into the attic at some other place in the house? I don't want to build a full stairs to it, but would like to have one of those ladders that folds away when it is not in use.

ANSWER: It certainly is possible to make another and more accessible entry to the attic, with a folding ladder to get to the opening.

It involves cutting out a part of the ceiling and a section of at least one rafter. This would have to be done only after a careful examination of the attic through the present opening. But it is a job that should be done by a professional—unless you are an expert amateur carpenter.

QUESTION: I plan to build a workbench in my basement. Is there any particular kind of wood I should use?

—:—

ANSWER: Good workbenches usually are made of one of the hardwoods, such as maple, oak or birch. However, you can use three-quarter-inch plywood for the top, attaching to it a sheet of one - quarter - inch tempered hardboard.

—:—

QUESTION: We have just had cork tiles installed on our living room floor. Can you tell us something about the maintenance of it?

ANSWER: Since the tiles apparently were installed professionally, you should have received some literature or instructions about their maintenance. If you can still get them, do so.

Generally, the unsealed, unwaxed type of cork tile should be given two coats of sealer, then waxed, being certain that the wax is suitable for cork. The kind of tile that is sealed at the factory requires only a light waxing, with a buffing if a high gloss is desired.

Young Thief Swims Icy River To Escape

The youth evaded a policeman and made a dash for the ice-rimmed Kennebec River. He plunged in and swam 150 yards through frigid water and escaped, police reported.

Acrylic Enamel Can Be Used In Care Of Windows

Question: As soon as the weather permits, I intend to paint and otherwise take care of the windows around my house, both inside and out.

A friend of mine has recommended acrylic enamel because, he says, no thinner is required and everything, especially the brushes, can be cleaned up later with soap and water instead of a solvent.

He also suggests that I use acrylic caulking compound around the window frames. Should I follow his suggestions? Is what he says about acrylic enamel and caulk correct? I want to be sure I do everything right.

ANSWER: You can safely proceed with the products recommended by your friend. Because they have a water base, acrylic paints need no solvents, are virtually odorfree and dry quickly. And your hands and the brushes can be cleaned easily with soap and water, as your friend told you.

Acrylic caulk, which also has a water base, has a low shrinkage rate and remains flexible under its tough outer skin, a necessary quality of caulking materials to take care of window frame shrinkage and expansion.

QUESTION: We have an old, varnished bureau that I would like to paint. Can the paint be put on right over the varnish? And must I use any special kind of paint?

ANSWER: You can apply any kind of paint over varnish. The important thing is that the surface be prepared properly. This means removing any gloss that still remains, either by using sandpaper of steel wool and then wiping off any grit and leveling any irregularities.

If the varnish is dark in color, either because of age or because there is a stain underneath it, you may find that at least two coats of paint are necessary to cover properly, especially if a light color is being used.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Franz Joseph Haydn (1732-1809), Austrian composer favored by the patronage of the artisocratic Esterhazy family for 30 years, was encouraged to produce a continuous flow of works in every known musical form, including 24 operas, 31 concertos, 76 quartets and 104 symphonies, the largest number of symphonies of any major composer. Haydn was a friend of Mozart and a teacher of Beethoven.

When Winter Fades Out, It's House Checkup Time

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of these days spring will return. And when it does it will be time to assess the damage winter did to your house and property.

Some of this damage may not be readily apparent. If not tended to as soon as possible the damage, however minor, can turn into something major later on.

The best way to be certain of detecting all trouble quickly is to give your house a systematic check from top to bottom. Ice, snow, excessive moisture, high winds, freezing temperatures will all have taken their toll to some extent.

TAKE A look at the roof. Even from ground level you will be able to see if shingles have been torn loose or damaged. If weather permits, by all means give the roof a closer look from a ladder.

A dab of roof coating under a loose shingle will hold it in place. In severe cases, nail down a curled up shingle and put a bit of coating over the nail head to prevent rusting.

Examine outside walls of your home. If paint is peeling, scrape off the loose paint and touch up with exterior grade paint. Look for loose, missing or defective calking in corners where walls come together, around windows and door frames. Clean out old material and recalk.

At Services On Sunday

Harry Sault Is Honored

Harry Sault of 327 E. 8th St., who has served as Sunday School teacher for a boys' class at the First Church of the Nazarene for 40 years, was honored yesterday during the Sunday School hour at 9:30 a. m. in recognition of "long and faithful service."

A retired potter, Sault joined the local church in August 1926. He plans to continue his teaching, under Delmas Sanford, Sunday School superintendent, who at one time was one of his students. Sanford's son now attends Sault's class.

In addition to teaching, Sault provides transportation for the children every Sunday, at times making as many as four trips with his car. He has been responsible for bringing more than 12,000 boys and girls to Sunday School, including vacation Bible School in the summer.

A native of Staffordshire, England, Sault is a member of the Church Official Board. He came to the United States in 1909.

The Saults have three sons, Dr. Wilbur Sault of Stockton, Calif., David Sault of Uniontown, Ohio, and Harry Sault Jr., a major in the Salvation Army at Cleveland.

About 415 attended Sunday's exercises, including 75 of his former and present pupils ranging from the ages of 9 to 40. The Emmanuel Quartet sang, "How Great Thou Art."

Loss Placed At $3,500 In Trailer Fire

Loss was estimated at $3,500 in a fire which destroyed a house trailer Sunday night, Wellsville firemen report.

Three trucks and 19 men responded to the call at 2209 Clark Ave. at 9:58 and had added four booster lines before the flames finally were extinguished at 11:30, Fire Chief Robert Lewis reported.

William Williamson, owner of the trailer, his wife and 2½-year-old son were in the trailer when the fire started, but escaped injury, Lewis said.

Apparent cause of the blaze, which destroyed the trailer and $1,500 worth of contents, was a malfunction of the oil furnace, the chief reported.

2 Face Hearings In Fight At Game

Bud David Hall, 19, of 733 E. Lincoln Way and Olen C. Walker, 36, of Minerva posted $50 bonds for hearings in mayor's court on a charge of disturbing the peace by provoking a fight at the high school. A 16-year-old Lisbon boy involved in the incident was referred to Juvenile Court.

The charges were filed by Officer Phil Prasco, who was on duty at the game. Authorities were unable to say what started the trouble. Witnesses said a few blows were exchanged, then scores of spectators swarmed onto the gym floor.

Principal George M. Nace commended the students of Lisbon and Minierva "for keeping their heads and preventing serious trouble." Police and officials cleared the floor and the game proceeded without further trouble.

In Municipal Court Action

Wrong-Way Trucker, 25, Fined In 3 Traffic Cases

When a 25-year-old Gardendale trucker drove his rig the wrong way on a traffic ramp in the Substation area Saturday he wound up facing three charges that cost him a total of $87.50 in fines and costs today in Municipal Court.

William R. Ward of 1924 Allison St. was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol on a charge of failure to display registration on a commercial vehicle and operating his rig the wrong direction on a one - way ramp connecting Routes 30 and 170. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff fined him $25 and costs on the registration charge and $15 and costs on the wrong way count. The patrol said he was driving south on a ramp restricted to northbound traffic.

WARD WAS fined another $25 and costs on a charge of "drinking while on duty" in violation of regulations of the Ohio Public Utilities Commission. The affidavit was signed by William K. Leishman, a PUCO inspector in this area.

"This has to be the most expensive beer you ever had," the judge told Ward.

Twelve others were fined or forfeited bonds on traffic charges.

The judge decreed a fine of $25 and costs and a 15-day license suspension for John R. Higgins of 834 Fairview St., charged with driving 85 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone Saturday at 6:55 p.m. on Route 30.

Harvey J. Crawford of 307 W. 3rd St. was fined $10 and costs on a charge of following another vehicle too closely. He was cited by the patrol Saturday at 10:10 p.m. on Route 30. Lonnie J. Whittington of Johnsonville, near Chester, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of operating a motorcycle without using a protective eye device. He was cited Friday at 5 p.m. on Route 30.

Charles C. Miller of Salineville paid a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without an emergency brake. He was cited Feb. 12 at 1:45 p.m., on Route 7. Bobby R. Wilson of Lima forfeited a $57.50 bond on a charge of operating a truck which exceeded the 2½-ton load limit on the Chester Bridge. He was cited Feb. 7 at 4:45 p.m. Albert R. Hilton Jr. of Cleveland, cited Feb. 7 on the same charge, was ordered to pay court costs.

FINES OF $15 and costs were decreed for these defendants in speeding cases: Jess Gill of 347½ Main St., Wellsville, cited Feb. 8 at 12:40 a.m. on Route 7; Chalmer W. Nicholson of 1718 Jennings Ave., arrested Saturday at 3:30 p.m. on St. Clair Ave. Ext.; Clarence R. Allmon of 728 Main St., Wellsville, cited Friday at 7:30 p.m. on Route 7, and Freddie R. Bennett of 611 18th St., Wellsville, cited Friday at 7:15 p.m. on Route 7.

Donald E. Slaughter of the In-City Motel, Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of crashing a stop sign Friday at 6:50 p.m. at Hill Blvd. and St. Clair Ave. Gordon McCloud of Willoughby forfeited a $27.50 bond on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 60 - mile zone Friday on Route 7.

On a motion of Solicitor J. Michael Kapp, the court dismissed an affidavit in which Terry L. Fair of 653 Riley Ave. was charged with operating a motorcycle while not equipped with a headprotective device. He was cited Friday morning on E. 6th St.

Charge Filed Against Pair In Theft Case

Burglary charges were filed Sunday in Columbiana County Northwest Court at Salem against Mark Foster Heverly, 22, and Gloria Elaine Hughes, 19, both of Sebring.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan of Columbiana County said the Stark County deputies reported they found a .32-caliber revolver concealed on Heverly and a collection of old coins and jewelry in his car.

The sheriff said the gun, coins and jewelry were taken in a daylight burglary Thursday morning at the home of Russell Reichenbach, county dog warden.

The deputies went to the rural tavern in response to a telephone call that someone there had a revolver.

Stark County charged Heverly with carrying a concealed weapon. He is in jail at Canton. Miss Hughes is in the County Jail here in lieu of $1,000 bond. Heverly resides in Arizona but has been visiting his mother in Sebring.

Harry Sault Is Honored

Harry Sault of 327 E. 8th St., who has served as Sunday School teacher for a boys' class at the First Church of the Nazarene for 40 years, was honored yesterday during the Sunday School hour at 9:30 a. m. in recognition of "long and faithful service."

A retired potter, Sault joined the local church in August 1926. He plans to continue his teaching, under Delmas Sanford, Sunday School superintendent, who at one time was one of his students. Sanford's son now attends Sault's class.

In addition to teaching, Sault provides transportation for the children every Sunday, at times making as many as four trips with his car. He has been responsible for bringing more than 12,000 boys and girls to Sunday School, including vacation Bible School in the summer.

A native of Staffordshire, England, Sault is a member of the Church Official Board. He came to the United States in 1909.

The Saults have three sons, Dr. Wilbur Sault of Stockton, Calif., David Sault of Uniontown, Ohio, and Harry Sault Jr., a major in the Salvation Army at Cleveland.

About 415 attended Sunday's exercises, including 75 of his former and present pupils ranging from the ages of 9 to 40. The Emmanuel Quartet sang, "How Great Thou Art."

Loss Placed At $3,500 In Trailer Fire

Loss was estimated at $3,500 in a fire which destroyed a house trailer Sunday night, Wellsville firemen report.

Three trucks and 19 men responded to the call at 2209 Clark Ave. at 9:58 and had added four booster lines before the flames finally were extinguished at 11:30, Fire Chief Robert Lewis reported.

William Williamson, owner of the trailer, his wife and 2½-year-old son were in the trailer when the fire started, but escaped injury, Lewis said.

Apparent cause of the blaze, which destroyed the trailer and $1,500 worth of contents, was a malfunction of the oil furnace, the chief reported.

2 Face Hearings In Fight At Game

Bud David Hall, 19, of 733 E. Lincoln Way and Olen C. Walker, 36, of Minerva posted $50 bonds for hearings in mayor's court on a charge of disturbing the peace by provoking a fight at the high school. A 16-year-old Lisbon boy involved in the incident was referred to Juvenile Court.

The charges were filed by Officer Phil Prasco, who was on duty at the game. Authorities were unable to say what started the trouble. Witnesses said a few blows were exchanged, then scores of spectators swarmed onto the gym floor.

Principal George M. Nace commended the students of Lisbon and Minerva "for keeping their heads and preventing serious trouble." Police and officials cleared the floor and the game proceeded without further trouble.

In Municipal Court Action

Wrong-Way Trucker, 25, Fined In 3 Traffic Cases

When a 25-year-old Gardendale trucker drove his rig the wrong way on a traffic ramp in the Substation area Saturday he wound up facing three charges that cost him a total of $87.50 in fines and costs today in Municipal Court.

William R. Ward of 1924 Allison St. was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol on a charge of failure to display registration on a commercial vehicle and operating his rig the wrong direction on a one - way ramp connecting Routes 30 and 170. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff fined him $25 and costs on the registration charge and $15 and costs on the wrong way count. The patrol said he was driving south on a ramp restricted to northbound traffic.

WARD WAS fined another $25 and costs on a charge of "drinking while on duty" in violation of regulations of the Ohio Public Utilities Commission. The affidavit was signed by William K. Leishman, a PUCO inspector in this area.

"This has to be the most expensive beer you ever had," the judge told Ward.

Twelve others were fined or forfeited bonds on traffic charges.

The judge decreed a fine of $25 and costs and a 15-day license suspension for John R. Higgins of 834 Fairview St., charged with driving 85 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone Saturday at 6:55 p.m. on Route 30.

Harvey J. Crawford of 307 W. 3rd St. was fined $10 and costs on a charge of following another vehicle too closely. He was cited by the patrol Saturday at 10:10 p.m. on Route 30. Lonnie J. Whittington of Johnsonville, near Chester, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of operating a motorcycle without using a protective eye device. He was cited Friday at 5 p.m. on Route 30.

Charles C. Miller of Salineville paid a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without an emergency brake. He was cited Feb. 12 at 1:45 p.m., on Route 7. Bobby R. Wilson of Lima forfeited a $57.50 bond on a charge of operating a truck which exceeded the 2½-ton load limit on the Chester Bridge. He was cited Feb. 7 at 4:45 p.m. Albert R. Hilton Jr. of Cleveland, cited Feb. 7 on the same charge, was ordered to pay court costs.

FINES OF $15 and costs were decreed for these defendants in speeding cases: Jess Gill of 347½ Main St., Wellsville, cited Feb. 8 at 12:40 a.m. on Route 7; Chalmer W. Nicholson of 1718 Jennings Ave., arrested Saturday at 3:30 p.m. on St. Clair Ave. Ext.; Clarence R. Allmon of 728 Main St., Wellsville, cited Friday at 7:30 p.m. on Route 7, and Freddie R. Bennett of 611 18th St., Wellsville, cited Friday at 7:15 p.m. on Route 7.

Donald E. Slaughter of the In-City Motel, Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of crashing a stop sign Friday at 6:50 p.m. at Hill Blvd. and St. Clair Ave. Gordon McCloud of Willoughby forfeited a $27.50 bond on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 60 - mile zone Friday on Route 7.

On a motion of Solicitor J. Michael Kapp, the court dismissed an affidavit in which Terry L. Fair of 653 Riley Ave. was charged with operating a motorcycle while not equipped with a headprotective device. He was cited Friday morning on E. 6th St.

Changes Announced

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Department of Development says it plans to turn the state's "Wonderful World of Ohio" magazine into a money-maker without a "purge" of its current staff.

James Douthitt, development department publicity chief who becomes editor April 1, says no major changes are planned in the magazine's staff, content or format, but that sales results should be apparent by July.

Charge Filed Against Pair In Theft Case

Burglary charges were filed Sunday in Columbiana County Northwest Court at Salem against Mark Foster Heverly, 22, and Gloria Elaine Hughes, 19, both of Sebring.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan of Columbiana County said the Stark County deputies reported they found a .32-caliber revolver concealed on Heverly and a collection of old coins and jewelry in his car.

The sheriff said the gun, coins and jewelry were taken in a daylight burglary Thursday morning at the home of Russell Reichenbach, county dog warden.

The deputies went to the rural tavern in response to a telephone call that someone there had a revolver.

Stark County charged Heverly with carrying a concealed weapon. He is in jail at Canton. Miss Hughes is in the County Jail here in lieu of $1,000 bond. Heverly resides in Arizona but has been visiting his mother in Sebring.

Girl Is Injured In Area Mishap

A Steubenville girl was treated at Ohio Valley Hospital there today for injuries suffered when the auto in which she was a passenger went off the road on Route 213, 1½ miles west of Route 7.

Loretta M. Roscoe, 16, was treated for a sprained right ankle and lacerations of the left hand after the 1968 sedan driven by Carl L. Flanagan, 21, of Rhode Island, left the right side of the road and hit a tree when he lost control on a curve, officers of the Wintersville barracks of the Ohio Highway Patrol report.

They said Flagan was cited for speeding. The accident was timed at 3 a. m.

J. Christian Leads 75-56 Potter Win Over Martins Ferry

EL Reserves Survive Rally, Defeat Ferry

The East Liverpool reserve basketball team kept above the .500 mark with a 56-51 win over Martins Ferry at the Memorial Auditorium Saturday night.

Frank Melchoirre's club, now 9-8, played one of its finest games of the season in knocking off the visitors, now 10-5. The home team led 34-12 late in the second quarter and survived a Ferry rally that narrowed the gap to 47-43 early in the final stanza.

John Johnson led the winners with 13 points, while Jim Massey had 11 and Steve Douglas 10. Douglas and the Potters were deprived of another two points through a scorekeeper's error. Douglas had 11 rebounds.

Johnson, Douglas and Tom Chambers led the Potters in the early going as Martins Ferry couldn't find the basket, hitting only 20 per cent in the first half. The winners were helped by making 12 of 16 foul shots before halftime.

In the third quarter, the Riders came out pressing and East Liverpool could not get the ball up court. The visitors ran off 13 straight points before Ken Adkins made a foul shot. East Liverpool finally stopped the momentum of the visitors, though the lead kept shrinking. Massey made six important points in the last quarter and Tom Emmerling came off the bench to hit the only two shots he tried.

East Liverpool hit 44 per cent to only 28 per cent for the visitors. Rebounds were even at 42 but Ferry committed only 5 turnovers to 11 by the winners.

Black Hawks Whip Wings

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Helmeted Stan Mikita and bare-headed Ken Wharram each scored the three-goal hat trick but it was no trick compared to the acrobatics Doug Favell went through.

Mikita and Wharram, two-thirds of Chicago's dynamic Scooter Line, riddled Detroit's Roger Crozier as the Black Hawks hammered the Red Wings 7-1 Sunday. Favell kicked out 42 shots and went a round or so with rough Reg Fleming as Philadelphia bowed to New York 3-1. In Sunday's only other National Hockey League game, Boston outlasted Los Angeles 6-5.

On Saturday, New York edged Toronto 3-2, Montreal nipped Pittsburgh 4-3, Oakland dropped Boston 3-1, Chicago battered Detroit 7-4 and St. Louis tied Minnesota 2-2.

Mikita, Wharram and linemate Doug Mohns all donned helmets after the tragic death of Minnesota's Bill Masterton early this year. Since then, Wharram has discarded his.

The Scooters terrorized the Detroit goalie with Mikita tacking two assists on to his three goals and running his season's total to a league leading 70 points. Bobby Hull, with his 40th goal and two assists, has 69 points.

Meanwhile, the Rangers kept the pressure on the second place Hawks in the NHL's East race. New York is just two points back of Chicago and unbeaten in the last eight games.

The Rangers fired 45 shots at Favell and Fleming landed a couple of punches on the goalie in a first period scrap. It developed from a high sticking duel around the Philadelphia net and wound up with each player drawing major and minor penalties.

Don Marshall, Bob Nevin and Orland Kurtenbach scored the Ranger goals in an 18-shot second period—as many shots as the Flyers took at New York's Ed Giacomin all night.

The Kings had rallied three times to tie the game before Sather put it away for Boston.

Potters Get Tourney Bye

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

East Liverpool has the bye in the seven-team Steubenville AA basketball secitonals and will play the winner of the Wellsville - Jefferson Union game at 7 p.m. Feb. 29 at the Steubenville Arena.

The pairings for the tournament were decided at a meeting at the All-America Lanes in Steubenville yesterday that more closely resembled a caucus session at a political convention than a gathering of school officials and coaches.

The JU-Wellsville game will be at 6 p.m. Feb. 27, the opener of a triple-header that shows Steubenville against Wintersville in the second game and Toronto vs. Steubenville Central in the 9 p.m. nightcap. The semi-finals are Feb. 29 and the finals at 8 p.m. March 2.

EAST LIVERPOOL got to choose the bye after a long and bitter debate and a phone call by East Liverpool High School principal Cliff Lynch to Eastern Ohio Athletic Board member Clayton Wolf of Claymont.

Tournament Chairman Ang Vaccaro, principal of Steubenville High, opened the discussion on the pairings by saying that contrary to a long-established practice at the Steubenville sectionals, it was the decision of Wolf that the two teams with the best records would draw for first choice. In prior years the team with the best record had first choice.

Lynch answered that Wolf had said there were no changes this year from last year and that the coaches were not consulted on the proposed change and the schools were given no notice of the proposed change.

Vaccaro said that all the sections in the Eastern District are conducting their tournaments by having the top two teams draw for first choice. He said that East Liverpool coach Clint McConnell proposed this last year. (Actually, McConnell proposed that the coaches vote on the team to be seeded number one, not that the top two teams draw for first place.)

Toronto principal Bud Means stated that there should be a years notice of any changes, and noted that Toronto, which had the best record last year, got the first choice then and the procedure should not be changed this year. McConnell said that the schools abided by the group decision last year and that the tournaments at Martins Ferry, New Concord and New Philadelphia were not being run the way Vaccaro said.

AL HAYES, Steubenville faculty manager, said that there was an Eastern board representative present at the meeting last year and that the schools present did not have the authority to change the procedure dictated by the board.

Steubenville coach Chuck Watt accused McConnell of arguing one way last year and the other way this year. He concluded that the best team will win the tournament without arguing making a difference. Abe Bryan, athletic director of Steubenville High, accused McConnell of intimating that Steubenville High controls the tournament. McConnell denied this.

Lynch then requested permission to phone Wolf. Bill Chessern of WSTV radio and John Kirker of the Steubenville Herald - Star reported that Wolf had been clear on the way the tournament was to be run, but after Lynch and Vaccaro talked to Wolf on the phone Vaccaro had to admit that Wolf's method of running the tournament was only "highly recommended". Vaccaro accused Wolf of changing his story.

Vaccaro then made a motion that the top two teams draw for first choice this year and in all future years. The coaches were polled by roll call vote. Lee Patrone of Wintersville voted yes, noting that the state's recommendations should be followed. Bob Dawson of Wellsville and John Pape of Toronto then voted against Vaccaro's motion, but Watt of Steubenville and John Nese of Steubenville Central voted for the motion, giving it a 3-2 lead.

But Carl Firm of Jefferson Union voted no, and McConnell also voted no, defeating the measure. McConnell then said that East Liverpool would take the bye. Watt said he wanted a choice of brackets, but was not allowed this, and Steubenville was placed in the bracket opposite East Liverpool.

The other five coaches then drew for order of draw, and Toronto got first choice. Pape picked a lower - bracket game away from Steubenville. Nese of Steubenville Central then picked to oppose Toronto, Firm of JU took a top - bracket game, Dawson of Wellsville chose to oppose Jefferson Union and Wintersville was forced to play Steubenville.

MEANS MADE a motion that the timer of a tournament game should not be from one of the schools involved. Dawson seconded the motion and it passed by the same 4-3 margin the prior motion was defeated by with the schools in the same alignment. Vaccaro finally decided that Ernie Cercone of Steubenville Central would be the timer for the games involving Steubenville Big Red.

Each school was given 1,000 tickets, 500 student and 500 adult. Those not sold at the schools will go on sale when the gates open, which is at 5:15 on Feb. 27, 6 on Feb. 29 and 6:30 on Mar. 2. Student tickets are $.50, adult tickets $1. There are no reserved seats, except box seats which can be purchased at the arena for $1.25.

E. Palestine Tops Sebring To Gain Tri-County Title

The Bulldogs ended 11-1 in league play, a game ahead of Poland. Jack Swinderman's team went 15-3 for the regular season. Sebring ended 8-10.

Joe Lewis was high scorer for the winners with 23 points. Jim Taucher and Dan McKinstry had 17 each and Bill Lewis added 11. Joe Bowers had 17 to pace the losers, while Bob Patterson had 16, Greg Gadd 13 and Greg Wilson 12.

East Palestine dominated the boards 51-17 as McKinstry, only 5-11, grabbed 20 and Taucher and Joe Lewis 10 each.

The game see-sawed during the first period, but Sebring led the whole second stanza, though never by more than four points. With two minutes gone in the third period McKinstry cashed two long shots to give the Bulldogs the lead and they never fell behind again. McKinstry had eight points in the period and Joe Lewis nine.

Sebring rallied to tie the contest at 64-64 with 4:04 remaining but a pair of foul shots by Bill Lewis gave East Palestine a lead that they never lost.

A last - second jump-shot by Dave Armstrong gave Sebring the reserve game 40-39. He led the winners with 10 points and Ted Reeves got eight for the losers.

Winners' Output High For Season

By TURK PIERCE

The East Liverpool Potters basketball team proved that it can play offense as well as defense Saturday night, trouncing the Martins Ferry Purple Riders 75-56 at the Memorial Auditorium.

The point total was the highest of the season for the Potters, topping by one the 74 rung up against Midland, and the 56 points was the lowest mark this season by the high-scoring Riders, who had been averaging 87.6 points a game coming into last night's contest. E. Liverpool is now 16-1, Martins Ferry 12-5.

The visitors shot a torrid 80 per cent in the first period, but the Potters connected on 62 per cent and had a 21-19 lead after eight minutes. In the second period both teams cooled off, as the tempo of the game slowed down, but the home club asserted its superiority on the backboards and pulled out to a 34-26 lead.

East Liverpool shot 45 per cent in the first half, the visitors 52 per cent. The Potters ended up hitting 44 per cent for the game, the Riders 41 per cent.

Leading the way for the winners were Jerry Christian, who connected on 9 of 12 field goal attempts and scored 25 points and grabbed 15 rebounds. Mitchell Jones had 15 points and 11 rebounds, Earl Diddle had 15 points and Bruce Christian had his season's high of 11 points.

DICK REASBECK, averaging 23 points a game was held to six in the first half on a fine defensive job by Mike McVay. He ended with 22 points, but many came after the game was out of reach. Clarence Hill added 14 and Floyd Malatesta 12. Sam Twardoski led the Riders with eight rebounds. East Liverpool had a 49-30 rebounding edge.

The Potters also cut down on their turnovers, committing only 11 to 15 by the losers.

The first period was close all the way, but the Riders led only at 17-16. Diddle and McVay were hitting from the outside and were feeding Jones and Jerry Christian under the basket. Hill was hot from outside for the visitors and Malatesta drove for three baskets against the man-to-man coverage. Martins Ferry used a box-and-one defense, with Paul Pettit dogging Jones.

THE RIDERS, who had been racing up and down the floor in the opening quarter, slowed the game down in the second period and went into an intricate weave pattern on offense, but it failed to shake the tough Potter defenders and the Riders could not get good shots. At the beginning of the quarter the home club scored six points in a row, and then with it 31-26 picked up seven in a row over the intermission. Jones led a six-point surge that made it 46-32, and the lead varied from 8 to 18 points until the very end when the home club scored the last six points of the game.

Kenyon's John Rinka has dropped to 10th nationally among small college basketball scorers.

Rinka is averaging 30.7 points a game. His backcourt teammate at Keyon, John Dunlop, is 39th with a 24.8 average. Jeff Claypool of Groove City is 13th, Charlie Claggett of Denison 29th and Jerry Carder of Findlay 47th. Dunlop is 15th in foul shooting, having converted 154 of 177 shots for 87 per cent, and Kenyon is the leading foul shooting team in the country with a 78.6 per cent mark. The Lords are 12th in offense with a 98.6 average.

Findlay is eighth in offense, scoring 100.6 points a game. On defense, Ashland is far ahead of the field, giving up 37.6 a game compared to 56.4 by second-ranked Eastern New Mexico. Akron is fifth, Mt. Union sixth, Wittenberg 13th, Thiel 15th, Hiram and Wooster tied for 17th, and Westminster 19th.

MIDLAND BASKETBALL coach Ed Olkowski will be honored by the Delmars, a faternal organization of which he is a member, as its man of the year at an affair at the Beaver Falls SOI on Feb. 24.

THERE WILL BE two big new high schools in the West Virginia panhandle next year. Wellsberg and Follansbee are merging to form Brooke County High and Benwood Union, Moundsville and Sherrard will be consolidated into John Marshall High.

A RELEASE from Warren Western Reserve High School shows that the Raiders will visit East Liverpool for a football game Saturday, Oct, 12. The Raiders were the only team to beat the Potters in 1967, 22-0 at Warren.

BUCKY WATERS, head basketball coach at West Virginia University, will coach the South squad in the third annual North-South basketball game to be played at Charlotte on April 11. Guy Lewis of Houston will coach the North team, though Houston is quite a way to the South of West Virginia.

THE PITTSBURGH PIPERS have scheduled a regular season ABA game for March 18, a Monday, at the Steubenville Arena. The opponent will be the Anaheim Amigos.

JOE MASSEY netted 14 points Saturday night as Bud Manes' Thiel team upped its record to 8-6 with a 85-68 win over John Carroll.

JULIAS LIVAS of South, Ron McElroy of North, Dan Smith and Mervin Teague of East and Marvin McWilson of Wilson make up the Youngstown all-city basketball team. Larry Cummings of Ursuline, Dave Moncrief of North, Jamie Dunn of Mooney, Bob Terrill of Rayen and Otis Dancey of South are on the second team. Livas, who was a unanimous choice, scored 17 points against East Liverpool, Smith got 6, Teague 7, Cummings 13 and Dancey 7. The others did not face the Potters this season.

East Liverpool finally stopped the momentum of the visitors, though the lead kept shrinking. Massey made six important points in the last quarter and Tom Emmerling came off the bench to hit the only two shots he tried.

East Liverpool hit 44 per cent to only 28 per cent for the visitors. Rebounds were even at 42 but Ferry committed only 5 turnovers to 11 by the winners.

Black Hawks Whip Wings

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Helmeted Stan Mikita and bare-headed Ken Wharram each scored the three-goal hat trick but it was no trick compared to the acrobatics Doug Favell went through.

Mikita and Wharram, two-thirds of Chicago's dynamic Scooter Line, riddled Detroit's Roger Crozier as the Black Hawks hammered the Red Wings 7-1 Sunday. Favell kicked out 42 shots and went a round or so with rough Reg Fleming as Philadelphia bowed to New York 3-1. In Sunday's only other National Hockey League game, Boston outlasted Los Angeles 6-5.

On Saturday, New York edged Toronto 3-2, Montreal nipped Pittsburgh 4-3, Oakland dropped Boston 3-1, Chicago battered Detroit 7-4 and St. Louis tied Minnesota 2-2.

Mikita, Wharram and linemate Doug Mohns all donned helmets after the tragic death of Minnesota's Bill Masterton early this year. Since then, Wharram has discarded his.

The Scooters terrorized the Detroit goalie with Mikita tacking two assists on to his three goals and running his season's total to a league leading 70 points. Bobby Hull, with his 40th goal and two assists, has 69 points.

Meanwhile, the Rangers kept the pressure on the second place Hawks in the NHL's East race. New York is just two points back of Chicago and unbeaten in the last eight games.

The Rangers fired 45 shots at Favell and Fleming landed a couple of punches on the goalie in a first period scrap. It developed from a high sticking duel around the Philadelphia net and wound up with each player drawing major and minor penalties.

Don Marshall, Bob Nevin and Orland Kurtenbach scored the Ranger goals in an 18-shot second period—as many shots as the Flyers took at New York's Ed Giacomin all night.

The Kings had rallied three times to tie the game before Sather put it away for Boston.

Potters Get Tourney Bye

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

East Liverpool has the bye in the seven-team Steubenville AA basketball secitonals and will play the winner of the Wellsville - Jefferson Union game at 7 p.m. Feb. 29 at the Steubenville Arena.

The pairings for the tournament were decided at a meeting at the All-America Lanes in Steubenville yesterday that more closely resembled a caucus session at a political convention than a gathering of school officials and coaches.

The JU-Wellsville game will be at 6 p.m. Feb. 27, the opener of a triple-header that shows Steubenville against Wintersville in the second game and Toronto vs. Steubenville Central in the 9 p.m. nightcap. The semi-finals are Feb. 29 and the finals at 8 p.m. March 2.

EAST LIVERPOOL got to choose the bye after a long and bitter debate and a phone call by East Liverpool High School principal Cliff Lynch to Eastern Ohio Athletic Board member Clayton Wolf of Claymont.

Tournament Chairman Ang Vaccaro, principal of Steubenville High, opened the discussion on the pairings by saying that contrary to a long-established practice at the Steubenville sectionals, it was the decision of Wolf that the two teams with the best records would draw for first choice. In prior years the team with the best record had first choice.

Lynch answered that Wolf had said there were no changes this year from last year and that the coaches were not consulted on the proposed change and the schools were given no notice of the proposed change.

Vaccaro said that all the sections in the Eastern District are conducting their tournaments by having the top two teams draw for first choice. He said that East Liverpool coach Clint McConnell proposed this last year. (Actually, McConnell proposed that the coaches vote on the team to be seeded number one, not that the top two teams draw for first place.)

Toronto principal Bud Means stated that there should be a years notice of any changes, and noted that Toronto, which had the best record last year, got the first choice then and the procedure should not be changed this year. McConnell said that the schools abided by the group decision last year and that the tournaments at Martins Ferry, New Concord and New Philadelphia were not being run the way Vaccaro said.

AL HAYES, Steubenville faculty manager, said that there was an Eastern board representative present at the meeting last year and that the schools present did not have the authority to change the procedure dictated by the board.

Steubenville coach Chuck Watt accused McConnell of arguing one way last year and the other way this year. He concluded that the best team will win the tournament without arguing making a difference. Abe Bryan, athletic director of Steubenville High, accused McConnell of intimating that Steubenville High controls the tournament. McConnell denied this.

Lynch then requested permission to phone Wolf. Bill Chessern of WSTV radio and John Kirker of the Steubenville Herald - Star reported that Wolf had been clear on the way the tournament was to be run, but after Lynch and Vaccaro talked to Wolf on the phone Vaccaro had to admit that Wolf's method of running the tournament was only "highly recommended". Vaccaro accused Wolf of changing his story.

Vaccaro then made a motion that the top two teams draw for first choice this year and in all future years. The coaches were polled by roll call vote. Lee Patrone of Wintersville voted yes, noting that the state's recommendations should be followed. Bob Dawson of Wellsville and John Pape of Toronto then voted against Vaccaro's motion, but Watt of Steubenville and John Nese of Steubenville Central voted for the motion, giving it a 3-2 lead.

But Carl Firm of Jefferson Union voted no, and McConnell also voted no, defeating the measure. McConnell then said that East Liverpool would take the bye. Watt said he wanted a choice of brackets, but was not allowed this, and Steubenville was placed in the bracket opposite East Liverpool.

The other five coaches then drew for order of draw, and Toronto got first choice. Pape picked a lower - bracket game away from Steubenville. Nese of Steubenville Central then picked to oppose Toronto, Firm of JU took a top - bracket game, Dawson of Wellsville chose to oppose Jefferson Union and Wintersville was forced to play Steubenville.

MEANS MADE a motion that the timer of a tournament game should not be from one of the schools involved. Dawson seconded the motion and it passed by the same 4-3 margin the prior motion was defeated by with the schools in the same alignment. Vaccaro finally decided that Ernie Cercone of Steubenville Central would be the timer for the games involving Steubenville Big Red.

Each school was given 1,000 tickets, 500 student and 500 adult. Those not sold at the schools will go on sale when the gates open, which is at 5:15 on Feb. 27, 6 on Feb. 29 and 6:30 on Mar. 2. Student tickets are $.50, adult tickets $1. There are no reserved seats, except box seats which can be purchased at the arena for $1.25.

E. Palestine Tops Sebring To Gain Tri-County Title

The Bulldogs ended 11-1 in league play, a game ahead of Poland. Jack Swinderman's team went 15-3 for the regular season. Sebring ended 8-10.

Joe Lewis was high scorer for the winners with 23 points. Jim Taucher and Dan McKinstry had 17 each and Bill Lewis added 11. Joe Bowers had 17 to pace the losers, while Bob Patterson had 16, Greg Gadd 13 and Greg Wilson 12.

East Palestine dominated the boards 51-17 as McKinstry, only 5-11, grabbed 20 and Taucher and Joe Lewis 10 each.

The game see-sawed during the first period, but Sebring led the whole second stanza, though never by more than four points. With two minutes gone in the third period McKinstry cashed two long shots to give the Bulldogs the lead and they never fell behind again. McKinstry had eight points in the period and Joe Lewis nine.

Sebring rallied to tie the contest at 64-64 with 4:04 remaining but a pair of foul shots by Bill Lewis gave East Palestine a lead that they never lost.

A last - second jump-shot by Dave Armstrong gave Sebring the reserve game 40-39. He led the winners with 10 points and Ted Reeves got eight for the losers.

Winners' Output High For Season

By TURK PIERCE

The East Liverpool Potters basketball team proved that it can play offense as well as defense Saturday night, trouncing the Martins Ferry Purple Riders 75-56 at the Memorial Auditorium.

The point total was the highest of the season for the Potters, topping by one the 74 rung up against Midland, and the 56 points was the lowest mark this season by the high-scoring Riders, who had been averaging 87.6 points a game coming into last night's contest. E. Liverpool is now 16-1, Martins Ferry 12-5.

The visitors shot a torrid 80 per cent in the first period, but the Potters connected on 62 per cent and had a 21-19 lead after eight minutes. In the second period both teams cooled off, as the tempo of the game slowed down, but the home club asserted its superiority on the backboards and pulled out to a 34-26 lead.

East Liverpool shot 45 per cent in the first half, the visitors 52 per cent. The Potters ended up hitting 44 per cent for the game, the Riders 41 per cent.

Leading the way for the winners were Jerry Christian, who connected on 9 of 12 field goal attempts and scored 25 points and grabbed 15 rebounds. Mitchell Jones had 15 points and 11 rebounds, Earl Diddle had 15 points and Bruce Christian had his season's high of 11 points.

DICK REASBECK, averaging 23 points a game was held to six in the first half on a fine defensive job by Mike McVay. He ended with 22 points, but many came after the game was out of reach. Clarence Hill added 14 and Floyd Malatesta 12. Sam Twardoski led the Riders with eight rebounds. East Liverpool had a 49-30 rebounding edge.

The Potters also cut down on their turnovers, committing only 11 to 15 by the losers.

The first period was close all the way, but the Riders led only at 17-16. Diddle and McVay were hitting from the outside and were feeding Jones and Jerry Christian under the basket. Hill was hot from outside for the visitors and Malatesta drove for three baskets against the man-to-man coverage. Martins Ferry used a box-and-one defense, with Paul Pettit dogging Jones.

THE RIDERS, who had been racing up and down the floor in the opening quarter, slowed the game down in the second period and went into an intricate weave pattern on offense, but it failed to shake the tough Potter defenders and the Riders could not get good shots. At the beginning of the quarter the home club scored six points in a row, and then with it 31-26 picked up seven in a row over the intermission. Jones led a six-point surge that made it 46-32, and the lead varied from 8 to 18 points until the very end when the home club scored the last six points of the game.

The game was played before the largest crowd of the season in the M.A., with a sizeable contingent of rooters from Martins Ferry in attendance.

Kenyon's John Rinka has dropped to 10th nationally among small college basketball scorers.

Rinka is averaging 30.7 points a game. His backcourt teammate at Keyon, John Dunlop, is 39th with a 24.8 average. Jeff Claypool of Groove City is 13th, Charlie Claggett of Denison 29th and Jerry Carder of Findlay 47th. Dunlop is 15th in foul shooting, having converted 154 of 177 shots for 87 per cent, and Kenyon is the leading foul shooting team in the country with a 78.6 per cent mark. The Lords are 12th in offense with a 98.6 average.

Findlay is eighth in offense, scoring 100.6 points a game. On defense, Ashland is far ahead of the field, giving up 37.6 a game compared to 56.4 by second-ranked Eastern New Mexico. Akron is fifth, Mt. Union sixth, Wittenberg 13th, Thiel 15th, Hiram and Wooster tied for 17th, and Westminster 19th.

MIDLAND BASKETBALL coach Ed Olkowski will be honored by the Delmars, a faternal organization of which he is a member, as its man of the year at an affair at the Beaver Falls SOI on Feb. 24.

THERE WILL BE two big new high schools in the West Virginia panhandle next year. Wellsberg and Follansbee are merging to form Brooke County High and Benwood Union, Moundsville and Sherrard will be consolidated into John Marshall High.

A RELEASE from Warren Western Reserve High School shows that the Raiders will visit East Liverpool for a football game Saturday, Oct, 12. The Raiders were the only team to beat the Potters in 1967, 22-0 at Warren.

BUCKY WATERS, head basketball coach at West Virginia University, will coach the South squad in the third annual North-South basketball game to be played at Charlotte on April 11. Guy Lewis of Houston will coach the North team, though Houston is quite a way to the South of West Virginia.

THE PITTSBURGH PIPERS have scheduled a regular season ABA game for March 18, a Monday, at the Steubenville Arena. The opponent will be the Anaheim Amigos.

JOE MASSEY netted 14 points Saturday night as Bud Manes' Thiel team upped its record to 8-6 with a 85-68 win over John Carroll.

JULIAS LIVAS of South, Ron McElroy of North, Dan Smith and Mervin Teague of East and Marvin McWilson of Wilson make up the Youngstown all-city basketball team. Larry Cummings of Ursuline, Dave Moncrief of North, Jamie Dunn of Mooney, Bob Terrill of Rayen and Otis Dancey of South are on the second team. Livas, who was a unanimous choice, scored 17 points against East Liverpool, Smith got 6, Teague 7, Cummings 13 and Dancey 7. The others did not face the Potters this season.

Crusaders Whip Wellsville 70-48

WELLSVILLE — The Wellsville Tigers' bid for a .500 season was cut down by a cold third period Saturday night here as Steubenville Central won 70-48.

Wellsville never led in the game, but trailed only 33-27 at halftime. Central outscored the home team 18-2 in the third quarter to wrap up the victory.

The Crusaders of John Nese were red hot, hitting 60 per cent of their field goal attempts. They connected on 7 of 9 in the first period and 8 of 10 in the fourth period.

Tom McClain led the losers with 23 points and 18 rebounds. Jim Fonow had 21, and Dave Suba and Ray Szypulski 16 points each for the winners, who controlled the boards 49-38.

Central ended the season 11-7, Wellsville 8-10.

Wellsville hit only 1 of 13 field goal attempts in the third period. Mark Powel was injured in this quarter when he was elbowed in the head by Szypulski.

The Wellsville reserves ended the year 15-3, one of the best reserve records in the history of the school. They won 59-38 Saturday, as John Bobalik had 15 points and Paul Martin and Joe Dangelo 13 each. Terry Flaherty had 14 points for the losers.

Winter Olympics Closes Amidst Ski Controversy

By MORRIS ROSENBERG

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — The Winter Olympics, beset by injury and warm weather, ended in controversy and anger, and possibly set the stage for more of the same at the Summer Olympics next October.

The administrative antics off the ice and snow all but overshadowed the athletes and such performances as Jean-Claude Killy's sweep of the men's Alpine skiing, Eugenio Monti's two victories in the bobsleds and a pair of gold medals for Toini Gustafsson in the women's cross-country skiing.

However, it did not shake U.S. pride in skaters Peggy Fleming, Terry McDermott, Tim Wood, Diane Holum, Jenny Fish and Mary Meyers, nor its disappointment in the injury-prone U.S. skiers and the hockey team. In all, the United States finished with one gold medal, five silver and one bronze—a total of seven, one more than in 1964.

The Games officially closed Sunday night in traditional ceremonies at the Grenoble ice rink and the extinguishing of the Olympic flame, which burned for 12 days and nights for 37 countries. It will be relit in Mexico City and more countries will be represented, as usual for the Summer Games. But a number who normally would compete now look doubtful.

A bloc of predominately Negro African nations have pulled out, protesting an International Olympic Committee decision to allow South Africa with its apartheid policy of segregation to participate with an integrated team.

There also is some fear of a Russian pullout after the Soviet Union denounced the IOC decision.

"Without Russia the Olympics Games would still be the Olympic Games," said Frank Braun, president of the South African Olympic Association. "In any case, I cannot see Russia withdrawing—not with all those medals at stake."

He added that there is "not a ghost of a chance of us withdrawing" as an act of self sacrifice should Russia withdraw.

And while that turmoil bubbled, Austria and Karl Schranz still raged over Killy's victory in the special slalom by default Saturday.

Killy, the Games' top performer with victories in the downhill, giant slalom and special slalom, accomplished the rare triple that only Toni Sailer of Austria had done before in 1956. But the speeding Frenchman needed two disqualifications—Schranz and Hakkon Mjoen of Norway—to win, and send thousands of Frenchmen celebrating and an equal number of Austrians screaming "foul."

"It was an unjust decision," said Schranz, who was disqualified with Mjoen for missing gates in the second heat after their times beat Killy's clocking.

Schranz claimed an unidentified onlooker hindered him on the foggy course, causing him to miss the gate, but the International Skiing Federation threw out his protest, saying he missed the gate before the onlooker impeded him.

A press conference called by the Austrian team to present its case Sunday ended in angry shouting with French newsmen.

East Germany also left with a bitter taste after three of its girl lugers, running 1-2-4 in the singles, were disqualified for heating the runners on their sleds against Olympic rules.

There also was a minor battle between the Ski Federation and IOC over the use of manufacturers' trademarks on skis, and a protest by skiers against the use of classification runs to determine starting positions in the slalom.

Warm weather, fog and rain added to the headaches by forcing numerous luge and bobsled postponements and finally abbreviating the events.

The U.S. ski team had just as many problems in competition, failing to capture a medal amid injuries and disqualifications.

Among the men, Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., America's top hope, twisted an ankle in practice and never regained top form; Jere Elliott and Jim Barrows, both of Steamboat Springs, Colo., took heavy falls in the downhill and retired for the rest of the games, and ski jumper Georg Krog of Denver, Colo., got caught in a cross wind in practice and landed on his head, suffering multiple injuries.

For the women, Karen Budge of Jackson, Wyo., was injured in a freak training accident and never competed and Robin Morning of Santa Monica, Calif., broke a leg before the games began. The youthful group of Judy Nagel of Enumclaw, Wash., Kiki Cutter of Bend, Ore., Wendy Allen of San Pedro, Calif., and Rosie Fortna of Warren, Vt., turned in fine runs in the special slalom only to be disqualified for missing gates.

And the U.S. hockey team finished a dismal sixth, its worst ever, with a 2-4-1 record.

But it was not all bad news for the Americans.

Wood of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., picked up a surprise silver in the men's as Wolfgang Schwarz of Austria won while his heavily-favored countryman, Emmerich Danzer, finished a shocking fourth.

McDermott of Birmingham, Mich., surprised by picking up a silver in the men's 500-meter speed skating. Misses Holum of Northbrook, Ill., Meyers of St. Paul, Minn., and Fish of Strongsville, Ohio, finished in an unprecedented three-way tie for second place in the women's 500. All got silvers.

Jack Havice Beaten In District Semi-Final

Jack Havice, unbeaten 112-pounder, won his first two matches but was decisioned by Tom Milkovich of Maple Heights in the semi-finals. Jim Bowersock won one match before losing 1-0 to Tom Barrett of Maple Heights in the consolation bracket. John Pugh also won one match before losing. Paul Brown and Sam Hall were beaten in the first round.

Maple Heights is the defending state champion and it easily won the district title. The top three wrestlers in each class from this district go to the state finals.

Haddox, Lowther Win Regional Mat Titles

Gail Haddox and Dave Lowther won individual titles as Oak Glen finished fourth in the Region 1 wrestling tournament held at Moundsville Saturday.

Lowther, defending state champion at 145 pounds, decisioned previously unbeaten John Wilson of Moundsville 2-0 in the finals. He decisioned Jerry Minor of Union 6-1 in the semi-finals and had decisioned Jewell of Wheeling in the first round 6-0.

Haddox decisioned Rick Prado of the host team 7-3 in the finals of the 112-pound class. He beat Gene Hill of Union 7-2 in the semi-finals and pinned McConnell of Wheeling in the first round in 1:24.

Craig Whittington lost in the 133-pound finals to Doug Pettit of Moundsville 4-1 and Dave Chilenski fell 10-2 to Joe Rich of Union in the 165-pound finals. Whittington had decisioned Gene Hill of Union 7-3 in the semi-finals and pinned Helmick of Weirton in 3:52 of the first round. Chilenski pinned Ray Ritz of Warwood in 5:20 in the semi-finals.

Bill Wells lost in the semi-finals of the 95-pound class when he was pinned in 49 seconds by Mike Faick of Wheeling. Wells had decisioned Malinsky of Wellsburg 11-4 in the first round. Fred Miller, top seeded in the 138-pound class, was beaten in the semi-finals by Joe Fogletti of Weirton 7-1. Miller had decisioned Pentino of Triadelphia 6-0 in the first round.

Lynn Harrell decisioned Puskarich of Follansbee 9-0 in a preliminary match at 120 pounds, but then lost to Ray Sacripanti of Weirton 6-0. Mike Swartzmiller lost a 12-0 decision to Don Dunaway of Wheeling in the first round of the 112-pound class, Jack Porter was pinned in 44 seconds by Bill Weaver of Follansbee in the first round of the 127-pound class and Ed Fields was decisioned 4-3 by Ken Casto of Wellsburg in the first round of the heavyweight division.

Moundsville won the tourney with 41 points, while Wheeling had 36, Weirton 35 and Oak Glen 34. Haddox and Lowther will wrestle in the state finals at Parkersburg next week. Vince Monseau's team is the defending state champion, but chances for a repeat of this feat are small, although no school from Region 1 qualified more than two wrestlers for the finals.

Weirton Madonna Wins Junior High Tournament

Weirton Madonna rallied to beat Westgate and win the championship of the East Liverpool Junior High Tournament at the Memorial Auditorium Saturday afternoon.

Westgate jumped off to a 19-8 first quarter lead, but the Blue Dons kept battling back and finally caught the Wildcats in the fourth quarter.

Bob Deem had 16 to lead the losers, with Randy McVay and Joe March netting 12 each. McCune had 18 and Yakunich 17 for the winners.

Beaver Falls won the consolation game by edging East 39-34. Tom McGeehan had 12 and Robinson 10 for East, which was playing without three of its top players. Young had 11 to pace Beaver Falls.

The ten-man all - tournament team was March, McVay and Deem of Westgate, McGeehan and Ralph Seevers of East, McCune, Yakunich and Quattrochi of Madonna and Young and Ron Smith of Beaver Falls.

Pierce Edges Futhey For Cage Yogi Crown

Shaffer posted a perfect 10-0 mark for the week, but Pierce went 9-1. Futhey, tied with Pierce going into the week's activities, went 8-2. Bob Duffy was 9-1 and Rose Nuzzo 8-2 as the Yogis overall had their best week of the campaign, with the consensus having a perfect mark. Duffy and Nuzzo ended tied for last place.

Pierce and Duffy's lone slip was Columbiana's 62-57 win over Leetonia. Futhey and Nuzzo missed Wellsville's 55-49 win over Toronto, and Nuzzo was wrong on Poland's 51-40 triumph over Leetonia and Futhey's final downfall was Oak Glen's 83-72 triumph over Ft. Cherry.

Everyone was right on East Liverpool, which beat Barberton 52-29 and Martins Ferry 75-56; on Midland, a 45-43 winner over Seneca Valley; on South Side, which posted an 80-65 triumph over Western Beaver; on East Palestine, a 72-43 victor over Lisbon, and on Steubenville Central, which measured Wellsville 70-48.

Knudson Wins Phoenix By Three-Stroke Margin

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — "I can't remember wanting to win a golf tournament as much as I did this one."

Knudson, a 31-year-old tour regular from Toronto, Canada, carded an even-par 71 in Sunday's final round for a 12-under-par 272 and a three-stroke victory over three challengers.

Oddly, it was a four-foot bogey putt on the 210-yard, par-3 15th hole which Knudson considered the spark that led to his first triumph since the 1967 New Orleans Open and his fifth tour win.

"I showed my colors there," said the chain-smoking Knudson of the putt which managed to keep him even with charging Sam Carmichael, after he had put his tee shot in a lake in front of the green.

Carmichael, who parred the 15th, held a share of the lead only briefly and fell two strokes behind after the next two bogeys. He was only one of two challengers who caught Knudson during the final round over the 6,765-yard, par-71 Phoenix County Club Course.

"Nothing I did was too easy," said Knudson. "I spent all day watching what the others were doing. It wasn't until the 18th hole that I was able to take my first big swing of the day."

Knudson carried a two-stroke lead into the final hole and then holed out a three-foot birdie putt to put him 3-up on Carmichael, Martinsville, Ind., who finished with even-par 71.

Defending champion Julius Boros, who finished in a tie with Carmichael and young Jack Montgomery, Fort Worth, Tex., for second place, each with nine-under 275, missed a shot to be all alone in the runner-up spot.

He pitched to within three feet of the hole on the 535-yard, par-5 18th hole, but his putt rolled to the left of the hole. Second place was worth $8,166 to each of the three players.

Finishing in a tie for third place, each at eight-under 276, were Frank Beard and Bert Yancey. Each won $4,050.

Poland Beats Leetonia, Finishes Season 13-5

POLAND — Poland ended its regular season 13-5 with a 51-40 win over Leetonia here Saturday night, but the Bulldogs still finished a game behind East Palestine in the Tri - County League race.

Leetonia ended the campaign 8-10 overall, 4-8 in league play.

Jeff Laughlin had 17 points for the winners and Randy Walter added 12. Dan Bell led the Bears with 13 and Jay Bland had 10. Art Kovacs' team played without high scorer Allen Gibson, who injured an ankle Friday night against Columbiana. Gibson is expected to be ready for the Bears' tourney opened Thursday night against Lisbon, however.

Leetonia slowed down the game, but Poland got an early lead and drew steadily away.

Pro Football Leagues Discuss Joint Problems

NEW YORK (AP) — Professional football's two major leagues went to work on the knotty problems growing out of their two-year old merger at joint meetings starting here today.

Included on the agenda for Commissioner Pete Rozelle and officials of the National and American Leagues are the establishment of committees to work out the realignment of the leagues, scheduling, player relations and other issues.

Also to be discussed at the meetings, which could last four days, are the Super Bowl site for 1969, minor league policy, and the NFL's four-divisional arrangement.

Rozelle has indicated that the first tentative steps towards realignment would be taken at these meetings. The two leagues expect to have a combined single schedule in 1970 and progress towards that target could be slow with teams hesitant to alter what has become a highly successful formula.

A pre-season 1968 schedule of inter-league games also must be set.

Lisbon Beats Minerva To Close Out Season

LISBON — The Lisbon Blue Devils snapped a four - game losing streak and closed the regular season 7-9 with a 67-61 win over Minerva here Saturday night.

Minerva finished the campaign 1-17 after going 18-0 in the regular season a year ago. Lisbon ended 5-7 in Tri-County League play.

Bill Hartman hooped 22 points to pace Gary Pike's team, while Mike Rutecki added 19 and Terry Apple 11. Dan Dager had 16 for the losers with Carl Dennis adding 13 and George Knudson 12.

The Blue Devils jumped off to a big lead of 42-20 at halftime and hung on for the win. There was a brawl at halftime involving spectators from both schools, but the players were restrained by police from entering the fray.

Minerva won the reserve contest 60-57 behind 24 points by Crawford. Francis Gardner had 18, Joe Ieropoli 13 and Roger James 10 for the losers.

Crusaders Whip Wellsville 70-48

WELLSVILLE — The Wellsville Tigers' bid for a .500 season was cut down by a cold third period Saturday night here as Steubenville Central won 70-48.

Wellsville never led in the game, but trailed only 33-27 at halftime. Central outscored the home team 18-2 in the third quarter to wrap up the victory.

The Crusaders of John Nese were red hot, hitting 60 per cent of their field goal attempts. They connected on 7 of 9 in the first period and 8 of 10 in the fourth period.

Tom McClain led the losers with 23 points and 18 rebounds. Jim Fonow had 21, and Dave Suba and Ray Szypulski 16 points each for the winners, who controlled the boards 49-38.

Central ended the season 11-7, Wellsville 8-10.

Wellsville hit only 1 of 13 field goal attempts in the third period. Mark Powel was injured in this quarter when he was elbowed in the head by Szypulski.

The Wellsville reserves ended the year 15-3, one of the best reserve records in the history of the school. They won 59-38 Saturday, as John Bobalik had 15 points and Paul Martin and Joe Dangelo 13 each. Terry Flaherty had 14 points for the losers.

Winter Olympics Closes Amidst Ski Controversy

By MORRIS ROSENBERG

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — The Winter Olympics, beset by injury and warm weather, ended in controversy and anger, and possibly set the stage for more of the same at the Summer Olympics next October.

The administrative antics off the ice and snow all but overshadowed the athletes and such performances as Jean-Claude Killy's sweep of the men's Alpine skiing, Eugenio Monti's two victories in the bobsleds and a pair of gold medals for Toini Gustafsson in the women's cross-country skiing.

However, it did not shake U.S. pride in skaters Peggy Fleming, Terry McDermott, Tim Wood, Diane Holum, Jenny Fish and Mary Meyers, nor its disappointment in the injury-prone U.S. skiers and the hockey team. In all, the United States finished with one gold medal, five silver and one bronze—a total of seven, one more than in 1964.

The Games officially closed Sunday night in traditional ceremonies at the Grenoble ice rink and the extinguishing of the Olympic flame, which burned for 12 days and nights for 37 countries. It will be relit in Mexico City and more countries will be represented, as usual for the Summer Games. But a number who normally would compete now look doubtful.

A bloc of predominately Negro African nations have pulled out, protesting an International Olympic Committee decision to allow South Africa with its apartheid policy of segregation to participate with an integrated team.

There also is some fear of a Russian pullout after the Soviet Union denounced the IOC decision.

"Without Russia the Olympics Games would still be the Olympic Games," said Frank Braun, president of the South African Olympic Association. "In any case, I cannot see Russia withdrawing—not with all those medals at stake."

He added that there is "not a ghost of a chance of us withdrawing" as an act of self sacrifice should Russia withdraw.

And while that turmoil bubbled, Austria and Karl Schranz still raged over Killy's victory in the special slalom by default Saturday.

Killy, the Games' top performer with victories in the downhill, giant slalom and special slalom, accomplished the rare triple that only Toni Sailer of Austria had done before in 1956. But the speeding Frenchman needed two disqualifications—Schranz and Hakkon Mjoen of Norway—to win, and send thousands of Frenchmen celebrating and an equal number of Austrians screaming "foul."

"It was an unjust decision," said Schranz, who was disqualified with Mjoen for missing gates in the second heat after their times beat Killy's clocking.

Schranz claimed an unidentified onlooker hindered him on the foggy course, causing him to miss the gate, but the International Skiing Federation threw out his protest, saying he missed the gate before the onlooker impeded him.

A press conference called by the Austrian team to present its case Sunday ended in angry shouting with French newsmen.

East Germany also left with a bitter taste after three of its girl lugers, running 1-2-4 in the singles, were disqualified for heating the runners on their sleds against Olympic rules.

There also was a minor battle between the Ski Federation and IOC over the use of manufacturers' trademarks on skis, and a protest by skiers against the use of classification runs to determine starting positions in the slalom.

Warm weather, fog and rain added to the headaches by forcing numerous luge and bobsled postponements and finally abbreviating the events.

The U.S. ski team had just as many problems in competition, failing to capture a medal amid injuries and disqualifications.

Among the men, Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., America's top hope, twisted an ankle in practice and never regained top form; Jere Elliott and Jim Barrows, both of Steamboat Springs, Colo., took heavy falls in the downhill and retired for the rest of the games, and ski jumper Georg Krog of Denver, Colo., got caught in a cross wind in practice and landed on his head, suffering multiple injuries.

For the women, Karen Budge of Jackson, Wyo., was injured in a freak training accident and never competed and Robin Morning of Santa Monica, Calif., broke a leg before the games began. The youthful group of Judy Nagel of Enumclaw, Wash., Kiki Cutter of Bend, Ore., Wendy Allen of San Pedro, Calif., and Rosie Fortna of Warren, Vt., turned in fine runs in the special slalom only to be disqualified for missing gates.

And the U.S. hockey team finished a dismal sixth, its worst ever, with a 2-4-1 record.

But it was not all bad news for the Americans.

Wood of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., picked up a surprise silver in the men's as Wolfgang Schwarz of Austria won while his heavily-favored countryman, Emmerich Danzer, finished a shocking fourth.

McDermott of Birmingham, Mich., surprised by picking up a silver in the men's 500-meter speed skating. Misses Holum of Northbrook, Ill., Meyers of St. Paul, Minn., and Fish of Strongsville, Ohio, finished in an unprecedented three-way tie for second place in the women's 500. All got silvers.

Jack Havice Beaten In District Semi-Final

Jack Havice, unbeaten 112-pounder, won his first two matches but was decisioned by Tom Milkovich of Maple Heights in the semi-finals. Jim Bowersock won one match before losing 1-0 to Tom Barrett of Maple Heights in the consolation bracket. John Pugh also won one match before losing. Paul Brown and Sam Hall were beaten in the first round.

Maple Heights is the defending state champion and it easily won the district title. The top three wrestlers in each class from this district go to the state finals.

Haddox, Lowther Win Regional Mat Titles

Gail Haddox and Dave Lowther won individual titles as Oak Glen finished fourth in the Region 1 wrestling tournament held at Moundsville Saturday.

Lowther, defending state champion at 145 pounds, decisioned previously unbeaten John Wilson of Moundsville 2-0 in the finals. He decisioned Jerry Minor of Union 6-1 in the semi-finals and had decisioned Jewell of Wheeling in the first round 6-0.

Haddox decisioned Rick Prado of the host team 7-3 in the finals of the 112-pound class. He beat Gene Hill of Union 7-2 in the semi-finals and pinned McConnell of Wheeling in the first round in 1:24.

Craig Whittington lost in the 133-pound finals to Doug Pettit of Moundsville 4-1 and Dave Chilenski fell 10-2 to Joe Rich of Union in the 165-pound finals. Whittington had decisioned Gene Hill of Union 7-3 in the semi-finals and pinned Helmick of Weirton in 3:52 of the first round. Chilenski pinned Ray Ritz of Warwood in 5:20 in the semi-finals.

Bill Wells lost in the semi-finals of the 95-pound class when he was pinned in 49 seconds by Mike Falck of Wheeling. Wells had decisioned Malinsky of Wellsburg 11-4 in the first round. Fred Miller, top seeded in the 138-pound class, was beaten in the semi-finals by Joe Fogletti of Weirton 7-1. Miller had decisioned Pentino of Triadelphia 6-0 in the first round.

Lynn Harrell decisioned Puskarich of Follansbee 9-0 in a preliminary match at 120 pounds, but then lost to Ray Sacripanti of Weirton 6-0. Mike Swartzmiller lost a 12-0 decision to Don Dunaway of Wheeling in the first round of the 112-pound class, Jack Porter was pinned in 44 seconds by Bill Weaver of Follansbee in the first round of the 127-pound class and Ed Fields was decisioned 4-3 by Ken Casto of Wellsburg in the first round of the heavyweight division.

Moundsville won the tourney with 41 points, while Wheeling had 36, Weirton 35 and Oak Glen 34. Haddox and Lowther will wrestle in the state finals at Parkersburg next week. Vince Monseau's team is the defending state champion, but chances for a repeat of this feat are small, although no school from Region 1 qualified more than two wrestlers for the finals.

Leetonia ended the campaign 8-10 overall, 4-8 in league play.

Jeff Laughlin had 17 points for the winners and Randy Walter added 12. Dan Bell led the Bears with 13 and Jay Bland had 10. Art Kovacs' team played without high scorer Allen Gibson, who injured an ankle Friday night against Columbiana. Gibson is expected to be ready for the Bears' tourney opened Thursday night against Lisbon, however.

Leetonia slowed down the game, but Poland got an early lead and drew steadily away.

Pro Football Leagues Discuss Joint Problems

NEW YORK (AP) — Professional football's two major leagues went to work on the knotty problems growing out of their two-year old merger at joint meetings starting here today.

Included on the agenda for Commissioner Pete Rozelle and officials of the National and American Leagues are the establishment of committees to work out the realignment of the leagues, scheduling, player relations and other issues.

Also to be discussed at the meetings, which could last four days, are the Super Bowl site for 1969, minor league policy, and the NFL's four-divisional arrangement.

Rozelle has indicated that the first tentative steps towards realignment would be taken at these meetings. The two leagues expect to have a combined single schedule in 1970 and progress towards that target could be slow with teams hesitant to alter what has become a highly successful formula.

A pre-season 1968 schedule of inter-league games also must be set.

Lisbon Beats Minerva To Close Out Season

LISBON — The Lisbon Blue Devils snapped a four - game losing streak and closed the regular season 7-9 with a 67-61 win over Minerva here Saturday night.

Minerva finished the campaign 1-17 after going 18-0 in the regular season a year ago. Lisbon ended 5-7 in Tri-County League play.

Bill Hartman hooped 22 points to pace Gary Pike's team, while Mike Rutecki added 19 and Terry Apple 11. Dan Dager had 16 for the losers with Carl Dennis adding 13 and George Knudson 12.

The Blue Devils jumped off to a big lead of 42-20 at halftime and hung on for the win. There was a brawl at halftime involving spectators from both schools, but the players were restrained by police from entering the fray.

Minerva won the reserve contest 60-57 behind 24 points by Crawford. Francis Gardner had 18, Joe Ieropoli 13 and Roger James 10 for the losers.

First Tourney Bids Tomorrow

Conference Races In Home Stretch

By MIKE RECHT

The plot thickens as most of the major college conference basketball races remain muddled on the eve of post-season tournament bids, but Houston and St. Bonaventure leave little suspense among the independents.

The unbeaten Cougars and Bonnies, ranked No. 1 and No. 4 respectively, led an impressive week for all but two—Tennessee and New Mexico—of the Top Ten teams and appear certain to get the first bids this week.

Houston, after stomping Miami, Fla. early in the week and then Air Force 106-82 Saturday in Houston for its 23rd victory, is likely to be the first selection for the 25-team NCAA tournament.

St. Bonaventure, idle Saturday after an early week triumph over Seton Hall, sports an 18-0 record and could be the 14-team NIT's first pick.

However, only second-ranked UCLA, figured a shoo-in for the Pacific-8 Conference crown, has an NCAA bid all but wrapped up among the conference teams. The Bruins, 20-1 after clobbering Oregon and then Oregon State 88-71 Friday and Saturday at home, are 9-1 in the league but must play second place Southern California, 8-1, march 9.

Elsewhere, the tension grows, particularly in the Southeastern Conference where three of the Top Ten teams are involved.

Tennessee, No. 7, dropped a 75-63 decision at Nashville to ninth-rated Vanderbilt following a 60-59 heart-breaking loss to eighth-ranked Kentucky.

Kentucky stopped Mississippi State 107-81 Saturday at home and took a 1½-game lead with an 11-3 league record, 17-4 overall. Tennessee, 15-5, and Vanderbilt, 17-4, are tied for second at 9-4.

Kentucky plays at tough Georgia tonight and closes its season at home March 2 in a showdown against Vanderbilt. Vandy must take on Georgia later this week while Tennessee has left six of the SEC's less successful clubs.

Third-ranked North Carolina, 20-1, followed victories over North Carolina State and Clemson with a narrow 84-80 escape over South Carolina at Charlotte.

Duke, 10th ranked and second to North Carolina in the Atlantic Coast Conference, ran over visiting Temple 92-57 Saturday after a league triumph over Wake Forest.

The Tar Heels and Blue Devils meet March 2, but the ACC title is decided in a post-season conference tournament.

New Mexico, 20-2, put its No. 5 ranking and the Western Athletic Conference crown in jeopardy by losing at Utah 71-64 and dropping into a first place tie with the Redskins at 5-2.

The other Top Ten team, Columbia, No. 6, crushed Harvard 116-56 at home for its 13th straight victory and 17th in 20 games, but it didn't crack an Ivy League deadlock for first place with Princeton, 17-4. Both are 9-1 after the Tigers whipped Yale 74-71.

Columbia and Princeton clash March 2, with the winner likely to get an at-large bid to the NCAA.

In other conference races, Davidson holds a half game lead over West Virginia after humbling host George Washington 85-72 but a post-season tournament will decide that champion.

Iowa took the Big Ten lead by a half game over Ohio State and Northwestern with a home court 69-61 victory over Wisconsin while the Buckeyes were upset at Minnesota 83-79 and the Wildcats beat Michigan State 69-61 at home. Iowa and Ohio State crack heads Tuesday night.

Baylor had its Southwest Conference lead shaved to a half game over Texas AM, TCU and Texas by losing to visiting AM 67-63.

A half game separates Kansas, Iowa State, Kansas State and Nebraska in the Big Eight with Kansas on top after beating Nebraska 71-60 at Lawrence. Idle Louisville leads the Missouri Valley by two games.

Gophers Drop Buckeyes From Big 10 Top Spot

By DON BANDY
Associated Press Writer

The stakes are high this week in Ohio college basketball action. It's the last big week of the campaign with important games just about every night.

Ohio State, which led the Big Ten race for two weeks, is now fighting to stay alive in the title chase. The Buckeyes host Northwestern Tuesday night, and no doubt they're thinking there's no place like home.

The Buckeyes lost twice on the road last week, first to Wisconsin and then Saturday to Minnesota, 83-69. The victory by the lowly Gophers knocked Ohio State out of the Big Ten lead.

Bowling Green, a 79-67 winner over Western Michigan Saturday, can clinch at least a tie in the Mid-American Conference by beating Kent State Tuesday night.

The Ohio Conference race is still up for grabs as four teams, Denison, Baldwin - Wallace, Otterbein and Kenyon, have suffered only two losses each. Denison, leading the pack at 10-2, can earn a share of the title with a victory over Wooster Tuesday.

And Dayton, riding a six-game winning streak after routing DePaul 70-58 Saturday, is still hoping for a postseason tournament bid, either in the NIT or the NCAA. The Flyers are at Canisius next Saturday. Don May led Dayton past DePaul with 22 points. Dayton is now 13-9 for the season.

Ohio State never led against Minnesota, but managed to tie it 68-68 and 70-70 before the Gophers put it out of reach. Tom Kondla led the Minnesota attack with 32 points. Bill Hosket topped Ohio State with 25.

Ohio State and Northwestern are tied for second place with 6-3 records behind Iowa, the new leader with a 6-2 slate. The Buckeyes travel to Purdue for a rematch with the Boilermakers next Saturday.

Walt Piatkowski poured in 29 points in Bowling Green's victory over Western Michigan on the Bronco's floor. Bowling Green leads the MAC with a 10-2 mark. Marshall is still in second place at 7-3 and Toledo is third at 6-3.

If Bowling Green beats Kent Tuesday, the BeeGees can win their first championship since 1962-63 with a Saturday triumph over Ohio University.

In the only other MAC game, Ohio University edged Miami 70-68 despite 33 points by Miami's Fred Foster. Toledo and Kent State played out of the conference. Steve Mix scored 27 points in Toledo's 72-55 rout of East Carolina, and Ball State of Indiana downed Kent 75-65. Doug Grayson had 16 points for Kent.

Denison had to go to overtime before edging Wittenberg 68-64, with Karl Dolstad scoring what proved to be the winning basket. Charlie Claggett led Denison with 39 points. Wittenberg fell to 7-4 in the conference.

In other Ohio Conference games, Kenyon's high-scoring guards John Rinka and John Dunlop paced the Lords past Mount Union 116-69. Rinka sank 38 points and Dunlop 32. Kenyon is 8-2 in conference play.

Otterbein and Baldwin - Wallace are the other two teams in the OC title race, both with 9 - 2 marks. Otterbein edged Wooster 73 - 71, and Baldwin-Wallace dumped Capital 87-77.

Elsewhere in the OC, Marietta beat Heidelberg 78-67, Oberlin trimmed Hiram 60-55, and Ohio Wesleyan edged Muskingum 65-62.

Cincinnati gained third place in the Missouri Valley Conference with an easy 75-58 home victory over Tulsa. Four Cincy starters were in double figures with John Howard high with 19 points.

The Queen City's other team, Xavier, lost to Duquesne in Pittsburgh Sunday 85-67. Bob Quick scored 27 points for Xavier, which now shows a disappointing 8-15 slate.

Ashland rolled to its 20th victory against only two defeats, beating Waynesburg 60-32. Ohio Northern (14-3) upset Findlay (17-4) 91-74, Case Tech whipped Washington & Jefferson 85-75, and Georgetown, Ky., nipped Rio Grande 85-84. Tony Bass had 25 for Rio. Defiance (20-3) beat Wilmington 88-78.

San Diego Snaps Streak, Upsets 76ers 111-106

By The Associated Press

With a chance to set a National Basketball Association Record, the San Diego Rockets blew it—they won.

And the West Coast expansion team did it the hard way. They knocked off the defending world champion Philadelphia 76ers 111-106 Sunday night, stopping a 17-game losing skid which had tied the NBA record for most losses in a season.

San Diego hadn't won since Jan. 17, when the Rockets nipped Chicago, 110-104. Friday night's 124-108 loss to the 76ers had tied the record held by San Francisco in 1964-65.

In other games Sunday, Cincinnati beat Boston 107-100, Detroit broke a five-game losing string with a 123-104 victory over San Francisco and Chicago defeated St. Louis 113-107.

Don Kojis, with 25 points, and Art "Hambone" Williams, with 10 points and 10 assists, sparked the Rockets, who led all the way. The 76ers got to within 97-94 with 7:44 to play.

But Kojis hit a basket and Williams set up Jim Barnett for two easy baskets and the Rockets had finally won. Wilt Chamberlain had 34 points for the 76ers and Billy Cunningham added 30.

In Saturday's NBA action, Cincinnati nipped Baltimore 117-115, New York clobbered Seattle, 134-111, Boston tripped St. Louis 113-99 and in two overtimes, Philadelphia defeated Los Angeles 135-134.

Houston dropped Dallas 110-93, New Orleans ripped Oakland 132-111 and Pittsburgh got by Denver 102-93 in Sunday's American Basketball Association contests.

Detroit, playing without league-leading scorer Dave Bing, snapped its string as four Pistons fired in 20 or more points.

Cincinnati lost an early lead but rallied behind Oscar Robertson, who had a game-high 30 points, in the second half. It was the Royals' fourth straight victory and ended the Celtics' four game winning streak.

Jerry Sloan tossed in four key free throws in the final minute to give the bulls their first victory of the year over St. Louis. The Hawks had won six times.

Chicago hit for 42 points in the final period, hitting 15 of 20 shots from the field. Len Wilkens topped the Hawks with 29 points while McCoy McLemore and Jim Washington had 24 for the Bulls.

Pipers Win Twice, Lead Muskies By 1½

By The Associated Press

The Pipers opened a 1½ game lead over Minnesota with victories over New Orleans 129-121 Saturday and Denver 103-92 Sunday, both at home. Minnesota was idle both days.

New Orleans rallied after Saturday's loss and clobbered Oakland 132-11 at home Sunday and regained its four-game lead over Denver and 4½-game edge over Dallas in the Western Division.

Pittsburgh did not look like a weekend whirlwind for the first four minutes, 53 seconds against Denver when it went without a field goal and trailed 20-14 at the quarter.

But, breaking loose their fast break the Pipers galloped to a 44-42 halftime lead and pulled to a comfortable spread in the third quarter. Denver never recovered.

Charlie Williams scored 36 points for Pittsburgh and Connie Hawkins added 21 with 19 rebounds. Willie Murrell had 20 points for the Rockets.

E. Liverpool Wrestlers Lose Early

The three East Liverpool wrestlers that had qualified for the regionals, held at Martins Ferry Saturday, met with early reversals.

Rick Eckles couldn't make weight at 112 pounds. He had been suffering from a pulled leg muscle during the week and couldn't work out, so was ¾ of a pound overweight at the weigh-ins.

South Side Wrestlers Blanked

Villanova Breaks Mark In Relay Race

LOUISVILLE, Cy. (AP) — Two world indoor records in one meet might be good enough for some places but for the Mason-Dixon Games it's considered an off year.

Villanova's two-mile relay team broke its own world indoor record with a 7:23.7 time and Mamie Rallins established a world mark of 8.7 in the women's 70-yard low hurdles to provide the highlights of the eighth annual Games Saturday.

But that quota is below par for the Games, which holds nine standing world indoor records in both men's and women's event —more than any other indoor track.

In 1967, three world indoor marks were established, four were set in both 1964 and 1965 and five world records fell in the 1963 meet.

Glenmoor, Boyce Lead Church Loop

The two leaders in the YMCA Church Basketball League divisions kept unbeaten in play at the Y Saturday night.

Boyce Methodist won its seventh straight of the season in the Inter - Collegiate Division with a 27-15 triumph over Chester Nazarene, 2-5. Mike Linville netted 12 for the winners and R. Brown 9 for the losers. Glenmoor UP ran its Collegiate Division record to 7-0 with a 28-6 slaughter of Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist, 3-4. Jim Tipton scored 12 points.

Trinity Presbyterian and Grace UP stayed a step behind Glenmoor as Trinity beat Chester First Methodist, 0-7, by 24-6 and Grace nipped First UP, 4-3, by 22-20. Carter had 7 for Trinity, Dean Horger 8 for Grace and John Connell 15 for First UP.

First Church of Christ edged St. Aloysius 20-18. Both teams were 3-3 going into the game. Dave Kyle had 16 for the winners and Jim Cupp and Brendan Hoffman 6 each for the losers. Oakland Free Methodist, 2-5, sent Calvary Methodist down to its seventh straight loss with a 9-6 win. Danny Reynolds had 3 for the winners, Parsons 3 for the losers.

In Inter-Collegiate games, St. Ann's stayed one game back of Boyce with a 25-9 trouncing of Chester Christian, 1-6. Kim Kuzzingski had 14 points. First Nazarene spilled Central Methodist 26-20 as George Hanlon had 10 points for the winners and Byers 8 for the losers. Both teams are now 5-2.

LaCroft Nazarene upped its mark to 5-2 with a 12-10 win over winless St. Stephen's. Mike Cronin had 8 for the winners, Bruce Rohre 5 for the losers. St. John's, 3-4, edged First Methodist, 1-6, by 11-10, as Melchiorre had 6 for the winners and Mike Fitzgerald 9.

Waterford Not Racing Two Days

Waterford Park was idle today and will be closed again tomorrow as a result of unusual weather conditions in the area. Racing will resume Wednesday with the usual post time of 1:30 p.m.

The two-day cancellation was announced late Saturday after James F. Edwards, Waterford Park president, had consulted with the West Virginia racing commission. Not only was the weather not suitable for the conduct of racing as it usually is run, but it also has prohibited the arrival of many of the horses which have stall reservations at the West Virginia track.

The Saturday opener was featured by the usual Inaugural and it was won by Lockroy, a speed merchant which is owned and trained by George Stribling, an Ohio breeder. Match Stick was second and Jebby third. Lockroy gained top honors after a very slow start, but once he straightened out in the run down the stretch he proved his superiority in a convincing manner.

First Tourney Bids Tomorrow

Conference Races In Home Stretch

By MIKE RECHT

The plot thickens as most of the major college conference basketball races remain muddled on the eve of post-season tournament bids, but Houston and St. Bonaventure leave little suspense among the independents.

The unbeaten Cougars and Bonnies, ranked No. 1 and No. 4 respectively, led an impressive week for all but two—Tennessee and New Mexico—of the Top Ten teams and appear certain to get the first bids this week.

Houston, after stomping Miami, Fla. early in the week and then Air Force 106-82 Saturday in Houston for its 23rd victory, is likely to be the first selection for the 25-team NCAA tournament.

St. Bonaventure, idle Saturday after an early week triumph over Seton Hall, sports an 18-0 record and could be the 14-team NIT's first pick.

However, only second-ranked UCLA, figured a shoo-in for the Pacific-8 Conference crown, has an NCAA bid all but wrapped up among the conference teams. The Bruins, 20-1 after clobbering Oregon and then Oregon State 88-71 Friday and Saturday at home, are 9-1 in the league but must play second place Southern California, 8-1, march 9.

Elsewhere, the tension grows, particularly in the Southeastern Conference where three of the Top Ten teams are involved.

Tennessee, No. 7, dropped a 75-63 decision at Nashville to ninth-rated Vanderbilt following a 60-59 heart-breaking loss to eighth-ranked Kentucky.

Kentucky stopped Mississippi State 107-81 Saturday at home and took a 1½-game lead with an 11-3 league record, 17-4 overall. Tennessee, 15-5, and Vanderbilt, 17-4, are tied for second at 9-4.

Kentucky plays at tough Georgia tonight and closes its season at home March 2 in a showdown against Vanderbilt. Vandy must take on Georgia later this week while Tennessee has left six of the SEC's less successful clubs.

Duke, 10th ranked and second to North Carolina in the Atlantic Coast Conference, ran over visiting Temple 92-57 Saturday after a league triumph over Wake Forest.

The Tar Heels and Blue Devils meet March 2, but the ACC title is decided in a post-season conference tournament.

New Mexico, 20-2, put its No. 5 ranking and the Western Athletic Conference crown in jeopardy by losing at Utah 71-64 and dropping into a first place tie with the Redskins at 5-2.

The other Top Ten team, Columbia, No. 6, crushed Harvard 116-56 at home for its 13th straight victory and 17th in 20 games, but it didn't crack an Ivy League deadlock for first place with Princeton, 17-4. Both are 9-1 after the Tigers whipped Yale 74-71.

Columbia and Princeton clash March 2, with the winner likely to get an at-large bid to the NCAA.

In other conference races, Davidson holds a half game lead over West Virginia after humbling host George Washington 85-72 but a post-season tournament will decide that champion.

Iowa took the Big Ten lead by a half game over Ohio State and Northwestern with a home court 69-61 victory over Wisconsin while the Buckeyes were upset at Minnesota 83-79 and the Wildcats beat Michigan State 69-61 at home. Iowa and Ohio State crack heads Tuesday night.

Baylor had its Southwest Conference lead shaved to a half game over Texas AM, TCU and Texas by losing to visiting AM 67-63.

A half game separates Kansas, Iowa State, Kansas State and Nebraska in the Big Eight with Kansas on top after beating Nebraska 71-60 at Lawrence. Idle Louisville leads the Missouri Valley by two games.

Gophers Drop Buckeyes From Big 10 Top Spot

By DON BANDY
Associated Press Writer

The stakes are high this week in Ohio college basketball action. It's the last big week of the campaign with important games just about every night.

Ohio State, which led the Big Ten race for two weeks, is now fighting to stay alive in the title chase. The Buckeyes host Northwestern Tuesday night, and no doubt they're thinking there's no place like home.

The Buckeyes lost twice on the road last week, first to Wisconsin and then Saturday to Minnesota, 83-69. The victory by the lowly Gophers knocked Ohio State out of the Big Ten lead.

Bowling Green, a 79-67 winner over Western Michigan Saturday, can clinch at least a tie in the Mid-American Conference by beating Kent State Tuesday night.

The Ohio Conference race is still up for grabs as four teams, Denison, Baldwin - Wallace, Otterbein and Kenyon, have suffered only two losses each. Denison, leading the pack at 10-2, can earn a share of the title with a victory over Wooster Tuesday.

And Dayton, riding a six-game winning streak after routing DePaul 70-58 Saturday, is still hoping for a postseason tournament bid, either in the NIT or the NCAA. The Flyers are at Canisius next Saturday. Don May led Dayton past DePaul with 22 points. Dayton is now 13-9 for the season.

Ohio State never led against Minnesota, but managed to tie it 68-68 and 70-70 before the Gophers put it out of reach. Tom Kondla led the Minnesota attack with 32 points. Bill Hosket topped Ohio State with 25.

Ohio State and Northwestern are tied for second place with 6-3 records behind Iowa, the new leader with a 6-2 slate. The Buckeyes travel to Purdue for a rematch with the Boilermakers next Saturday.

Walt Piatkowski poured in 29 points in Bowling Green's victory over Western Michigan on the Bronco's floor. Bowling Green leads the MAC with a 10-2 mark. Marshall is still in second place at 7-3 and Toledo is third at 6-3.

If Bowling Green beats Kent Tuesday, the BeeGees can win their first championship since 1962-63 with a Saturday triumph over Ohio University.

In the only other MAC game, Ohio University edged Miami 70-68 despite 33 points by Miami's Fred Foster. Toledo and Kent State played out of the conference. Steve Mix scored 27 points in Toledo's 72-55 rout of East Carolina, and Ball State of Indiana downed Kent 75-65. Doug Grayson had 16 points for Kent.

Denison had to go to overtime before edging Wittenberg 68-64, with Karl Dolstad scoring what proved to be the winning basket. Charlie Claggett led Denison with 39 points. Wittenberg fell to 7-4 in the conference.

In other Ohio Conference games, Kenyon's high-scoring guards John Rinka and John Dunlop paced the Lords past Mount Union 116-69. Rinka sank 38 points and Dunlop 32. Kenyon is 8-2 in conference play.

Otterbein and Baldwin - Wallace are the other two teams in the OC title race, both with 9 - 2 marks. Otterbein edged Wooster 73 - 71, and Baldwin-Wallace dumped Capital 87-77.

Elsewhere in the OC, Marietta beat Heidelberg 78-67, Oberlin trimmed Hiram 60-55, and Ohio Wesleyan edged Muskingum 65-62.

Cincinnati gained third place in the Missouri Valley Conference with an easy 75-58 home victory over Tulsa. Four Cincy starters were in double figures with John Howard high with 19 points.

The Queen City's other team, Xavier, lost to Duquesne in Pittsburgh Sunday 85-67. Bob Quick scored 27 points for Xavier, which now shows a disappointing 8-15 slate.

Ashland rolled to its 20th victory against only two defeats, beating Waynesburg 60-32. Ohio Northern (14-9) upset Findlay (17-4) 91-74, Case Tech whipped Washington & Jefferson 85-75, and Georgetown, Ky., nipped Rio Grande 85-84. Tony Bass had 25 for Rio. Defiance (20-3) beat Wilmington 88-78.

San Diego Snaps Streak, Upsets 76ers 111-106

By The Associated Press

With a chance to set a National Basketball Association Record, the San Diego Rockets blew it—they won.

And the West Coast expansion team did it the hard way. They knocked off the defending world champion Philadelphia 76ers 111-106 Sunday night, stopping a 17-game losing skid which had tied the NBA record for most losses in a season.

San Diego hadn't won since Jan. 17, when the Rockets nipped Chicago, 110-104. Friday night's 124-108 loss to the 76ers had tied the record held by San Francisco in 1964-65.

In other games Sunday, Cincinnati beat Boston 107-100, Detroit broke a five-game losing string with a 123-104 victory over San Francisco and Chicago defeated St. Louis 113-107.

Don Kojis, with 25 points, and Art "Hambone" Williams, with 10 points and 10 assists, sparked the Rockets, who led all the way. The 76ers got to within 97-94 with 7:44 to play.

But Kojis hit a basket and Williams set up Jim Barnett for two easy baskets and the Rockets had finally won. Wilt Chamberlain had 34 points for the 76ers and Billy Cunningham added 30.

In Saturday's NBA action, Cincinnati nipped Baltimore 117-115, New York clobbered Seattle, 134-111, Boston tripped St. Louis 113-99 and in two overtimes, Philadelphia defeated Los Angeles 135-134.

Houston dropped Dallas 110-93, New Orleans ripped Oakland 132-111 and Pittsburgh got by Denver 102-93 in Sunday's American Basketball Association contests.

Detroit, playing without league-leading scorer Dave Bing, snapped its string as four Pistons fired in 20 or more points.

Cincinnati lost an early lead but rallied behind Oscar Robertson, who had a game-high 30 points, in the second half. It was the Royals' fourth straight victory and ended the Celtics' four game winning streak.

Sam Jones topped Boston with 24 points as the biggest Cincinnati home crowd of the season —10,275—watched.

Jerry Sloan tossed in four key free throws in the final minute to give the bulls their first victory of the year over St. Louis. The Hawks had won six times.

Chicago hit for 42 points in the final period, hitting 15 of 20 shots from the field. Len Wilkens topped the Hawks with 29 points while McCoy McLemore and Jim Washington had 24 for the Bulls.

Pipers Win Twice, Lead Muskies By 1½

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pipers breathed a little easier today after letting in some daylight in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball Association.

The Pipers opened a 1½ game lead over Minnesota with victories over New Orleans 129-121 Saturday and Denver 103-92 Sunday, both at home. Minnesota was idle both days.

New Orleans rallied after Saturday's loss and clobbered Oakland 132-11 at home Sunday and regained its four-game lead over Denver and 4½-game edge over Dallas in the Western Division.

Denver was a 116-106 winner over Kentucky Saturday before bowing to the Pipers while Dallas beat Anaheim 107-100 Saturday before dropping a 110-93 decision at Houston Sunday.

Pittsburgh did not look like a weekend whirlwind for the first four minutes, 53 seconds against Denver when it went without a field goal and trailed 20-14 at the quarter.

But, breaking loose their fast break the Pipers galloped to a 44-42 halftime lead and pulled to a comfortable spread in the third quarter. Denver never recovered.

Charlie Williams scored 38 points for Pittsburgh and Connie Hawkins added 21 with 19 rebounds. Willie Murrell had 20 points for the Rockets.

New Orleans turned a seven-point halftime lead into an 18-point bulge at the end of three periods and coasted. Doug Moe had 24 points for the Buccaneers and Steve Jones 25 for the Oaks.

Houston beat Dallas for the first time, ending a four-game Dallas victory string as Willie Somerset pumped in 31 points. The Mavericks led 58-41 at intermission, let Dallas pull within 79-76 and then pulled away again.

Charles Beasley led the Chaparrals with 22.

E. Liverpool Wrestlers Lose Early

The three East Liverpool wrestlers that had qualified for the regionals, held at Martins Ferry Saturday, met with early reversals.

Rick Eckles couldn't make weight at 112 pounds. He had been suffering from a pulled leg muscle during the week and couldn't work out, so was ¾ of a pound overweight at the weigh-ins.

South Side Wrestlers Blanked

Villanova Breaks Mark In Relay Race

LOUISVILLE, Cy. (AP) — Two world indoor records in one meet might be good enough for some places but for the Mason-Dixon Games it's considered an off year.

Villanova's two-mile relay team broke its own world indoor record with a 7:23.7 time and Mamie Rallins established a world mark of 8.7 in the women's 70-yard low hurdles to provide the highlights of the eighth annual Games Saturday.

But that quota is below par for the Games, which holds nine standing world indoor records in both men's and women's event —more than any other indoor track.

In 1967, three world indoor marks were established, four were set in both 1964 and 1965 and five world records fell in the 1963 meet.

Glenmoor, Boyce Lead Church Loop

The two leaders in the YMCA Church Basketball League divisions kept unbeaten in play at the Y Saturday night.

Boyce Methodist won its seventh straight of the season in the Inter - Collegiate Division with a 27-15 triumph over Chester Nazarene, 2-5. Mike Linville netted 12 for the winners and R. Brown 9 for the losers. Glenmoor UP ran its Collegiate Division record to 7-0 with a 28-6 slaughter of Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist, 3-4. Jim Tipton scored 12 points.

Trinity Presbyterian and Grace UP stayed a step behind Glenmoor as Trinity beat Chester First Methodist, 0-7, by 24-6 and Grace nipped First UP, 4-3, by 22-20. Carter had 7 for Trinity, Dean Horger 8 for Grace and John Connell 15 for First UP.

First Church of Christ edged St. Aloysius 20-18. Both teams were 3-3 going into the game. Dave Kyle had 16 for the winners and Jim Cupp and Brendan Hoffman 6 each for the losers. Oakland Free Methodist, 2-5, sent Calvary Methodist down to its seventh straight loss with a 9-6 win. Danny Reynolds had 3 for the winners, Parsons 3 for the losers.

In Inter-Collegiate games, St. Ann's stayed one game back of Boyce with a 25-9 trouncing of Chester Christian, 1-6. Kim Kuzzingski had 14 points. First Nazarene spilled Central Methodist 26-20 as George Hanlon had 10 points for the winners and Byers 8 for the losers. Both teams are now 5-2.

LaCroft Nazarene upped its mark to 5-2 with a 12-10 win over winless St. Stephen's. Mike Cronin had 8 for the winners, Bruce Rohre 5 for the losers. St. John's, 3-4, edged First Methodist, 1-6, by 11-10, as Melchiorre had 6 for the winners and Mike Fitzgerald 9.

Waterford Not Racing Two Days

Waterford Park was idle today and will be closed again tomorrow as a result of unusual weather conditions in the area. Racing will resume Wednesday with the usual post time of 1:30 p.m.

The two-day cancellation was announced late Saturday after James F. Edwards, Waterford Park president, had consulted with the West Virginia racing commission. Not only was the weather not suitable for the conduct of racing as it usually is run, but it also has prohibited the arrival of many of the horses which have stall reservations at the West Virginia track.

The Saturday opener was featured by the usual Inaugural and it was won by Lockroy, a speed merchant which is owned and trained by George Stribling, an Ohio breeder. Match Stick was second and Jebby third. Lockroy gained top honors after a very slow start, but once he straightened out in the run down the stretch he proved his superiority in a convincing manner.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Is It Laugh-In Or Laugh-Out?

There seems to be no middle road with viewers who've been watching Dan Rowan and Dick Martin's new "Laugh-In" show which replaced "Man From U. N. C. L. E." on NBC a few weeks ago. Viewers either write in protesting the show as a "bunch of tasteless garbage" or saying it's "the brightest thing on TV in years."

Hal Humphrey

Other comics on other networks like the Smothers Brothers on CBS are hailing the "Laugh-In" as a boon to all comedy because of its new liberalism.

-:-

BUT AT NBC itself the department of standards and practices is going slightly mad trying to come up with some guidelines for "'Laugh-In's" quick sight-gags and one-liners, which pour out of the tube so fast that many people (including the standards and practices man) don't get the point until it's too late.

At rehearsals NBC has a censor all the time (his name is Sandy Cummings) who ostensibly rides herd on the writers plus Rowan and Martin. He kills some lines; others are killed upstairs where Sandy's bosses work.

Going through a "'Laugh-In" script is a prodigious task because it runs more than 200 pages compared to 130 pages for an average hour-long variety show. There may be as many as 300 different pieces of business in one "'Laugh-In script.

OCCASIONALLY, either Rowan or Martin or both will object to a line the writers have come up with.

"Writers tend to beat things to death," says Dan Rowan. "I'm up tight now on De Gaulle jokes for example. Terry Thomas is on a show as Moses, the first protester, and he explains he's having trouble with the Pharaoh, who thinks he's a direct descendant of God. Then his friend says, 'We're having the same trouble in America,' but our censor thought we shouldn't refer to Johnson, so it was changed to France."

Dick Martin says he's thinking of getting out of both political parties, since both have accused him of prejudice for the other one.

ACTUALLY, some of the dialog and clowning in "Laugh-In" is as bawdy as heard on the old burlesque stage, and the double-entendre is as transparent as a stripper's veil. Whether or not this augurs a new morality for TV, no one in a high position wants to say.

"We told NBC at the beginning what we intended doing with 'Laugh-In,' so they can't say they weren't warned," says Dan Rowan. "We've got the kind of show that makes the viewer work — he's got to participate, keep watching, or he'll miss three visual gags in three seconds."

NBC doesn't mind the viewer's working, but it doesn't want him offended — at least not in too great a number. Rowan and Martin kept poking fun at the city of Burbank until Tom Sarnoff, who's in charge of NBC's West Coast operation, told the boys to lay off.

"We have to live in Burbank, you know," he said.

BUT ROWAN and Martin didn't give up. They've invited the mayor of Burbank on the show and in one bit they ask him point-blank how he feels about their kidding his fair city, and he laughs and says he loves it.

Each "Laugh-In" is put together like a jigsaw puzzle. A guest may come to the studio to tape 10 or 15 minutes of one-line jokes or pantomime expressions, and then an editor will cut it up and use different pieces of it on seven or eight shows.

As a result of this mishmash of taping, Rowan and Martin found the studio audience got bored and restless, so after the third show they dispensed with the studio audience.

THIS MEANS the laughs you hear are from a track, which is nothing new because most variety shows use tracks to augment the studio audience reaction anyway.

How much longer "Laugh-In" can go its merry free-wheeling way is going to depend a great deal on the public reaction NBC receives, and which side Rowan and Martin find their jokes are hitting the hardest — the "you-bums-are-tasteless" or the "you're - wonderful - keep-it-up" group.

Tears Of Joy

Pilot Who Was Prisoner Receives Wild Greeting

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Two children and their mother dashed to a landing plane at Wright - Patterson Air Force Base. Their tears of happiness warmed the chilly air.

An Air Force pilot was greeted wildly as he stepped from the plane onto the runway.

Ruth Overly and her children, Mike, 10, and Debbie, 12, hugged and kissed the pilot—Lt. Col Norris M. Overly, who returned Sunday to his homeland after being held prisoner by North Vietnam four or five months.

"I think it's wonderful," said Mike.

Mrs. Overly, a native of Portsmouth, Ohio, told some two dozen newsmen who were waiting with her when the plane touched down about 2:30 a.m., that she didn't know her husband was a prisoner until two weeks ago.

She said she had been told he had bailed out of his plane, "but that's all we knew."

"I prayed a lot for his safety," she said.

"I had unswerving hope because I had deep faith in God and a lot of faith in my husband's ability," she added.

Overly, 38, whose home is Oscoda, Mich., was brought to Wright-Patterson for a medical examination and debriefing. He will be here for a few days, an Air Force spokesman said. Newsmen were not permitted to question him Sunday.

Overly appeared pale and tired as he stepped off the plane. But there was no secret of his joy in seeing his family again. He had called his wife Friday from Thailand.

On the same plane with Overly was another of the freed pilots, Capt. John D. Black, who got off the C131 Convair to meet the Overlys. Black then was taken to a hospital at Kelly AFB, Tex.

Overly is expecting visits this week from other members of his family. They include his mother, of Metairie, La.; two brothers, Fenton of Rocky River, Ohio, and Robert of Metairie, La., and two sisters, Mrs. Robert Like of Troy, Mich., and Mrs. William E. Lindsey of Wellington, Ohio.

Overly met his wife while he was stationed at Lockbourne AFB near Columbus, Ohio. He grew up in Detroit.

Memorial Services Set For Viet Victim

CLEVELAND (AP) — A memorial service is scheduled for 3 p.m. Tuesday at the Friends Meeting House on Magnolia Drive for Stephen Miller, whose body was found in a shallow grave outside Hue, Vietnam.

Miller, the son of Paul Miller, chairman of the history department at Hiram College, had been reported missing Feb. 7. He was a State Department foreign service officer but had been on loan to the U.S. Information Agency in South Vietnam since last July.

Finding of the body in a Vietnam cemetery was reported to the elder Miller Sunday. Circumstances of the death were not known.

Fancy Shooting

GROEBMING, Austria (AP) — A hunter aimed his rifle at a deer, and caused rail traffic to be disrupted for over two hours after he pulled the trigger. Police said the bullet hit the overhead powerline of the railroad. The deer escaped unhurt.

Federal Agency Halts Recruiting

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. foreign aid agency has temporarily halted its nationwide recruiting of civilians for duty in Vietnam pending a review of job needs there.

As a result, plans for enlistment campaigns in 37 cities across the country from February though June have been put on the shelf until the Agency for International Development completes its reassessment.

The Communist assault on cities throughout South Vietnam, also took a toll in the pacification programs in the countryside and this is one of the factors in AID's study. Some officials in Washington believe there also will be a need for more AID attention to urban centers.

However the review was under way before the Reds unleashed their onslaughts at the end of January. William S. Gaud, AID chief, had decided before then that he wanted to slice about 10 per cent off the agency's plans for a Vietnam force of some 2,500 by mid-1968.

Some 2,000 Americans are on AID rolls in Vietnam now, so Gaud in effect was proposing a more limited increase there than previously scheduled.

President Johnson's January directive for a 10 per cent trimming of U.S. overseas staffs globally did not apply to Vietnam. But AID is applying the 10 per cent cut to the 3,000 Americans it employs in other overseas areas and some may be sent to Vietnam.

The head of the U.S. aid mission in Saigon, Donald G. MacDonald, had been slated to return to Washington by this time to meet with Gaud on this matter but his trip was delayed by the Viet Cong attacks.

There is little doubt here that AID will resume its stateside recruiting in due course. Since the regular U.S. civilian tour in Vietnam is only 18 months, it needs replacements if only to keep up its current force there.

AID recruiters said they do not expect a fall-off in volunteers because of the Communist attacks. So far seven AID workers are known to have been killed in the recent Red assaults.

The recruiters reported that at Phoenix, where the enlistment campaign was just winding up when news of the Communist attacks broke, only five of some 300 volunteers asked to be taken off the list.

3 Children Saved

Four In Family Perish When Fire Sweeps Home

FEASTERVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Thomas Bulling was returning from work when he saw smoke belching from a neighbor's home. Outside he found three children sitting on a blanket and crying for their parents and two sisters.

Later, the charred bodies of Clarence J. Booth, 39; his wife, Miriam, 38; and daughters, Cheryl, 11 and Donna, 9, were found by firemen.

"I had never seen anything like it, at least not close up," said Richard James, who helped Buling and another neighbor, Kirke Dietrich, in an abortive attempt to save the four victims Sunday.

Booth himself saved one of his children in the fire at the home in nearby Holland, then sacrificed himself in a futile attempt to save his wife and two children, firemen said.

Firemen said the father shoved his son, Walter, 5, into the arms of an unidentified neighbor, then apparently was trapped when he went back into the house, apparently to rescue the others.

Two other children, Bonnie, 16 and Eugene, 12, escaped by leaping from a second-floor window of the split-level home. Both were treated at a hospital for ankle injuries.

Bulling said that when he first saw the smoke he ran to the scene, where he was met by Dietrich and James, who had been awakened by his wife.

Bulling and James went to the rear of the home, where they saw the three children. The two men smashed in a rear door to the recreation room, but were driven back by thick smoke.

Bulling and James brought a ladder from the Booth garage. Raising to a window, Bulling climbed up and yelled for Booth and the rest of the family. He got no answer.

Firemen brought the blaze under control and found the charred bodies of the four victims on the floor of the attached garage. They had apparently fallen when the floor of a room above colapsed, firemen said.

Strike Action Approved By Pittsburgh Teachers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A teachers group, saying it has exhausted every other avenue, plans to strike Pittsburgh's public school system Feb. 29.

Authorization for the walkout that could cripple the city's schools came Sunday in a resounding voice vote by 1,000 teachers at a meeting.

Those attending listened in silence to pleas from teachers to hold back on the strike action, but roared their approval when a woman teacher, who said she was a federation member since 1937, said:

"Too long we've asked the Board of Education for favors on bended knee. Now we must stand up straight." She was given a standing ovation.

The federation has been battling with the Pennsylvania State Education Association to represent the city's 3,000 teachers as bargaining agent.

It has asked the school board to hold a bargaining election, but the board has nixed the proposal, reportedly because it believes the federation's demands would be too high.

"We will do everything we can to avoid a strike," said Fondy. "We hope the school board will do the same."

There have been indications that Dr. Sidney Marland, superintendent of city schools, will answer the federation's demand at a meeting Tuesday. Fondy said he plans to attend.

Fondy said the federation would scrap its strike plans if the board agreed to hold an election.

At the meeting, Fondy said the point has been raised of the legality of a strike by public employes in Pennsylvania.

"But the question of whether or not it is illegal to hold collective bargaining sessions has only been ruled on in an opinion by the state attorney general, and it is only his opinion," he said.

"Collective bargaining in Pennsylvania is already a reality," Fondy said.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Dr. Boris Bytchenko, a Russian member of the U.N. World Health Organization's Bacteriology Unit, did a worldwide study which showed that tetanus kills some 50,000 people a year, more deaths than those from smallpox, rabies, plague, anthrax and polio. Ironically, lockjaw is easy to prevent by vaccination, but once it sets in it usually is fatal.

Agreement Reached In GM Plant Dispute

CLEVELAND (AP)—General Motors Corp. called workers back to their jobs today at the big Chevrolet plant in suburban Parma, which was struck Friday in a dispute over local contract issues.

Negotiators for GM and United Auto Worker Local 1005 reached agreement late Sunday night on a new contract, ending the strike by 6,540 workers.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Is It Laugh-In Or Laugh-Out?

There seems to be no middle road with viewers who've been watching Dan Rowan and Dick Martin's new "Laugh-In" show which replaced "Man From U. N. C. L. E." on NBC a few weeks ago. Viewers either write in protesting the show as a "bunch of tasteless garbage" or saying it's "the brightest thing on TV in years."

Hal Humphrey

Other comics on other networks like the Smothers Brothers on CBS are hailing the "Laugh-In" as a boon to all comedy because of its new liberalism.

BUT AT NBC itself the department of standards and practices is going slightly mad trying to come up with some guidelines for "'Laugh-In's" quick sight-gags and one-liners, which pour out of the tube so fast that many people (including the standards and practices man) don't get the point until it's too late.

At rehearsals NBC has a censor all the time (his name is Sandy Cummings) who ostensibly rides herd on the writers plus Rowan and Martin. He kills some lines; others are killed upstairs where Sandy's bosses work.

Going through a "'Laugh-In" script is a prodigious task because it runs more than 200 pages compared to 130 pages for an average hour-long variety show. There may be as many as 300 different pieces of business in one "'Laugh-In script.

OCCASIONALLY, either Rowan or Martin or both will object to a line the writers have come up with.

"Writers tend to beat things to death," says Dan Rowan. "I'm up tight now on De Gaulle jokes for example. Terry Thomas is on a show as Moses, the first protester, and he explains he's having trouble with the Pharaoh, who thinks he's a direct descendant of God. Then his friend says, 'We're having the same trouble in America,' but our censor thought we shouldn't refer to Johnson, so it was changed to France."

Dick Martin says he's thinking of getting out of both political parties, since both have accused him of prejudice for the other one.

ACTUALLY, some of the dialog and clowning in "Laugh-In" is as bawdy as heard on the old burlesque stage, and the double-entendre is as transparent as a stripper's veil. Whether or not this augurs a new morality for TV, no one in a high position wants to say.

"We told NBC at the beginning what we intended doing with 'Laugh-In,' so they can't say they weren't warned," says Dan Rowan. "We've got the kind of show that makes the viewer work — he's got to participate, keep watching, or he'll miss three visual gags in three seconds."

NBC doesn't mind the viewer's working, but it doesn't want him offended — at least not in too great a number. Rowan and Martin kept poking fun at the city of Burbank until Tom Sarnoff, who's in charge of NBC's West Coast operation, told the boys to lay off.

"We have to live in Burbank, you know," he said.

BUT ROWAN and Martin didn't give up. They've invited the mayor of Burbank on the show and in one bit they ask him point-blank how he feels about their kidding his fair city, and he laughs and says he loves it.

This is scheduled to run on their March 4 show, and they expect no more memos from Tom Sarnoff.

Each "Laugh-In" is put together like a jigsaw puzzle. A guest may come to the studio to tape 10 or 15 minutes of one-line jokes or pantomime expressions, and then an editor will cut it up and use different pieces of it on seven or eight shows.

As a result of this mishmash of taping, Rowan and Martin found the studio audience got bored and restless, so after the third show they dispensed with the studio audience.

THIS MEANS the laughs you hear are from a track, which is nothing new because most variety shows use tracks to augment the studio audience reaction anyway.

How much longer "Laugh-In" can go its merry free-wheeling way is going to depend a great deal on the public reaction NBC receives, and which side Rowan and Martin find their jokes are hitting the hardest — the "you-bums-are-tasteless" or the "you're - wonderful - keep-it-up" group.

Tears Of Joy

Pilot Who Was Prisoner Receives Wild Greeting

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Two children and their mother dashed to a landing plane at Wright - Patterson Air Force Base. Their tears of happiness warmed the chilly air.

An Air Force pilot was greeted wildly as he stepped from the plane onto the runway.

Ruth Overly and her children, Mike, 10, and Debbie, 12, hugged and kissed the pilot—Lt. Col Norris M. Overly, who returned Sunday to his homeland after being held prisoner by North Vietnam four or five months.

Overly was one of three American pilots released Friday by the North Vietnamese. They had been shot down sometime last fall and held prisoner.

Sunday was Mike's 10th birthday, but the youngster didn't need any presents. Just having his father home was enough.

"I think it's wonderful," said Mike.

Mrs. Overly, a native of Portsmouth, Ohio, told some two dozen newsmen who were waiting with her when the plane touched down about 2:30 a.m., that she didn't know her husband was a prisoner until two weeks ago.

She said she had been told he had bailed out of his plane, "but that's all we knew."

"I prayed a lot for his safety," she said.

"I had unswerving hope because I had deep faith in God and a lot of faith in my husband's ability," she added.

Overly, 38, whose home is Oscoda, Mich., was brought to Wright-Patterson for a medical examination and debriefing. He will be here for a few days, an Air Force spokesman said. Newsmen were not permitted to question him Sunday.

Overly appeared pale and tired as he stepped off the plane. But there was no secret of his joy in seeing his family again. He had called his wife Friday from Thailand.

On the same plane with Overly was another of the freed pilots, Capt. John D. Black, who got off the C131 Convair to meet the Overlys. Black then was taken to a hospital at Kelly AFB, Tex.

"You have the greatest father in the world," Black told a grinning Mike Overly.

Overly is expecting visits this week from other members of his family. They include his mother, of Metairie, La.; two brothers, Fenton of Rocky River, Ohio, and Robert of Metairie, La., and two sisters, Mrs. Robert Like of Troy, Mich., and Mrs. William E. Lindsey of Wellington, Ohio.

Overly met his wife while he was stationed at Lockbourne AFB near Columbus, Ohio. He grew up in Detroit.

Memorial Services Set For Viet Victim

CLEVELAND (AP) — A memorial service is scheduled for 3 p.m. Tuesday at the Friends Meeting House on Magnolia Drive for Stephen Miller, whose body was found in a shallow grave outside Hue, Vietnam.

Miller, the son of Paul Miller, chairman of the history department at Hiram College, had been reported missing Feb. 7. He was a State Department foreign service officer but had been on loan to the U.S. Information Agency in South Vietnam since last July.

Finding of the body in a Vietnam cemetery was reported to the elder Miller Sunday. Circumstances of the death were not known.

Fancy Shooting

GROEBMING, Austria (AP) — A hunter aimed his rifle at a deer, and caused rail traffic to be disrupted for over two hours after he pulled the trigger. Police said the bullet hit the overhead powerline of the railroad. The deer escaped unhurt.

Federal Agency Halts Recruiting

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. foreign aid agency has temporarily halted its nationwide recruiting of civilians for duty in Vietnam pending a review of job needs there.

As a result, plans for enlistment campaigns in 37 cities across the country from February though June have been put on the shelf until the Agency for International Development completes its reassessment.

AID normally carries on extensive recruiting drives for qualified U.S. specialists in police training, agriculture, nursing, and a variety of other nonmilitary tasks in the pacification or nation-building effort in South Vietnam.

The Communist assault on cities throughout South Vietnam, also took a toll in the pacification programs in the countryside and this is one of the factors in AID's study. Some officials in Washington believe there also will be a need for more AID attention to urban centers.

However the review was under way before the Reds unleashed their onslaughts at the end of January. William S. Gaud, AID chief, had decided before then that he wanted to slice about 10 per cent off the agency's plans for a Vietnam force of some 2,500 by mid-1968.

Some 2,000 Americans are on AID rolls in Vietnam now, so Gaud in effect was proposing a more limited increase there than previously scheduled.

President Johnson's January directive for a 10 per cent trimming of U.S. overseas staffs globally did not apply to Vietnam. But AID is applying the 10 per cent cut to the 3,000 Americans it employs in other overseas areas and some may be sent to Vietnam.

The head of the U.S. aid mission in Saigon, Donald G. MacDonald, had been slated to return to Washington by this time to meet with Gaud on this matter but his trip was delayed by the Viet Cong attacks.

There is little doubt here that AID will resume its stateside recruiting in due course. Since the regular U.S. civilian tour in Vietnam is only 18 months, it needs replacements if only to keep up its current force there.

AID recruiters said they do not expect a fall-off in volunteers because of the Communist attacks. So far seven AID workers are known to have been killed in the recent Red assaults.

The recruiters reported that at Phoenix, where the enlistment campaign was just winding up when news of the Communist attacks broke, only five of some 300 volunteers asked to be taken off the list.

3 Children Saved

Four In Family Perish When Fire Sweeps Home

FEASTERVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Thomas Bulling was returning from work when he saw smoke belching from a neighbor's home. Outside he found three children sitting on a blanket and crying for their parents and two sisters.

They were trapped in the fire.

Later, the charred bodies of Clarence J. Booth, 39; his wife, Miriam, 38; and daughters, Cheryl, 11 and Donna, 9, were found by firemen.

"I had never seen anything like it, at least not close up," said Richard James, who helped Buling and another neighbor, Kirke Dietrich, in an abortive attempt to save the four victims Sunday.

Booth himself saved one of his children in the fire at the home in nearby Holland, then sacrificed himself in a futile attempt to save his wife and two children, firemen said.

Firemen said the father shoved his son, Walter, 5, into the arms of an unidentified neighbor, then apparently was trapped when he went back into the house, apparently to rescue the others.

Two other children, Bonnie, 16 and Eugene, 12, escaped by leaping from a second-floor window of the split-level home. Both were treated at a hospital for ankle injuries.

Bulling said that when he first saw the smoke he ran to the scene, where he was met by Dietrich and James, who had been awakened by his wife.

Bulling and James went to the rear of the home, where they saw the three children. The two men smashed in a rear door to the recreation room, but were driven back by thick smoke.

Bulling and James brought a ladder from the Booth garage. Raising to a window, Bulling climbed up and yelled for Booth and the rest of the family. He got no answer.

Firemen brought the blaze under control and found the charred bodies of the four victims on the floor of the attached garage. They had apparently fallen when the floor of a room above colapsed, firemen said.

Strike Action Approved By Pittsburgh Teachers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A teachers group, saying it has exhausted every other avenue, plans to strike Pittsburgh's public school system Feb. 29.

Authorization for the walkout that could cripple the city's schools came Sunday in a resounding voice vote by 1,000 teachers at a meeting.

Those attending listened in silence to pleas from teachers to hold back on the strike action, but roared their approval when a woman teacher, who said she was a federation member since 1937, said:

"Too long we've asked the Board of Education for favors on bended knee. Now we must stand up straight." She was given a standing ovation.

The federation has been battling with the Pennsylvania State Education Association to represent the city's 3,000 teachers as bargaining agent.

It has asked the school board to hold a bargaining election, but the board has nixed the proposal, reportedly because it believes the federation's demands would be too high.

"We will do everything we can to avoid a strike," said Fondy. "We hope the school board will do the same."

There have been indications that Dr. Sidney Marland, superintendent of city schools, will answer the federation's demand at a meeting Tuesday. Fondy said he plans to attend.

Fondy said the federation would scrap its strike plans if the board agreed to hold an election.

At the meeting, Fondy said the point has been raised of the legality of a strike by public employes in Pennsylvania.

"But the question of whether or not it is illegal to hold collective bargaining sessions has only been ruled on in an opinion by the state attorney general, and it is only his opinion," he said.

"Collective bargaining in Pennsylvania is already a reality," Fondy said.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Dr. Boris Bytchenko, a Russian member of the U.N. World Health Organization's Bacteriology Unit, did a worldwide study which showed that tetanus kills some 50,000 people a year, more deaths than those from smallpox, rabies, plague, anthrax and polio. Ironically, lockjaw is easy to prevent by vaccination, but once it sets in it usually is fatal.

Agreement Reached In GM Plant Dispute

CLEVELAND (AP)—General Motors Corp. called workers back to their jobs today at the big Chevrolet plant in suburban Parma, which was struck Friday in a dispute over local contract issues.

Negotiators for GM and United Auto Worker Local 1005 reached agreement late Sunday night on a new contract, ending the strike by 6,540 workers.

8 MALE HELP WANTED

PLANT MANAGER and METHODS ENGINEER
We are management consultants and on behalf of our client, are searching for a Plant Manager for their Dinnerware Division. The successful candidate will be well versed in modern business methods, profit-conscious — but thoroughly quality conscious — a good communicator and a successful motivator.

Ideally, the candidate will have experience in dinnerware or in white ware in the ceramic industry, or in chemicals or glassware. The overriding consideration, however, is excellent management experience.

Our client is also seeking a Pottery Methods Engineer who should have an IE or ME degree. He will be concerned with plant layout and will advise and implement new manufacturing methods. He will also recommend equipment selection.

The facilities are large and modern and located in an area with exceptionally fine living conditions.

PLANT MANAGER and METHODS ENGINEER
We are management consultants and on behalf of our client, are searching for a Plant Manager for their Dinnerware Division. The successful candidate will be well versed in modern business methods, profit-conscious — but thoroughly quality conscious — a good communicator and a successful motivator.

Ideally, the candidate will have experience in dinnerware or in white ware in the ceramic industry, or in chemicals or glassware. The overriding consideration, however, is excellent management experience.

Our client is also seeking a Pottery Methods Engineer who should have an IE or ME degree. He will be concerned with plant layout and will advise and implement new manufacturing methods. He will also recommend equipment selection.

The facilities are large and modern and located in an area with exceptionally fine living conditions.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

On this date in 1473, the man credited with founding modern astronomy, Copernicus, was born in Torun, Poland.

On this date:

In 1803, Ohio was admitted to the Union.

In 1915, the British and French bombarded the Dardanelles during World War I.

In 1945, the U.S. war mobilization director in World War II, James Byrnes, ordered a midnight curfew at all night clubs and other places of entertainment.

Junior Editors Quiz on MOON

ANSWER: Don't think big John is being mean when he calls his little brother a chimpanzee. He's only kidding—but his answers to Harry's questions are correct. Astronomers tell us the moon is a ball of rock of the kind called basalt, which, with granite, forms a large proportion of the earth's crust. The moon is thought to be composed of this rock all the way through—rock which is thought to be stone cold. By contrast, the center of the earth is thought to be of very hot liquid metal, with other very heavy materials, also very hot, lying outside. It is only the outer layer which is cool. A very long time ago, the moon is supposed to have been hot, too. By now, its heat is thought to have radiated away. Basalt is a dark rock, which is why the actual color of the moon is thought to be brown. Big John will explain to his brother that it is the fiery rays of the sun, glancing off the moon's bare surface, which makes the full moon look so brilliant. This effect is even greated because the moon has no atmosphere to dull the reflected sun rays. Our own atmosphere, however, tends to give moonlight its beautiful silvery sheen.
